FOOTBALL SEASON OPENED

Varsity Wins From Scrubs by the Score 4-0.

The first football line-up for the season occurred Saturday when the Varsity won from the Scrubs by the score 4-0. The game was merely a try-out of the new material, and the team that will represent Bucknell on the gridiron this fall can by no means be picked as yet. Owing to the heat and the light practice which the men have been put through thus far the game was somewhat slow, though it was evenly contested.

The Varsity received the first kick-off, but was unable to do much with the Scrubs' line. By superior punting and better team work the Scrubs kept the ball in their opponent's territory during all of the first half. When time was called the oval was dangerously near the Varsity's goal, due to Clark's long punt. Score 0-0.

In the second half the second team played about as well on defensive work and it was only after fifteen minutes of hard line plunging that the Varsity worked the ball to the 30-yard line where Lenhart scored by a pretty drop-kick. The line up:

Varsity.	Positions.	Scrubs.
O'Brien	center	W. Hawk
Shade	right guard	Sayre
Lenhart	right tackle	Baldwin
Harris	right end	Hinnman
D. Hawk	quarter-back	Mathias
Wingardner	left half-back	Clark
Tolbert	fullback	Wagner

Prof. Wolfe, referee. Profs. Thomas and Cooper, umpires. Hoskins, head linesman. Times of halves, 25 minutes.

The Football Outlook.

The outlook for a winning football team this year is bright. Of last year's team the only missing ones are Cooper, Frank and Olendorf. Cooper was graduated, while Frank and Olendorf will not return to college this year. The in-coming class has brought some good, fast material as was evidenced in Saturday's game. Of these Clark did good work in punting and hitting the line and Croop made a couple of nice gains. Houston at left end and Edmunds at left guard also did good work. Wagner, who was prevented from playing last year by an injury received before the season opened put up a fine exhibition in defense work in Saturday's game. In addition to these men Shade, Lenhart, Baldwin, O'Brien, Wingardner, McNinch and Tolbert of last year's regulars are back and can be counted on to put up their usual fast games. Hawk, '08, is doing good work at quarter and may make the position owing to his experience. Of last year's Reserves trying for positions there are Harris, Shively, Baldwin, '08, Sayre, Piersol, Mathias, Hall, Hawk, '07. Practice has been somewhat light as yet due to the heat but during the coming week Coach Hoskins will demand more work of the men so that the team will be in fairly good shape to meet Mansfield Normal next Saturday.

Class Scrap Comes Off.

The annual scrap between the Freshmen and Sophomores took place Friday morning on schedule time. While it lasted it waxed fast and furious, and furnished excitement for the partisans and fun for the spectators. One accident marred the sport.

Shortly after the dismissal of chapel the Freshmen assembled outside where they were duded with red ink that they might recognize each other in the fray. When all was ready they walked up the college path until the Sophs. started down, when they broke into a run. With a third the two rushing masses of humanity came together.

In a few minutes the scene of conflict was transferred to the top of the hill. After a time the fight was called off with many of the contestants still scrappy. The result appeared to be a draw. Shortly after the beginning, the Freshman President, Way, was captured by Sophs. and carried off.

Deats, '09, had the end of his collar bone broken in the skirmish. While the accident was a painful one it was by no means serious.

Jeanette Wolfe Dead.

Considerable sorrow was caused among the students and alumni by the death of Jeanette K. Wolfe, on Wednesday evening, August 22. Miss Wolfe developed an affection of the lungs over a year ago, which later gave rise to consumption from which she died. For some months it was seen that death was creeping slowly but surely upon the young lady, so her decease did not come as an entire surprise to her many friends. The funeral took place from the home of her parents opposite the Seminary on Saturday, August 25, with Dr. J. T. Judd in charge. Interment was made in the Lewisburg cemetery.

Miss Wolfe, who was the eldest daughter of C. J. Wolfe, 77, the druggist, was 18 years of age. A year ago last June she graduated from the Seminary. The young lady was of sweet disposition and was a favorite among her school-mates. She was a member of Pi Phi and C. E. A. fraternities, both of which were represented at the funeral.

Change in Academy Instructors.

Several changes have been made in the teaching force at the Academy. Professors Maneval and Robey, who have been teaching there for some little time have left the school to pursue studies of their own elsewhere. Professors Maneval and Robey, who medicine; Robey will enter the Law School of the Univ. of Pennsylvania. Two new men, graduates of the '06 class, college, have been added to the staff. Henry Myer has taken charge of the History. The English department is in the hands of Joseph Challis.

Student Goes to New Mexico.

Charlemagne Wolfe, '08, left Lewisburg on Wednesday, Sept. 12, for Silver City, New Mexico, where he will remain an indefinite period. He had been troubled with a slight affection of the throat, and it was considered that the rarified air of that country would greatly hasten an early recovery. "Chic" made the trip himself, expecting to arrive at his destination on Sunday.

MANY SUMMER MARRIAGES

Old Grads and Students Take Unto Themselves Partners.

Dan Coud created havoc aplenty among Bucknell people during the summer months just passed. Instructors, alumni and students alike fell victims to his winged shafts of love. Several sweet Bucknell girls had their names changed and one was married without changing her name. Preachers, school teachers and others are included in the list.

The most surprising case of all perhaps was the marriage of Mr. Carl Millward, '06. When Millward stepped on the Commencement platform last June little did his school mates surmise that he had been wedded four weeks. But such was the fact just the same, for on May 25th Millward purchased two tickets for Watkins Glen, N. Y., one of which was for his sweetheart, Miss Mary V. Kreisher, a Bucknell music student, who lived with her parents just north of town. But since that momentous trip to York State, Mrs. Mary Kreisher Millward resides with her husband Carl at Mount Pleasant where he is engaged in business.

In like manner the God of Love winged his darts last year at the heart of a Junior girl, Miss Margaret E. Myers, who unlike her school mate, Millward, lived her time till the summer months—Aug. 6, to be exact, when she was united in marriage to Prof. L. J. Umer, '02, head of the Science Dept., in the Williamsport High School. The ceremony was performed in Williamsport by Dean T. A. Edwards. Following the wedding the couple left for an all-summer honeymoon. They are at present nicely nestled in their home on Mulberry Street opposite Brandon Park.

For a second time Dean Edwards figures in the proceedings as tier of the gordian when on Sept. 5th, he married Rev. Mansfield Forbell, '02, a Rochester Theological student, and Miss Jennie Palmer, one of Northumberland's most promising young ladies. The lady taught for a number of years in the Northumberland schools. The couple will reside at Rochester where the groom will complete his Theological course. For the next account we are indebted to that inimitable and widely quoted joker, the "Yonker Statesman," which tells with sober countenance how Counselor Warren L. Kauffman, '92, a Yonkers Sunday school teacher, was wedded on Saturday, June 23, at the home of the bride to Miss Harrietta A. Hynes, of Camden, N. Y., another Yonkers Sunday school teacher. Mrs. Kauffman was previous to marriage, a teacher of history in the Yonkers High School, while her husband also taught in the same school for a time. Thus Miss Hynes met her fate. Mr. Kauffman is now a legal practitioner.

It was during the summer months too that the Misses Sarah E. Nesbit and Clara F. Russell underwent the pleasant process of changing their names. Both ladies were residents of Lewisburg, both were graduates of the Seminary and both were married by Dr. Thomas, of the Presbyterian church. Miss Nesbit was wedded on June 12th at the Presbyterian church in the presence of many guests.

Jolly Time at Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held its annual reception Saturday evening in the Association room in West College. A large number of students were on hand, including the majority of the Freshmen. All present spent a very enjoyable evening.

After an extended period of hand-shaking and conversation the orators of the evening were introduced. Registrar W. C. Gretzinger gave a spirited talk on Athletics. Mr. Gretzinger's speech was the feature of the evening. The orator thrilled his auditors with college spirit and love for their Alma Mater.

The other speakers were also well received. Prof. Lindemann gave the boys, new and old, many kindly and helpful suggestions. The next speaker, Prof. Phillips, dealt with the "College Man and his Bible." The professor urged the boys to greater activity in lines of Christian work and study. Mr. Shoemaker, '07, concluded this feature of the program with two recitations. After refreshments the boys sang a few songs and dispersed.

School Running Once More.

After three months of idleness Bucknell opened its doors again last Thursday morning for another year of work. With comparatively few exceptions the students were back in good time. As usual many scores of new faces are evident on all sides, the enrollment this year being greater than ever.

A number of minor changes were made in the staff of instructors. Beside those changes mentioned elsewhere there were several in the School of Music. The Misses Gearhart, Isaacs and Jacobs are new teachers in this department.

Small improvements were made to the property during the summer. The wooden steps before West College and the eastern end of the Main Building were replaced by concrete structures. The class rooms, president's office, registrar's office, and hallways were newly painted and renovated. Improved locks were fitted on many of the doors. Several other changes were made.

The College Bible Class.

The College Bible class held its first session of the school year on Sunday, the 23rd inst., with a large attendance. More than two hundred were present. The class is in charge of President Harris.

The lesson of the day was on Genesis as a new book in the light of recent discoveries in the Orient, an inspired book with a Divine and human element. The lesson next Sunday will be Genesis according to Higher Criticism.

At the Way of Life Meeting in the afternoon, a solo was rendered by Miss Isaacs. The theme of the discourse by President Harris was "Respecting One's Self." On Sunday, the 30th inst., the subject will be "Faithfulness in Financial Relations."

Freshman Class Meeting.

At a meeting held in Bucknell Hall Saturday afternoon the 1910 class elected the following officers: Way, president; Edmunds, vice-president; Miss Ray, secretary; Case, treasurer. Committees were appointed to arrange for class colors, flower, motto, and yell.

NEW FOOTBALL RULES

Summary of the Principal Changes For This Fall.

For the benefit of students and players we present an outline of the principal changes in the football rules this fall. Spalding's Football Guide was published in August and in that the rules are printed complete. Below are ten important changes:

1. The officials of the game shall be a referee, two umpires and a linesman.
2. The length of the game shall be shortened ten minutes, making such half thirty minutes in length.
3. There are to be two lines of scrimmage, one for each team, and the two teams are thus separated the length of the ball.
4. All players on the line must be within one foot of the line of scrimmage. Three center men alone will be allowed to lock legs.
5. A player must clearly signal for a fair catch.
6. Tripping is clearly defined and forbidden.
7. Hurdling is defined and forbidden.
8. Each captain may ask for time three times in each half. Thereafter the side shall lose two yards unless the player be removed.
9. No interference to the snapper-back will be allowed.
10. There must be six men on the line of scrimmage.
11. If either of the five center men drop back, he must go back five yards, and another man must take his place. This dropping back is allowed to enable the man to use a kicker if he plays in the line.
12. Holding is clearly defined.
13. One forward pass shall be allowed to each scrimmage, provided such pass be made by a player who was behind the line of scrimmage when the ball was put in play, and provided the ball, after being passed forward, does not touch the ground before being touched by a player of either side.
14. The necessary distance to be gained in three downs has been doubled, the side in possession of the ball must gain ten yards in three downs.
15. As the ball is kicked by a player or other than the snapper-back, any player on that side shall be on side when the ball touches the ground. The ball cannot be kicked farther from its position on the ground.

Funeral of Bryant Bower.

Mr. Bryant Bower, ex-'00, passed away on Thursday, June 28, of the dread consumption. For more than four years Mr. Bower had been slowly pining away as the fatal disease made greater and greater ravages. During this period he spent a time at the White Haven Sanitarium, but without avail.

Deceased was a musician of note, having played in various bands hereabout. Upon the outbreak of the Spanish-American war he enlisted in Co. A, 12th Regt., and served till they were mustered out. For years he worked in the railroad shops at Sunbury. He was a son of F. E. Bower, Esq., and was 28 years old. The funeral was held from his father's home on South Sixth street, Saturday, June 30. Dean T. A. Edwards and Dr. J. T. Judd conducted the services.

Editorial

With the opening of a new school year comes a new class, one of the largest in the history of Bucknell University. To the members of this class, and other students, new and old, the Orange and Blue extends a cordial welcome. To the new students especially, we wish to direct a few words, since a few words of helpfulness spoken at the proper moment often makes or mar the future.

To the new students, we say, get right with yourself. There are problems to be decided. There are opportunities to be met. There are temptations to be overcome. At this the beginning of a college course the student must decide, for the decision here made, comits for the entire college course and for life.

Next after self comes your companions. Friendships are made here that exist long after the student leaves the University, frequently throughout life. Is it not important then that you carefully select your companions? Besides your "special companions" there is the other fellow. To him be civil and courteous as is befitting a gentleman. In other words, "don't be a grovch."

However in getting right with yourself and your companions, don't forget that the primary object of your college course is an education. This does not mean that books shall be neglected for companions or companions for books, but a generous blending of the two will make a "college man" who will be an honor to himself, his class and his college.

The new student will be called upon to furnish money for many college enterprises. The causes for which these appeals are made are all worthy. However, there is no investment about the college which will yield such a large return as a subscription to the Orange and Blue. This paper is the organ of the student body. In it the life of the school is faithfully portrayed and the topics of vital interest to the students are discussed in as unbiased a manner as possible. To the average student the Orange and Blue will be most interesting. To the parents and friends of students the paper will also be attractive, and we suggest that, if possible, students should have a copy sent to their homes.

As is customary, the first two numbers will be sent to all new students free, after which the solicitor will be around to take subscriptions.

Many Summer Marriages.

friends to Roy Brown Mullie, '08, of Union City, Pa. Miss Russell became the bride of Ralph Koser, of Reading, on Tuesday, August 21, at her home on South Third street.

Another Bucknell girl, Miss Daisy Parsons, ex-'06, took upon herself the burden of matrimony, however, without changing her name. She was wedded on June 20th at her home, Canton, Pa., to Mr. Parsons, of Rhine, New York.

A place in this category was also earned by two instructors. Prof. W. E. Macneal, '02, until this year a teacher in the Academy, married at West Bay City, Mich. Miss Edith Roeder was the lucky lass. Mr. Macneal will study medicine at Johns Hopkins next year.

Another teacher, Miss Juliet Alkon, instructor of instrumental music at the Seminary, was joined in wedlock on Commencement day to Mr. White, of Reading. The marriage was solemnized in the Episcopal church at Sunbury. The pair will live at the home of the groom, who is a retired business man.

Commencement day was an epoch making date also in the history of W. H. Gatehouse, '10, for on that day he took unto himself a wife, Miss Nellie Reed, a Lewisburg girl. That day marked Gatehouse's transition from the "prep" to the Freshman stage. He concluded that two could undertake the labors of a college course better than one, so the Rev. John Reed got a job. The new couple took a wedding trip to Scranton and thereabouts.

The actors in the next scene were Miss Bess Wells, '01, and Mr. Linford J. Lardner, a machinist of Williamsport. The scene of the act was laid at the home of the bride, Moorestown, N. J. Time, July 19th. The residence of the pair is Maple Place, Williamsport.

Illustrated Bulletin Issued.

During the summer months there was issued by the University a bulletin containing pictures and illustrative descriptions of all the college buildings. The little booklet, which has elicited much favorable criticism from those who have seen it, is the work of Registrar W. C. Gretzinger. A number of these bulletins are still on hand and the college office will be pleased to send them to boys and girls anywhere who are contemplating going away to school. Turn the names into the office.

Alumnus Writes for "Outdoors."

In the August number of "Outdoors" appeared an article from the pen of Mr. Lewis E. Theiss, '02. The story "Through the Conewago Falls," describes the almost fatal journey three men took through these turbulent waters, which are located in the Susquehanna just below Harrisburg. From start to finish the narrative is dashing and exciting, and it will be read with interest by many canoeists in the school. Mr. Theiss writes a vigorous style. His last story on similar lines, it will be remembered, appeared in the June "Field and Stream."

Y. W. C. A. Reception.

The members of the Y. W. C. A. gave their annual reception to the new girls in the Institute parlors on Saturday evening. The girls enjoyed a pleasant evening and had ample opportunity to form many new acquaintances.

Alumni News

It is the intention of the present staff to maintain the alumni department regularly this year. Weekly insertions of alumni news will be made. To this end the alumni are requested to send in items of interest that they may help the board in its endeavor. Announcement has been made of the birth, on Sept. 5th, of Alice Florence Mount, daughter of Dr. M. F. Mount, ex-'91, who is located at Hot Springs, Ark.

Parson Hanna Pitt, the nine month old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Pitt, of Cuba, N. Y., died recently of an attack of colic. Both parents are known among the alumni people as Mr. Pitt is ex-'92 and Mrs. Pitt, formerly Miss Maude Hanna, was a member of the '97 class and for some time taught in the Seminary.

Fell Dead After Sermon.
"Though far from being well and strong, Dr. Owen James, pastor of the First Baptist church, will undertake to occupy his pulpit tomorrow morning and evening," was the announcement in the Johnstown papers Saturday, Sept. 9.

Dr. James, who has filled some of the most important charges in the state, undertook to carry out the program of service. Those who attended worship Sunday morning saw that their minister was far from well, but say they never heard a more fervent prayer or a more powerful sermon. A few minutes after leaving his church Dr. James was seen to rest on the sidewalk and fall. He was taken into a nearby house, but was dead before a physician could reach his side. Heart disease was the cause.

Dr. James was about sixty years of age, and has been a minister for thirty-five years. He graduated from Bucknell in '76 and later from Crozer. He was high in the councils of the church, and was usually a ministerial delegate to the large state and national gatherings of the Baptists.

Concerning Season Tickets.
The finance committee of the Athletic Association is offering season tickets this year again at the low rate of $5.00. These tickets admit the holder to all games played during the year in Lewisburg. The holder of a ticket saves quite a sum during the course of a season. It is urged upon not only the new men, but the old ones too, that they lose no time in securing season tickets and thus availing themselves of the opportunity of saving money. The success of the season ticket plan was demonstrated last year. In order to put the finances of the association on a good basis this year it will be necessary to sell 350 tickets. Purchase your ticket now.

Football Officials from Bucknell.
At a recent meeting of the Middle Atlantic football official committee of the Inter-collegiate Athletic Association of the United States, the following Bucknell men were selected and placed on the accredited list of football officials:

E. W. Colver, G. W. Cocklin, J. B. Cressinger, Christopher Matthews, H. E. McCormick, H. F. Smith, P. G. Smith, C. M. Toufel, B. F. Thomas, C. A. Weymouth, W. S. Wilson, J. M. Wolfe, C. Dale Wolfe.

A request will be made this week to have several more Bucknell men placed on the list.
Bucknell will select the officials for all her football games from the general list and has asked the committee to appoint the officials for the following games:

Cornell, Princeton, Annapolis, and West Point, specifying that the persons chosen shall be men who are not now or ever have been identified with either of the competing institutions.

SUCCESSFUL MASS-MEETING

Large and Enthusiastic Turnout on Friday Night.

The proper kind of spirit seems to be reviving at Bucknell, judging from the enthusiasm manifested by the several hundred men who met at Commencement Hall Friday night. At nine o'clock Gordon Evans and his famous band began the rounding up of recruits, and by half-past nine almost the entire student body had fallen into line, and were assembled in the Hall. Evans presided, as only Evans can, introducing the speakers and conducting the band.

Manager Puseet made a ringing speech, eulogizing Coach Hoskins and the team, and predicting a successful season. Hall, Snyder, Hughes, and Thompson spoke, asking for hearty financial support for athletics and particularly urging the necessity for a large sale of season tickets. Sincerely, O'Brien, Shadle, Wagner, Weingardner, Bill and David Hawk, Clark, Cropp, Edmunds, Baldwin, Sayre and Hayes, of the squad, also responded to calls for speeches. Capt. Criminger of the baseball team, outlined the special-making with one of his characteristic speeches that always hit the mark.

A parade was then proposed and by a rising vote decided upon. With the band in the lead a long procession was formed which made the usual rounds, ending up with a "Bucknell yell" in front of West College.

It was a great meeting and a good parade, and if it is any indication of what is to come, our team is surely to be a winning one this year.

Football Schedule.

Within the last few days the football schedule was made public. The line-up this fall is an exceedingly stiff one, and it will require the hardest kind of work on the part of the Bucknell men to make a good showing. Several new teams appear among Bucknell's opponents. Only three games are scheduled for Lewisburg, but arrangements will be made later on for two more.

The work is being done under the personal supervision of Prof. Burpee, who expects to complete the foundation walls to the first floor before winter sets in. Work will be resumed in the spring, and the building completed in ample time for occupancy next fall.

New Football Captain Elected.
Gordon Lehart, '08, was unanimously elected captain of the football team on Monday night last, at a meeting called for that purpose. Lehart succeeds Frank, who was chosen for the position last year, but who has dropped out of college this year to accept an engineering position.

The College Bible Class.

At the College Bible class on Sunday, President Harris' subject was The Higher Criticism and Genesis. Recent books on the subject are Kent's Beginning of the Hebrew History, 1904; Delver's Commentary on Genesis, 1904; Orr's Problem of the Old Testament, 1905; Briggs' Higher Criticism of the Hexateuch, 1897. The Higher Criticism pursues three lines of inquiry: first, the literary form, finding in the Hexateuch historical narratives, many ancient poems and several codes of law; second, its authenticity, finding Mosse originals with many additions and comments; and third, its credibility, showing that we have four parallel narratives, illustrating and supporting each other. Next Sunday will be considered the nature of the first chapter on Genesis.

At the Way of Life Meeting, Sunday afternoon, after a service of song, led by Paul G. Sizol, a solo by Miss Emma Gaurhart and Prayer by Professor Burpee, President Harris addressed the meeting on "Faithfulness in Fiduciary Relations," giving ten rules observed by careful business men in such relations. He closed by reading from the Code of Hammurabi, showing the principles of business four thousand years ago to have been substantially the same as now.

Next Sunday Hon. A. W. Johnson will address the Way of Life Meeting.

Bucknell Trustee Dead.

Much regret was occasioned by the death during the past summer of Hon. Wm. B. Hanna, D. C. L., one of the Board of Trustees of the University. By his death a vacancy had to be filled, was created in the board.

Judge Hanna was born in Philadelphia, Nov. 23, 1825. He graduated from the Central High School and afterwards entered the Law, studying in his father's office. He was given the honorary degree D. C. L. by Bucknell University in 1885.

He served as District Attorney of Philadelphia for many years, and also in the City Councils, and was a member of the convention which drew up the present Constitution of Pennsylvania. In 1874 he was elected one of the Judges of the Orphan's Court of Philadelphia, being unanimously re-elected for three successive terms. As a Trustee of Bucknell University, Hahnemann Medical College, and other institutions, he filled a long and useful life, and his demise is sincerely and universally regretted.

BUCKNELL'S FIRST VICTORY

Mansfield Normal Defeated in the Second Half.

Bucknell opened the football season of 1906 by defeating Mansfield Normal by the small score of 5-0. Mansfield has always done fairly well against the Orange and Blue in the early part of the season, and this year's game was no exception. Possibly the new rules and the putting of them into practice had much to do with Bucknell's small score this year. At any rate the new plays tried by the Varsity did not work the havoc against their opponents that was anticipated. A lack of team-work and slowness in getting these plays off might partially account for their ineffectiveness. On the other hand, Mansfield worked the old style of play and formations quite successfully. Only when they were in close proximity to the goal were they thrown back for losses.

Bucknell, as in former years, appeared weak in carrying the ball around the ends. Some good gains were made through visitors' line but most success came from punting. The game opened by Lehart, kicking over the goal line, Furman returning the ball 20 yards. A play around left end lost 2 yards and Mansfield punted. 1 yard was made around left end and McNinch made 5 yards around right end, Bucknell losing the ball on the next play through the line. Mansfield failed on a line plunge, but Lehart got around right end for a 20 yard run, being downed by McNinch. A play through left guard failed and Mansfield was penalized 15 yards. Closs kicked to Bucknell's 15-yard line. Clarke's kick was blocked, the ball going back of the goal line and the visitors getting the ball on the 15-yard line. Furman made 4 yards through center and Lehart the same number around right end. Mansfield losing the ball on the next play through the line, the McNinch made 10 yards through left tackle, but Mansfield got the ball on the 20-yard line on a fumble. A series of end runs and gains through the line by the visitors and a penalty of 5 yards on Bucknell placed the ball on the 4-yard line. Lehart gained 3 yards around left end, but Mansfield was unable to put the ball over. Lehart punted 25 yards. Lehart made 3 yards around left end and 8 yards more a moment later. On a quarterback kick Mansfield lost 8 yards and Lehart punted 45 yards, Bucknell getting the ball on a fumble. Two yards were lost around Mansfield's right, when time was called. Score, 0-0.

In the second half Mansfield kicked to Lehart who fumbled. The visitors were unable to gain through the line, and Bucknell got the ball on a quarterback kick. Clark punted, and Mansfield, losing 5 yards on a fumble, kicked. Clark returned the ball 30 yards and Cropp made 12 yards around left end. On a forward pass Mansfield got the ball, but being unable to gain through the line, Closs kicked and McNinch returned the ball 25 yards. Wagner got the ball on a forward pass and made 12 yards, a play through center yielded 4 yards and Weingardner then scored on a forward pass. On the kick-off Lehart failed to try for goal. Score, 5-0.

On the kick-off Lehart returned the ball 25 yards. 1 yard was gained around right end and Clark punted. In a series of end runs Mansfield gained 24 yards, but lost the ball on a quarterback kick. Clarke kicked, Mansfield failed on a line plunge, but gained 2 yards around right end. Time was called. Score, Bucknell 5, Mansfield 0.

Sophomore Procs Posted.

On Friday evening, Sept. 28th, the Sophomores stole a march on their Freshmen foes and by dint of careful planning, vigilant guarding and energetic hustling, succeeded in thoroughly plundering the vicinity with their green colored proclamations. The procs were well gotten up and showed none of the vulgarity often found in such literature. The Freshmen are giving no intimation of their plans regarding their return proclamations, but it is likely that they will make the attempt to post them soon, as the time limit set is not far distant. Sounds of Sophomores are percolating the streets nightly, and it will be a hard matter for the Freshmen to escape their close lookout.

Republican Spellbinders in Town.

A large number of the students went down to the opera house Tuesday evening to hear the speeches of the Republican candidates for State offices this fall. Both favorable and unfavorable criticisms were heard, depending largely upon the political faith of the critic.

Kappa Sigma Dance.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity gave an informal dance in the Armory Thursday evening. Eighteen couples were present and spent a very enjoyable evening. The Imperial Orchestra furnished the music.

CO-OPERATIVE SITUATION

Store Will Not be Started at Bucknell This Year.

It will be remembered that a large number of students became financially interested last year in a co-operative store, such as is found in many of the colleges. A Woodruff Stephens, '96, was the promoter of the plan and worked up considerable interest in the matter. During the spring and summer it was rather lost sight of, but on the return of the students this fall interest renewed and there has been much wonder and speculation as to how matters are progressing.

It appears, from a talk with Mr. Stephens, that no immediate steps will be taken to get the project under way. He avers, however, that it is only a question of time until the installation of such a store is brought about.

For the benefit of those who have subscribed to the project and feel unwilling to continue their holdings of stock, Mr. Stephens states that any student holding certificates may receive their fully value by presenting their claims to him. He may be found at his home opposite the Armory any Saturday and will gladly receive any student who desires to see him concerning the matter.

Bucknell Man No Candidate.

The New York Sun of Sept. 10th has the following to say concerning David J. Hill, a graduate and former president of Bucknell.
"David J. Hill, United States Minister at The Hague, was a passenger on the steamship Nieuw Amsterdam, which arrived here yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hill was surprised when asked if he had permitted the use of his name as a candidate of New York on the Republican ticket.
"It is the first I have heard of," said he. "I have not the slightest idea how the statement could have been made."
A despatch from London to the effect that he was willing to run was shown to him.

"Why," said he, "I have not been in London. I have been at The Hague and not in America for the last two years. I would not be here now only I have been called to a meeting of the board to act as the expatriation of American citizens."

Mr. Hill declared that he had never been active in politics. He was president of the University of Rochester when President McKinley made him Assistant Secretary of State under Mr. Hay. Then he was sent as Minister to Switzerland and a year ago was transferred to The Hague.

His family, who were with him, went to their home in Rochester and Mr. Hill went to Washington to report to the State Department.

Testimony Meeting at Y. M. C. A.

The first regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held in West College on Thursday evening. The meeting was largely attended, especially by the new men who took the opportunity presented them of testifying their stand in relation to Christianity. President Harvard Griffith had charge of the service. It was announced that Charles Harvey, '00, of Tientsin, China, the Christian representative there from Bucknell, will soon spend a few days here.

Editorial

There is occasion for hearty congratulation over the large attendance at the mass meeting held on Friday evening, as well as over the abundant enthusiasm manifested by the students assembled. College spirit and college pride have not been what they should be at Bucknell, and it is encouraging to see new interest and new feeling developing.

We have something to be proud of in Bucknell. As a college it stands in the very foremost rank of the minor colleges of the country. Since its incorporation in 1846, it has been steadily, resolutely forging ahead, and today it is the complete fulfillment of the best type of the earnest, progressive, up-to-date college. Its buildings and equipment are being increased and improved. Its courses of study are year by year broadening and strengthening. Its President and Faculty are men who are leaders in their respective fields. Its graduates are found at the very top in their professions, wherever we may look.

But we have reason to be proud of our standing in the athletic world, as well. True, our football record last year, was, on the whole, a losing one. But for a team on which six men were entirely new, and for games played against some of the strongest teams of the country, our record was one of which we have no reason to be ashamed. Our basketball team was all that could be asked. Out of twelve games played we won ten, with a total of three hundred and forty odd points to our opponents' one hundred and seventy. In baseball we won a good majority of the games played, and achieved such a signal success as a victory over Cornell's famous nine, with a score of seven to two. In the track athletics and with our tennis we have records that show up with the best.

Why, then, should we not be proud of Bucknell? Why should we not be enthusiastic? Our athletic record is a good one. Our standing in the collegiate world is unsurpassed. Our Alumni have made and are making their mark in the world. We are growing in numbers and reputation and power.

Why not prove our loyalty to the institution that gives us that most precious of our birth-rights, an education? Why not support our college interests and activities? Why not attend the games and other events? Why not participate in the mass-meetings? Why not join in the parades? Why not give our presence and our voice and our means for the bettering and strengthening and up-building of our Alma Mater? Are we ashamed of her? No! Are we proud of her? Yes! Are we loyal to her? Yes! Then let us prove it.

The prospects are good. Although the outcome of Saturday's game was not so successful as was anticipated, confidence in the Varsity's strength and ability is by no means lessened. The first game is not a fair test for determining the team's qualities. It is largely an experiment in which new men are tried out and new plays and formations worked. When the team has become settled and the mode of play has passed the experimental stage, we may look for the splendid results of former years. The old men are fast rounding into shape, while the work of the new men, Snavely, Wagner, Clark, and Croop is thoroughly good. In fact, weight, speed and experience considered, no team starts out this year with brighter prospects. Here's to success for them! Here, too, is to getting down on the field to watch them in their practice and to show them that we have confidence in their ability to do Bucknell honor.

State vs. Indians.

The leading football game to be played in this vicinity this year will be the game at Williamsport on Oct. 6th, between State College and the Indians. State's team this year is an unusually good one, while the Indians' reputation for fast playing gives much interest to the question as to how the new rules will affect results with them. State expects to send almost her entire student body to root, while Williamsport's younger generation will do as much for the Red Men.

The game will be called at 2.30, on the Seminary Field. All railroads are selling special fare tickets and an enormous crowd is expected.

Prof. Martin at Association.

RECEPTION TO NEW STUDENTS

Baptist and Presbyterian Congregations Act as Hosts.

On Friday evening the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church entertained very pleasantly the new students of the University and the Woman's College. The guests began to arrive at eight o'clock, and were welcomed by the Reception Committee, composed of the pastor, Dr. Thomas, Mrs. Thomas, Miss Mary Halfpenny, President of the Society, and Mr. Robert Steel, its Secretary.

After passing the receiving line the visitors were presented with a card bearing on one side the name of some well known character in literature, the idea being that "Jacob" should seek his "Rachel" and "John Alden" his "Priscilla," while "The Spider" should make a valiant endeavor to capture "The Fly."

After the various characters had found their other halves and the made, Dr. Thomas directed attention to the reverse sides of the cards, saying that that space was to be used to write the names of the various popular airships of which were to be played on the piano. Most of the assembly succeeded in getting nearly all the titles correctly, though "Love's Old Sweet Song" proved too hard for many.

The guessing concluded, all were directed to find seats somewhere in the class-rooms and ice-cream and cake were served by Junior Endeavorers. An hour of chat and further introductions followed, the assembly breaking up at about ten o'clock.

Miss Anna Stoughton, chairman of the Social Committee of the Society, deserves great credit for the success of the event, the decorations and entertainment being under the charge of her committee.

Much interest was created by Dr. Thomas' famous photographic views which were scattered about for inspection.

The Baptist Young People's Society of Christian Endeavorers, on Saturday evening, extended a word of greeting and a hand of welcome to their newly come friends among the student body. No formal committee of reception greeted the guests as they arrived, all the members of the Society constituting themselves as such a committee.

"Arise and get thee forth and seek A friendship for the years to come," was the quotation found upon the face of the cards distributed, and everyone gave most earnest heed to the advice. An hour and more was passed in greeting old friends and meeting new ones, when President Potter called the assembly to order and, after a brief address of welcome, announced a violin solo by Miss Lawrie. Miss Lawrie's selection met with such deserved applause that she was obliged to respond with an encore, as was also Miss Isaac who followed her with a vocal number.

Refreshments were then served and another hour was spent in conversation and the general rendition of Bucknell songs, Mr. Fetter leading at the piano. Shortly after ten o'clock the guests began to leave, everyone expressing a hearty enjoyment of the evening.

The Society in respect of the collegiate membership is making an auspicious beginning for the year, as six names of new members have already been added to the roll and sixteen more have been proposed. With such a large addition to its membership and its efficient corps of officers and committeemen, the Society should be the means of accomplishing great good.

The State-Indian Game.

About seventy-five of the football enthusiasts of the school, almost all "The Squad" among the number, journeyed to Williamsport on Saturday to see the game between State College and the Carlisle Indians.

The game was a hotly contested one and was won by State by the close score of only 4 to 0. McJarry making a place kick from the forty-yard line. Punting was the feature of game but was generally unsuccessful for both sides owing to the fact that the mud made the ball too slippery for accuracy in directing the punt.

State had the better of the line drives, Goulson time and again breaking through the Indians' right. Both sides made many fumbles owing to the dampness and slipperiness of everything, but State generally had better success than the Indians in recovering.

The Bucknell men in attendance seemed to be mostly in sympathy with State and at frequent intervals during the game gave the "Bucknell-oh-oh" with a "State," the State men returning the compliment.

Attended Capital Dedication.

Whitby, '07, Matting, '08, Sherwood, '10, Haynes, '10, Boyer, '08, Benson, '10, Himmus, '07, Rayne, '08, Salmagundy, '07, Hummer, '08, Timlin, '09, O'Brien, '08, Hallman, '08, Gibson, '08, Hieby, '08, Snyder, '08, Claypool, '08, Way, '10, Ritter, '10, and Hagererty, '09 were among the thousands of visitors who thronged Harrisburg's streets on the occasion of the dedication of the new State Capitol building last Thursday. The boys report having had a good time, though the rain interfered somewhat with the success of the affair.

Brown, ex-'08, rode with them from Montandon on his way to serve in the Third Brigade, which participated in the parade.

Dr. Farr Coming.

The eminent Bible teacher and lecturer, Rev. F. W. Farr, who is so prominent in Y. M. C. A. work in and around Philadelphia, will give two addresses here this week, under the auspices of the College Y. M. C. A. The first address will be delivered on Thursday evening at 8:00 o'clock, in the Association Hall, and the second on Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the same place. Dr. Farr is a man of national reputation as a speaker and lecturer, and is particularly popular among the younger class of men. All college and Academy men are urged to avail themselves of this unusual opportunity to hear a man of Dr. Farr's calibre and ability.

Phi Gamma Delta Dance.

Phi Gamma Delta gave an informal dance Tuesday evening in the armory. Eighteen couples enjoyed the music of the Imperial Orchestra and danced until midnight, when refreshments were served at Mrs. Huth's.

WHEREABOUTS OF 1906

What Last Year's Seniors Are Now Doing.

Although but a few months have elapsed since the class of 1906 bade farewell to Bucknell, in that short space of time its members have become scattered far and wide. A goodly number of them are teaching, some are pursuing technical or professional work at graduate schools, others have entered the field of business, while a few are spending a peaceful winter at home.

Some of the teachers are Miss Bender, who is Assistant Principal, Lewisburg High School; Chalk's and Meyer who are instructors at Bucknell Academy, and Robert Leighton who is Professor of Chemistry at Mansfield State Normal.

Smith, Clappold and DeMelt have attained the dignity of principalship, the first being at the head of the Centre Hall schools; the last of the Philadelphia, N. Y. High School, and Clappold, of the Greensburg, Pa., Grammar School. Henry Jones is Vice Principal of the Plymouth High School, and Frank Yost is filling a similar position at Milton, while Miss Blith Lane is serving as Assistant Principal of Ulysses Schools.

Miss Knapp is busy teaching the young men how to shoot in Bristol, Ind.; Miss Beck is doing a like service at Falls Creek, Pa., and Miss MacLagan and Miss Rickabaugh are engaged in school work at Solysville, Ill., and Altoona, Pa. Earle Phillips has gone so far south as Elizabeth City, N. C., to further the work of education, while Timlin is satisfied to do his share nearer home, at Clarion, Pa. Miss Farman is developing the mental powers of Young America at Manhattan, Pa., and Miss Sara Ungert is helping the High School pupils of Berwick, Pa., to prepare for the battles of life, while Florence Cobb is doing a like service at Oswego, Pa.

In the point of numbers, the ministerial students lead the men who are furthering their educational equipment. Bartlett, Doninger, Drake, Wallace Greeng, and Rimey, having enrolled at Crozer Theological Seminary; Stewart at the Southern Theological Seminary, and Pease at Rochester, while Powell is taking the divinity course at Yale.

The legal world is well represented. Fred Potter is enrolled at Harvard Law School, and Joe Macrae at Columbia. Hakoslee is reading law with a firm at Montrose, Jarrett is studying with Attorney Johnson of Lewisburg, and Clay McCormick is learning to untangle legal knots under the direction of his father, Attorney McCormick of Lock Haven. Heffling found the east too slow and registered for law at Ann Arbor.

Among the men who have registered as "Med." are Harold N. Cole, who is at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio; Maurice P. Goldsmith, who is at W. U. P.; Koch, who is learning to write prescriptions at University of Pennsylvania; and Shelley, who is enrolled among the Jefferson Medical School students. Bailey will take up work

The College Bible Class.

The lesson was on the Prologue to Genesis, Genesis 1:1 to 2:3. The subject discussed was the Nature and Sources of the Prologue. Every person and nation have their Genesis; that is, there is a universal instinct in man to inquire as to the beginning of the world in which he lives. The student people have especially ancient documents on origins, the oldest dating back two thousand years before Christ. The Chaldean Genesis was translated by Dr. G. A. Smith and published in 1875. The Hebrew Genesis is a divine response to a universal desire through a great seer and prophet.

At the Way of Life Meeting in the afternoon, Hon. A. W. Johnson spoke on the improvement of the English Speaking Itace as shown by the Law.

He showed that the law has improved in substance by more clearly defining crimes, by repealing laws regarding acts which are really not crimes and by making acts such as drunkenness subjects of punishment. Improvement, too, has been made in the procedure by the abolishment of trial by ordeal, torture to secure testimony, and the like, and by assuring fair trial by jury to everyone. The doing away with cruel and barbarous punishments is the third improvement made in law to mark the upward progress of the race.

Freshman Procs Appear.

After a two weeks' anxious vigil the Sophomores' patience was apparently rewarded on Friday night by the appearance of countless posters setting forth the opinions of the Freshmen as to the character and merits of members of the class of 1909. Sophomore vigilance, however, won the day and but few of the posters were gotten up, even these being soon removed.

But the Freshmen had not exhausted their resources. On the contrary, the posters of Friday night were but a blind, to enable them to more successfully attempt the posting of the real pros on Saturday night. The Sophomores were still on the lookout, however, and though the posting was done well on towards morning, when sleep is deepest and soundest on "The Hill," they soon had their men out and the pros torn down.

A little clash occurred between the classes on Market street but without any serious results.

Mr. Gretzinger at Harrisburg.

Registrar Gretzinger spent part of the week in Harrisburg, serving as Acting Quartermaster-General of the Third Brigade, N. G. P., which participated in the dedication of the new State Capitol. Mr. Gretzinger reports the new Capitol building to be a splendid structure, well worthy of the Keystone State. Prof. Thomas was also a visitor to the Capital City.

Junior Debate.

The first meeting of all those desiring honors in Junior Debate Work was held Thursday in Euclid at 7:00 p. m. Ten Juniors reported and a few more will enter later. Prof. Smith outlined and assigned the work. Preliminary debates will be given on Thursday night of each week. All Juniors desiring to compete should report at once.

Dr. Harris at College Council.

President Harris spent Thursday in Harrisburg attending a session of the College and University Council of Pennsylvania, which met in the offices of the State Department of Instruction in the new Capitol building.

Death of Former Institute Teacher.

Word has been received of the death on Friday, August 24, of Miss Ada C. Groom, a teacher at the Institute from 1887-91. Death occurred at Miss Groom's home at Horsesheds, N. Y., and was caused by a cancer from which she had been suffering for over a year. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon of the same week.

Miss Groom was well known to many of the older alumni. For some years after her arrival here she taught the lower branches in the Institute. Later she taught elocution in the same department and in the college. She was successful in her work and was universally liked by those who knew her. Her demise will be mourned by many.

Change in Instructors.

Professor Krough does not return this year as Instructor in French and German as he has gone to Harvard to pursue a graduate course in the Modern Languages. The new instructor in that department is Prof. Charles P. Nevins, A. B., an '02 man from Harvard. Mr. Nevins has taught in Indiana for several years and is a teacher of experience.

Editorial

It was Abraham Lincoln who said that one can please part of the people all the time and all the people part of the time, but that it is impossible to please all the people all the time.

Notwithstanding the difficulty of the task, however, we do wish to make the Orange and Blue interesting and readable for all to whom it goes—undergraduates, alumni and friends. We cannot hope to make every number interesting to all our readers, but we do hope that everyone will, in not a few issues, find something that will please him or be of interest to him.

To accomplish our aim your help and support are necessary. We are not omnipresent. Along with our work for the paper must go our own work in the class room. The members of the staff cannot be standing unbecomingly at the desks and in the halls, note book in hand, ready to jot down upon scraps bits of news that may come passing by. We are eager enough for news, but, hemmed in as we are by our own work, we cannot go far out of our way to seek it.

May we not, then, have your help? Whether you be an undergraduate, an alumnus or a friend, will you not give your assistance in making the Orange and Blue a success? If you have an item of news that you think will prove interesting, let us have it. If you believe that the paper can be improved in some particular, tell us how. Above all, whether you can do these things or not, subscribe for the paper and keep it free from debt.

Minor matters count. It is perhaps a little thing to most of us, also very gratifying, to notice the improvement in the space in front of West College. True, our supply of fuel is no longer there for the use of the ardent bon-fire, but we are all glad to have some substantial brown-stonette steps in place of the wooden ones. The grass plot, too, between the steps and the western end of Main Building is a considerable improvement. It seems a little annoying, perhaps, for an old student, coming out of West Wing, to go around instead of cutting across, but all who care for the appearance of our campus will go around. The ones who do not care should be waited upon and enlightened.

Another minor matter. The bulletin boards are too small. We all know that. That is no reason, however, for destroying and disgusting notices needlessly. Until we get new locked and glass-enclosed boards, let's be a trifle more considerate of the rights of others.

Whereabout of 1906.

at Medical Chi in October. Edwin Jack is taking a final year at Harvard, and Bliss has entered the technical department of Cornell. He is developing his talent for drawing at the American Art Institute in New York, and Shorkey is taking mechanical engineering at Lehigh.

Three of the members of the class who have entered into business life are engaged in engineering work. Charlie Howell and Leth Shields are in Pittsburgh, and Yingling in Jersey City, N. J., where he has been helping in the construction of the new East River tunnel.

Gardner is in business at Factoryville, his home; Knapp is likewise engaged at Penbrook, Pa.; Comstock at Grover; Stevenson at Sharon; and Homans at Irwin, while Millward, Donahoe and Weaver are associated in business with their fathers in Mt. Pleasant, Lewisburg and Huntington, respectively.

Hassrick is following his journalistic bent as city reporter on the Williamsport News; while Stauffer has forsaken the effete east for Milwaukee, where he is delving in laboratory work for a prominent firm. Alford Wise is the representative of a prominent bond house for the State of New Jersey with headquarters in Philadelphia; and Secho is in political work endeavoring to organize Lincoln Republican clubs in Central Pennsylvania.

Miss McCaskie, after a summer spent in Maine has returned to her home in East Orange, N. J. Miss MacCart of Williamsport, Miss Bacon of Canton and Miss Moll of Mahanoy City are also spending the winter at home.

Two members of the class have been so unfortunate to have to play the invalid during a large part of the summer. Waltz contracted typhoid fever and has been in the Williamsport Hospital for the past two months. He is convalescent, however, and as soon as fully recovered will enter Crozer Hospital. He has been confined to the University of Pennsylvania Hospital with rheumatism but expects to continue his preparation for foreign missionary work as soon as he is well enough again.

Coverdale has entered the ministry. He was ordained during the summer at Erie and is now preaching in Michigan.

Dietrich and Parke have not been heard from but will be reported in a later issue.

A Card from Coach Hoskins.

Editor The Orange and Blue:—We need more students for the football team. A good second team is almost as essential to success as a good varsity. Come out and make the men who are out work for their positions, for there is a good chance for any man who "makes good."

Let me ask, also, that non-players please keep outside the side-lines when practice is going on. We are glad to have you down to look on and cheer us up, but please do not interfere with the plays by betting in the men's road.

HOSKINS ON NEW RULES

Coach Pleased with New Football Regulations.

The new rules in football seem to have won favor and sanction from the majority of coaches of college teams judging from reports of the early games thus far played. At first some doubt was expressed by leading exponents of the game as to their efficiency but since they have been put in practice unfavorable criticism has disappeared to a great extent.

In an interview with Coach Hoskins he expressed his approval of the changes and gave some good reasons why the new rules are beneficial to the game. He said in part: "The revised code of rules and new styles of play will have a greater tendency to hold for football the prominent position in college athletics which the game now enjoys. The changes in playing tactics will make the game more open to the spectators and eliminate much of the former rough playing. The forward pass and the doubling of the distance to ten yards, instead of five, to be gained in three downs will tend to make the game more open and spectacular, the latter change being a great handicap to the team which has a good punter and drop kicker, with fast ends, halves, full back and quarter will have far more success than the team which has a heavy line and depends on old style football. The rules do not allow anyone of the five center men to take the ball or get in the interference unless he goes back five yards and another man is put in his place. Thus, in three downs the heavy men would have to make about fifteen yards.

A great improvement is the rule regarding the taking out of time. Either captain may ask for time three times during the half without penalty. If thereafter either captain asks for time his team shall be penalized two yards in each instance unless the player be removed from the game.

These are the principal changes. To me they seem to eliminate much foul play and to make the game faster and more open, a decided improvement from the point of view of the spectator, at least.

Coach Cole, of the University of Virginia, whom Bucknell meets on Nov. 3, has also expressed his approval of the football rules of 1906 as revised. He believes that the liability to injury will be greatly decreased owing to more open play, that the forward pass, trick plays, open field running and punting will not only lessen the injury list, due in former years largely to mass plays, but will give the average spectator a much clearer appreciation of what is going on, on the gridiron. The game in his opinion is entering upon a new era which bids fair to revolutionize it and establish it even more firmly in the hearts of the football public.

Another Bucknell Candidate, J. Lloyd Kulp is running for Assemblyman from the 17th District on the Democratic ticket.

A Word of Caution for Freshmen.

Several of the Freshmen have evidently not taken careful notice of the regulations embodied in the recently posted upper-classmen rules. In order that they might avoid serious trouble we would suggest that those who have been negligent in this regard, carefully study the rules, a copy of which is appended for their benefit.

RULES FOR UNDERCLASSMEN.

1. Freshmen must wear blue skull caps with green button for the entire college year except on Sundays.
2. All underclass proclamations must be up by Oct. 15.
3. Freshmen must not call at the Sem. before Washington's Birthday.
4. Freshmen must not be seen in Milton or Sunbury after 7:00 p. m. at any time during the whole year unless accompanied by an upperclassman.
5. Freshmen must at all times salute members of the Faculty and Seniors and must also show proper respect for all upperclassmen.
6. Freshmen must not wear numerals, monograms or class colors during the entire year. Furthermore, they must not wear jerseys or sweaters until after Thanksgiving. "Varsity men" excepted.
7. Freshmen must not loaf on the main steps of any college building or around any class memorials.
8. Freshmen must not smoke in the halls or on the campus at any time, and pipes are prohibited at all times.
9. No underclassman shall at any time loaf on main college steps or on the 1904 memorial steps.
10. These rules, instituted by the classes of 1905 and 1907, shall remain permanent rules for underclassmen at Bucknell University, and any additions thereto shall be considered amendments.

These rules will be enforced by the Sophomores with the approval of the upperclassmen.

Glee Club Under Way.

The prospects are bright for a good Bucknell glee club this year. Mr. Paul Stolz, who is assistant in music at the School of Music, has the matter, '08, and Parsons of the Academy, second basses. These men are already at work under Mr. Stolz's direction on a thoroughly good program and expect soon to be in shape for making engagements. They are, however, only to serve as the foundation for the full Glee Club which will be organized as soon as arrangements can be made.

Dr. Smith Writes.
Dr. Samuel C. Smith, '01, of Hollidaysburg, Pa., forwarded his subscription to the "Orange and Blue" last week with a cheering and helpful letter full of good wishes for a prosperous year for both the Paper and the University.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith are both Bucknell graduates. Mrs. Smith, formerly Miss Louise Warringer, of Montrose, having graduated from the Institute in 1900. They are living in Hollidaysburg where the Doctor is rapidly building up a lucrative practice.

BUCKNELL LOSSES TO CORNELL

Ithacans Win Fast Game by Score of 24-6.

On Saturday the Bucknell football team played their first important game of the season with Cornell University, losing after a hard-fought contest by the score of 24-6. Both teams were full of ginger and the game was one well worth seeing, though Bucknell's inferior weight told against our team.

Bucknell lost the toss-up and Lenhart kicked off, against a light east wind, to Cornell's 10-yard line from where Earle, aided by fine interference, carried it back to the 40-yard line. After two downs, Walder punted to Bucknell's 25-yard line where Croop made a free catch.

On lining up, Bucknell punted to Pollak who returned the ball three yards. A fumble and a blocked end run forced Cornell to punt. Walder punting in the air and regaining the ball on his own 45-yard line. Three downs carried the ball to Bucknell's 31-yard line where in the scrimmage the ball came into Bucknell's possession.

Clark punted to Cornell's 45-yard line and Pollak fumbled, Gibson regaining the ball five yards back of that. After a loss of two yards Cornell punted to Bucknell's 25-yard line, from where the ball was driven back fourteen yards, when Clark punted to Pollak on Cornell's 45-yard line. Bucknell's ends driving him back five yards more before he cried "down." Several big gains by Cornell put the ball on Bucknell's 20-yard line. Bucknell was penalized five yards more for off-side playing when Gibson hurried around the end and made the first touchdown. Score, Cornell, 6; Bucknell, 0.

Cornell at this point substituted Dunn for Cogrove and Jameson for Pollak. Bucknell kicked off to Gibson on Cornell's 15-yard line. He returned the ball to the 30-yard line where he was stopped by O'Brien. A series of plays and Clarke's punt brought the ball to Jameson on Cornell's 25-yard line. He muffed it and recovered it only within a foot of his own goal. Walder punted to the 30-yard line where Croop made a free catch but Lenhart failed to make the expected place kick from the field. From the 25-yard line Walder punted to Bucknell's 45-yard line from where Warner wriggled back to Cornell's 53-yard line. Two downs forced Clark's punt to Cornell's 15-yard line from where by a forward pass, heavy line players the ball was brought to Bucknell's 12-yard line, a heavy mass play through center driving it on and over. Captain Cook once more kicked goal and the score stood, Cornell, 12; Bucknell, 0.

Lenhart kicked off to Walder who succeeded, with fine interference, in setting back to his 45-yard line. Bucknell got the ball on a forward pass and attempted a place kick but it went into the line and bounded back to their 45-yard line, from where Cornell carried it steadily down the field for another touchdown, which with another successful goal brought the score to 18-0. The half ended as Bucknell was kicking off for the fourth time.

The College Bible Class.

In the College Bible Class on Sunday morning, the subject was "The Purpose of the Prologue to Genesis." This purpose was not scientific. For our science we must go to Astronomy, Geology, Physics, Chemistry. The purpose is religious and moral.

In religion there are three fundamental questions to which an answer may be found in the prologue: What is the relation of God to the world? What is the relation of God to man? What is the relation of man to the world?

In the Way of Life Meeting the subject was "Taking up a reproach against One's Neighbor." The principle in the Hebrew law was compared with the requirements of Knighthood as expressed by Tennyson and as enforced in the Civil War.

The announcement this fall by President Roosevelt of his conversion to the spelling-reform movement has created a great deal of discussion pro and con.

The reformers are not planning any radical revolution but are simply making a plea for what is sane and sensible and for the ridance of some of the dead wood from our speech. Among the three hundred words selected for change, many are already in common use in their simplified form.

We in America have long been writing "labor" instead of "labour" and "check" rather than "cheque". It remains for our English friends to accept the same spelling embodied in "vigor" and "medieval" and "bun". Such changes as "abridgment" for "abridgement" and "draft" for "draught" are not in general usage, and common sense would certainly lead us to accept their new forms gladly.

"Tho" and "thru" while still somewhat strange appearing to the eye are fast becoming familiar, but it is doubtful whether we shall not, for some time at least, be "mixed" instead of "mixt" in our spelling, and whether we should not rather be "kissed" than "kist."

On the whole, however, the movement would seem to be a step in advance. Someone has estimated that one-eighth of the space in all English printed matter is taken up by silent letters. A saving of only a part of this space would be a vast economy in cost and time and labor.

In the country at large there seems to be the usual tendency either to look askance at the innovation, to ridicule it as a joke, or to accept it with true American enthusiasm. In the world of education there seems manifest the usual conservatism. The colleges, with but few exceptions, are refraining from taking a definite stand, a fact that is in some respects surprising since the Reform Board is largely composed of the heads of the English departments in some of the leading Universities.

What stand Bucknell will take in the matter remains to be seen. Our professors and instructors in the English departments express themselves as not yet wholly in heart with the movement, though in sympathy with any movement that will tend towards the bettering and improvement of the common English. We may be sure, however, that Bucknell will not be the last to adopt the reform, if its adoption seems generally advisable.

Bucknell Loses to Cornell.

and Harris for Hayes at right end. Cornell kicked off and Harris was stopped on his own 18-yard line. A fumble gave Babcock the ball on Bucknell's 25-yard line. Shade recovered the ball on an attempted quarter-back kick after Cornell had lost three yards on two downs, but a fumble again gave it to Cornell who carried it by heavy line plunges to the 8-yard line. From there Newman, who was substituted for McManara, pushed it over, and a successful goal added six more to Cornell's tally, making the score 24-0.

After a kick-off out of bounds Lenhart kicked over the goal line, Walder making a touch-back. From the 25-yard line Walder kicked to mid-field where Bucknell got the ball on Cornell's 52-yard line. A quarter-back kick failed but a forward pass gave five yards. Harris was driven back for a loss, so Lenhart punted to Jamieson on the 15-yard line. Earle gained ten yards around his end but two downs forced Walder to punt to Bucknell's 40-yard line, from where Clark carried the ball to Cornell's 50-yard line before being stopped.

A series of fumbles and mixed-forward passes the ball settled at last on Cornell's 25-yard line from where Walder punted to Croop who succeeded in returning it to Cornell's 52-yard line. A punt and a fifteen yard penalty for Cornell put the ball on their 15-yard line. Lenhart tried a place kick but the ball went into the line. Shade got hold of it in the scrimmage and carried it over the line. A goal by Lenhart made the score stand 24-6.

McCutcheon was substituted for Walder and kicked to Bucknell's 25-yard line. Lenhart punted to Cornell's 40-yard line and from this point the ball was moved back by line plunges and mass plays until Bucknell's 37-yard line was reached when time was called.

Editorial

As commentaries and institutions grow in age, there come into existence certain "Days" and events that in time become traditional—a part of the community's or the institution's life without which the years would seem incomplete. Particularly, is this true of educational institutions in which "Sings" and "Rushes" and like events have come to be recognized and respected as one of the features of college experience.

Probably the most generally observed event of all is an annual class rush, in some form or another, to be engaged in by the Sophomores and Freshmen. Doubtless no college or university exists where the customary underclass rivalry is not reduced to the concrete by some pre-arranged and well recognized contest in physical strength or endurance.

We at Bucknell have our Sophomore-Freshman rush—an event which not only engages the attention of the student body, but attracts numbers of the citizens of the town to the Hill on the day of the occurrence. From year to year its recurrence is looked forward to and it has assumed a place in the student's calendar almost equal in interest to Commencement.

There are, however, some features of the rush, as it should be and generally is carried out, that are neither pleasant nor of use. In fact, the present idea and scheme seems wholly inappropriate and purposeless.

The chief aim and intention in the class rush, as it should be and generally is carried out, is to enable the two under classes in some definite tangible way to make a comparative show of physical strength and endurance. With us, though, this aim seems far from being fulfilled. After the initial onset the contest is one that borders on the ridiculous. Freshmen, being new to one another are often found hotly contending with each other; the contestants become scattered over such large territory that there can be neither concerted action nor common effort, and, above all, there is no way of determining at the close as to which class has come off victorious.

Again, the place of the rush is most ill-adapted to the carrying out of such an idea. Not only is the campus marred and be-draggled by it, but there is unnecessary occasion given for injury from the fact that the slopes are steep, the trees are plentiful and the gravel walks are conducive to cuts and bruises.

The inanity and purposelessness of the rush as now carried out have long been the subject of criticism and discussion, and efforts have at different times been made to better conditions, but without avail. Every year the rush comes off in the same objectionable fashion, and the same trite but proper criticisms follow. Would it not be well to bestir ourselves and reform the present too apparent evils? "Reform" is a popular slogan in these days and it is undeniable that there is ample opportunity here for testing its powers. Why not discuss and agitate the question and endeavor to put the matter into better shape?

It is not the province nor the purpose of the upper-classes to dominate the policy of the College, nor to dictate as to its government and management. The Sophomore-Freshman rush, however, seems to have become a traditional part of the year's program, and being tacitly recognized by the authorities has come under upper-class direction and control.

Will not the members of these classes, then, come forward with suggestions for a safer and surer way of conducting it? The columns of the Orange and Blue are open for any communications which may suggest a better form of rush than the one now in vogue. If you have a plan in mind for its improvement, write it out and let it be brought before the student body.

A REQUEST.
The article appearing in another column on the whereabouts of the members of the class of 1905 is the second of a series of such articles that it is proposed to publish during the year, the whereabouts of 1906 having been published in this issue of Oct. 5th.

To get together the information necessary for such an article is a task of no small magnitude, especially as one goes back in years to the earlier classes. We realize this fact, and the many difficulties that confront us, but we believe that these articles will prove of interest and value and we are willing to undertake the responsibilities of the task. We want your help, however. Some of the members of former classes have, perhaps, dropped out of all knowledge of friends and class-mates, but, for the most part we believe that with your help we can locate them and tell of them to the interest of their fellow students as well as the present student body.

Will you not, then, friend alumnus, kindly drop the editor of the Orange and Blue a postal card? Tell him where you are and what you are doing, and tell him, too, anything you can about any former classmate or fellow-student who you think may be too busy or too bashful to let us know of himself.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE

If you can find time in the busy cares and duties of your day to do this, you will greatly aid us in carrying out our cherished plan and you will, we are sure, be adding to the pleasure of your friends and the friends of the college.

The College Bible Class.

In the College Bible Class on Sunday morning, President Harris continued the study of the prologue to Genesis. The prologue consists of an introduction, conclusion, the Sabbath of God and two quatrains. The first of these quatrains begins with God's relation to light, and the second with His relation to the luminaries—Sun, Moon and Stars. The order of the epochs is not the order of process but an order of exposition. Following the statement of God's relation to light, we have in the first quatrain, the differentiation of the world from the universal class which is conceived as an infinite fluid; then the differentiation of the solid and liquid in the world itself; next the production upon the dry land of vegetable life. The second quatrain begins with God's relation to the luminaries and proceeds next with the production of the inhabitants air and sea, and then with the production of land animals, then with the creation of man.
At the Way of Life meeting, Sunday afternoon, the teachings of Jesus in doing righteous acts before men to be seen of them was the theme considered.

NAVY TIES BUCKNELL

Splendid Game at Annapolis With Score 6-0.

The game with the Navy at Annapolis on Saturday resulted in a score, 6-0. Only the most determined work on the part of the Navy and a stiff breeze favorable to them kept the Orange and Blue from achieving a signal victory in the second half.

The first twenty minutes of play were hard fought on both sides with the advantage slightly in favor of the Navy. At one time they had the ball on Bucknell's 5-yard line, with three chances to score but valiant endeavor and good head work on the part of Bucknell held them back.

In the second half the navy resorted to kicking tactics, not trying at all to break through Bucknell's solid defenses. Twice the ball was gotten within their 10-yard line, once being lost on a fumble and the second time on downs.

Clarke did the punting for Bucknell and, on the whole, had the better of Strolinger. Fumbles on both sides were frequent but the other team always managed to hold for downs in a pinch.

Bucknell's team returned home with a number of injured men. Pierson had his collar bone broken, and several of the other men were badly bruised. All but Pierson, however, expect to be in shape for the big Virginia game next Saturday. The line up:

NAVY. BUCKNELL.
Clark L. E. Pierson
Simpson L. T. Pierson
Strolinger L. G. Hawk
Slingshot R. T. Shade
Magruder R. T. Lenhart
Dague R. E. Hayes
Demott

Battle Quarterback Croop
Burg L. H. B. McNinch
Ingram R. H. B. Wagner
Richardson Fullback Clark

Referee—Godschalk, Lafayette. Umpire—McCloskey, Univ. of Penna. H. Linesman, Lieut. Reeves, U. S. N. Linesmen, Midshipman Kittell, U. S. N., and Hawk, Bucknell; Harris substituted. Times of halves 20 minutes.

Saturday the Scrub football team played its first game, with the Sunbury Buffaloes, at Sunbury. This team is captained by Schuster, who formerly played quarter at Lafayette, while Moorehead, formerly of State, plays full-back.

By good defensive work the Scrubs kept the Buffaloes from scoring, though they were not able to score themselves. Time and again Sunbury was forced to punt. Matthias deserves credit for the manner in which he carried back the ball on punts. While the whole team played well, the work of Saxe and Royer in the line, and Hagerity at fullback deserves mention.

The Scrubs' next game is to be played on the University field this coming Saturday.

Philadelphia-Bucknell Social.

The club gave a social at the parlors of Mrs. Huth on Friday night. Games were played and music and song gave enjoyment to everybody. Refreshments were served at 9:30 o'clock and the company dispersed at 10 o'clock all voting it an exceedingly pleasant occasion.

The College Bible Class.

The discussion was concerning the creation days in the prologue of Genesis. The week of seven days is based upon the phases of a moon.

The Babylonians celebrated the feast of the new moon when it was first seen by the Watchman. On the seventh, fourteenth, and twenty-first and twenty-eighth day thereafter they observed Sabbath of rest. The Hebrews like the Babylonians observed the seventh day as Sabbath, beginning also in the evening, but they did not start each month anew by the re-appearing of the moon.

Now the author of the prologue in addition to his fundamental arrangement indicated by the refrain "God saw that it was good" makes another division into six parts corresponding to the six secular days. This division is made preparatory to the Sabbath of God spoken of in the conclusion of the prologue. The Sabbath of God will be the subject of next Sunday's lesson.

At the Way of Life meeting the theme was "Divine Healing." In divine healing there are two ways, the cure and cure of those already sick, and the prevention of disease by God's way of light, air and water. The second is the more divine, by obedience to God's ordinances of health the death rate in cities has in many cases been reduced as much as ten in a thousand yearly. In the healthiest city in the United States the death rate is nine in a thousand yearly; in the most unhealthy it is forty-five. The difference would represent in a city of a million some thirty-six thousand lives. A difference of ten would represent in the urban population of the United States two hundred and eighty thousand lives yearly. God is a God of health and we are co-workers with him and serve him by promoting physical, as well as moral health.

Haldy Christ is one of Swarthmore Preparatory School's instructors. Miss Stephens, Sheppard and Robinson are holding the reins of authority in Belvidere, N. J., Perth Amboy, N. J., and Dobb's Ferry, N. Y. Roberts is in school work in Philadelphia. Robey was for a time instructor in Bucknell Academy but this fall entered University of Pennsylvania law school. Miss Hall has also given up teaching, on account of ill health, and Myers has also deserted the educational field, having enrolled as a theological student at Susquehanna University.

Two of the class felt called to the healing of mankind, White and Hersh having enrolled at the Hahnemann Medical School in Philadelphia. A good percentage, however, felt the necessity of ministering to our social needs so that we find Tauler and Myers in the theological department at Susquehanna, Hunsberger at Crozer and Sutton already a pastor, having charge of the Centerville Baptist church.

Durham is in business at his home in Waco, Texas, and Hayes is relieving his father's business cares in Montoursville. Stahl is working in one of New York City's leading banking houses and Wilcox is with a large investment and securities company in Philadelphia.

Ralph Cook is helping his father in Vicksburg and Knapp is in business at Pikesburg. Harold Perrine is traveling representative of a large furnishings house in Philadelphia and Thompson is district representative of the Jersey Flake Ceram Co. Webster is located in East New Market, Md.

Three of the girls are enjoying paternal hospitality and care. Miss Groff is living at home in Lewisburg. Miss Hall is with her parents at Shawmut and Miss Davis is studying domestic science under parental direction in Carlisle.

Reform Club Organized.

At a meeting of the students who are in sympathy with the reform movement in politics on Saturday morning, Smith, '07, was elected president of the permanent club to be organized Tuesday night in Room 11. The other officers elected were: Whitney, '07, Vice President; Boyer, '08, Secretary; and Smith, '08, Treasurer.

The club escorted Mr. Reed, one of Saturday night's speakers, from the Baker House to the Opera House where the Democratic-Fusion mass meeting was held.

AN ACCOUNT OF 1904

The Doings and Whereabouts of Its Fifty-four Members.

Minerva, Goddess of Wisdom, must have been hovering over the platform in Commencement Hall when the Class of 1904 made its last bow on the stage of college life, for of the fifty-four members of the class more than two-fifths are or have been engaged in teaching.

Of the girls of the class only five elected teaching as their profession, Miss Williams being one of Bucknell's corps of teachers. Miss Reed one of Lewisburg's school mistresses and Miss Schillinger being engaged in school work in Pittsburg. Miss Eddleman and Miss Allright have gone to the far West to spread the blessings of knowledge, the former being in public school work in Madison, South Dakota and the latter teaching sciences in the High School at Greensburg, Ind.

Of the men, Wallace Foxler has become Superintendent of the Northumberland County schools, while Edly, Spotts and Renn are principals of Schellburg High School, Lyncum County Normal and Montoursville High School, respectively. Daniels is in High School work in Nanticoke, and Knapp and Gilbert are likewise engaged in Ridgway and Berwick.

Haldy Christ is one of Swarthmore Preparatory School's instructors. Miss Stephens, Sheppard and Robinson are holding the reins of authority in Belvidere, N. J., Perth Amboy, N. J., and Dobb's Ferry, N. Y. Roberts is in school work in Philadelphia.

Robey was for a time instructor in Bucknell Academy but this fall entered University of Pennsylvania law school. Miss Hall has also given up teaching, on account of ill health, and Myers has also deserted the educational field, having enrolled as a theological student at Susquehanna University.

Two of the class felt called to the healing of mankind, White and Hersh having enrolled at the Hahnemann Medical School in Philadelphia. A good percentage, however, felt the necessity of ministering to our social needs so that we find Tauler and Myers in the theological department at Susquehanna, Hunsberger at Crozer and Sutton already a pastor, having charge of the Centerville Baptist church.

Durham is in business at his home in Waco, Texas, and Hayes is relieving his father's business cares in Montoursville. Stahl is working in one of New York City's leading banking houses and Wilcox is with a large investment and securities company in Philadelphia.

Ralph Cook is helping his father in Vicksburg and Knapp is in business at Pikesburg. Harold Perrine is traveling representative of a large furnishings house in Philadelphia and Thompson is district representative of the Jersey Flake Ceram Co. Webster is located in East New Market, Md.

Three of the girls are enjoying paternal hospitality and care. Miss Groff is living at home in Lewisburg. Miss Hall is with her parents at Shawmut and Miss Davis is studying domestic science under parental direction in Carlisle.

A Communication.

To Editor of the Orange and Blue—In answer to your editorial of Oct. 22, asking for suggestions as to conducting the annual under-classman rush, I beg to submit the following plans:

Let the contending classes take their places on the athletic field, the one facing the east goal, the other the west one. Midway between the two goals posts have a dummy suspended in such a way that it may be readily wrung from its support and be free to be dragged over the field. Then let the contestants rush for the dummy, the freshmen endeavoring to get it to their goal and the Sophomores struggling to gain their end. After either class has gained its goal, have the signal of victory sound at once: the completion and the decision of the scrum.

A "tug of war" might also be offered as a device for determining the relative physical prowess of either class. According to this device, the classes line up on either side of some creek (say the Buffalo Creek) and tug at a strong rope or cable thrown across the creek. Whichever class pulls the other from the water, wins the tug.

The writer believes that these plans would eliminate many of the objectionable features of the scrum as now conducted, and knows no reason why they would not prove practicable and satisfactory.

Chemical and Physical Societies.
The regular Chemical and Physical society was organized for the year at a meeting held in the Chemical Laboratory, Thursday, at 4 p. m.

Seventy-five students assembled in the laboratory to take part in the business program and to hear a talk on "The Value of Chemistry in Every Day Life" by Professor Owens.

The following officers were elected:

President—Prof. Owens.
Treasurer—Owens, '09.

In addition to these officers, James, '08, and Con, '08, were appointed as a committee to consult with Prof. Owens in making out the program for the regular bi-monthly meetings.

After the business session was completed, Prof. Owens devoted the remainder of the time to an interesting address. He first set forth the purpose of the society and the good to be received from it and then showed by practical and concrete examples the great part that chemistry plays in providing for the needs of man.

Football Manager Bonded.

In accordance with the resolutions of the Athletic Association bonding the managers of the various Athletic teams, the football manager has been bonded by a bond company. The other managers will be bonded as they assume the management of their respective teams.

Philadelphia Alumnae Club.

The Bucknell Alumnae Club, of Philadelphia and vicinity, was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. K. Weaver, of Morristown, on Wednesday. An interesting program was given by Mrs. A. J. Rowland and Miss Susan Morris on "The Creoles and Creole Music and Song."

ATHLETICS AT BUCKNELL

The Rules Governing Athletics at Bucknell Codified.

During last year several slight misunderstandings regarding matters in athletics occurred, owing to a lack of definiteness and unity in the rules which govern affairs of that nature here in the College. It was therefore deemed advisable that a committee be appointed to collect and codify the various rules in force, so that future misunderstandings might be avoided.

Prof. Wolfe, Prof. Thomas and Registrar Gretzinger were accordingly appointed a committee authorized to carry out this purpose and after careful inquiry and investigation have arranged the code as given below.

It will be observed that class and inter-class athletics come under the direction of the proper authorities, and that no arrangements for games to be played elsewhere by teams as representatives of any class or organization at Bucknell may be made without these authorities' sanction.

Much credit is due the committee for the thorough manner in which they have done their work and it is expected that this systemization of athletic affairs will prove of much benefit.

1. The Athletic teams at Bucknell are in charge of an Executive board which is constituted as follows:

Each branch of athletics, namely: basketball, football, baseball, tennis, and field and track is in charge of a committee consisting of two members of the faculty or alumni, the Physical Director, the Registrar (ex officio) and the captain and manager of the respective teams. These five committees constitute the Executive board and have entire charge of athletics, subject to the control of the President of the University.

2. No person is permitted to take part in intercollegiate games unless he is a regular registered student in the University, and is taking at least 17 hours of work per week.

3. No student who is deficient in class room or rhetorical work in any term shall be eligible to be a member of a contesting athletic team.

4. No professional athlete is permitted to become a member of an athletic team at Bucknell or take part in any intercollegiate games, "summer baseball" being left to the discretion of the Executive Committee.

5. The coaching of the Athletic teams is in charge of the Physical Director of the University, who may be assisted by such Alumni as the Executive Committee may see fit to secure.

6. The number of games allowed to be played by the respective athletic teams is as follows: Football, 10; basketball, 12; and baseball, 20. At least ten of the baseball games must be at home, the number of field and track meets and tennis contests being left to the discretion of the Committee.

7. Students must satisfy the Executive Committee that they have complied with the above regulations before being allowed to participate in athletics.

HALLOW E'EN PARTY

Girls' Dramatic Club Entertainment Most Enjoyable

The Hallow E'en celebration at the Institute on Wednesday evening was of ye good old-fashioned kind, decorations, refreshments and costumes being entirely in keeping with the occasion.

Contrary to the usual custom at this affair, festivities began at dinner time. When the girls, all in fancy dress, marched into the dining room they met a true old-style witch standing guard at the door, broomstick in hand. Jack O'Lanterns lighted up a scene of unusual beauty, where Miss Wrigley and her efficient corps of helpers had made effective use of autumn fruits, vegetables, and flowers in carrying out the decorative scheme, even place cards in the form of witches' heads greeted the members of the Senior table.

After enjoying an appropriate Hallow E'en dinner, the girls filed into the gymnasium and festivities proper began. Here, too, the decorations consisted of autumn fruits, and were combined with crepe paper arranged in festoons.

Each girl, as she marched freely, of that particular class of confections guaranteed to last all day, found out by many and various means what fate has in store for her in the future. There was a peanut hunt, in which Miss Myrtle Watkinslaw, '09, proved the most skillful and carried off the prize.

The costumes surpassed any seen on similar occasions for many years past, most of them being the work of the girls themselves. Miss Sue Weddell, '09, who was artistically gowned as a field daisy carried off the prize for the most beautiful dress, and Miss Ruby Parsons, '10, as one of the golden fruits of Autumn, won the prize for the most clever. Among the other unique and appropriate costumes were those representing flowers—violets, carnations, poppies, butterflies, old-fashioned girls, Quakers, queens, milk maids, Greeks, and Mother Goose with her whole train of attendants.

Much praise is due to the committee of the Girls' Dramatic Club, who under the able supervision of Miss Schillinger spared no pains to make the party a success.

Prof. Davis Entertains. On Tuesday night a number of Prof. Davis' students in the various departments gathered, upon his invitation, at his home on South Sixth street to help Prof. and Mrs. Davis celebrate the Hallow E'en season.

The evening was spent in contests of all sorts—apple bobbing, nut races and games—and in reading with the help of Mrs. Davis, the mysteries which the future holds in store. After a beautiful repast had been served the guests departed having spent, as they all declared, one of the most delightful Hallow E'ens they had ever known.

Pittsburg Club Formed. A meeting was held Tuesday afternoon of the students in the University from the western part of the state. McCull, '07, was elected President; Gardner, '08, Vice President; Miss Weddell, '07, Secretary; and Riggs, '07, Treasurer.

The College Bible Class.

The lesson for Sunday was the conclusion of the Prologue, the Sabbath of God. The Sabbath was to the Hebrews a change from their usual activity to spiritual activity, not a day of cessation from work, but a change to spiritual work. Now the earlier part of the Prologue deals with the religious significance of light, of the firmament and so through the series to man. With man in our modern mode of thought the evolution of the species ceased, and the evolution of the spiritual began; the evolution of the social, moral and religious. Now the writer of the Prologue, speaking according to the ideas of his time, expresses the same thought, that God rested from all the worlds that he had made.

In the Way of Life meeting the subject discussed was Progress in Knowledge. "When I was a child, I reasoned as a child, but when I became a man I put away childish things." The ideas of the child are not false, but they are imperfect. He advances though doubt. His spontaneous, unreasoned belief is dissipated by some new experience. More careful reasoning and further experience lead him to a reasoned belief. All progress in knowledge of all kinds is from spontaneous belief through doubt to rational belief.

Temple Quartette Tuesday Night.

Bucknell will have the unusual opportunity Tuesday, Nov. 6th of hearing the best male quartet on the bazaar platform. Because of their phenomenal success last year the Y. M. C. A. selected them as the best attraction possible for the opening number of the greatest concert Bucknell has yet had.

The Y. M. C. A. is pleased with the way in which the students and people of Lewisburg have shown their appreciation of the course by buying season tickets. Any who have not yet availed themselves of the opportunity of purchasing tickets can secure them from Condit, '08, or at the door of the Baptist church the evening of the first entertainment, for the very moderate price of $1.50 for the first number, or fifty cents for single tickets.

Musical Treat in Store.

Lovers of real music in Bucknell and Lewisburg will have the opportunity on next Friday night of listening to such music as is seldom heard in a place of this size. Miss Emma Showers, the celebrated pianist of New York City will give a recital in Bucknell Hall, assisted by Miss Gearhart of the School of Music and by Miss Margaret Stein.

A most excellent program has been arranged in which Miss Gearhart and Miss Stein will take part. But fifty cents will be charged for admission, and such a treat as this recital will no doubt be tickets can be had at Evans and MacCallum's bookstore.

Prof. Davis to Speak.

Prof. Davis will address the next meeting of the Chemical and Physical society on Thursday, Nov. 8th, at 4 p. m. The subject of his talk will be "The Microscope in Chemistry." All students, whether members of the society or not, are invited to the meeting as the talk will be one of general interest.

BUCKNELL VICTORIOUS

University of Virginia Defeated in Splendid Game Last Saturday

On Saturday Bucknell defeated the strong University of Virginia team in the fastest and most spectacular game of football ever played in Richmond, Va. From start to finish heart thrilling plays took place that constantly kept the crowd on its feet, cheering first for one team and then for the other. The Richmond people were very liberal in their applause commending by vocal expression the excellent plays made by the visitors as well as by the Virginians.

The game started by Virginia making the kick off. The ball went straight into Clark's arms and he made a brilliant run down the center of the field for eighty yards, and had he not made the fatal error of looking back several times thereby losing distance, he would have gone over the goal line for a touch down. He was finally tackled by the fleet footed runners on the Virginia team and downed. Virginia then led Bucknell for downs and the ball was immediately kicked out of danger.

The game was now on in real earnest. The latter part of the first half by punting Clark got the ball and ran seventy yards for a touch down. Although he was tackled three times, he managed each time to get to his feet in time to elude his pursuers. The grand stand and bleachers rose to their feet and cheered and the din was almost deafening for a few minutes. The run was a clean one and both sides joined in cheering the man who made the first touch down. Virginia then took a brace and went into the game with renewed earnestness and interest. Although the ball was sawed back and forth constantly neither team scored in that half until Clark made his brilliant run near the close of the half. Captain Lenhart kicked the goal ending the first half 6-0 in Bucknell's favor.

In the second half both teams went out with a good will to determination. Bucknell held Virginia for downs forcing them to punt. Handolph fumbled the ball. Wingardner securing it and advancing it to Virginia's twenty yard line. Here Virginia was penalized for off-side playing. Baldwin made two yards and Clark plunged through the center for the remaining eight yards. Lenhart kicked the goal making the score 12-0 in Bucknell's favor. Virginia in this half several times played the double pass to perfection. Maddox got the ball in this kind of a play and went thirty yards for the only touch down made by the Virginians. The goal was missed.

The work of Clark was by far highly superior to the individual work of any other man on either team. He made substantial gains for his team whenever he was given the ball, and with one exception he invariably made distance by his low, long drives in punting the ball out of danger. It was simply impossible for the Virginia team to stop him and the only time they succeeded in doing so was when one of his kicks was blocked. This is the first time that Clark has had the ball blocked on him this season.

THE CLASS OF 1903

Where Its Members Are and what They are Doing

But a brief three years have passed since the class of 1903 turned from their Alma Mater and, with faces straight ahead, set forth to do and dare in the wide, wide world. Of the fifty-three members of the class all are living, and from all accounts, prospering.

As with the class of 1904 the teachers predominated, nearly twenty of the class either having taught or being at present engaged in school work. Business drew a fair proportion, law and medicine their share, and engineering its quota, while a number of the girls of the class have entered the realm of matrimony.

Among the teachers are Miss Butler, who is teaching in Spring Valley and Miss Garrison in Bridgeton, N. J. Miss Long and Miss Ebling are both members of the faculty of the well known Williamsport High School, in which city, too, a sister is in school work, being principal of the Penn school.

Miss Luchinger is teaching in Pittsburg, Pa. Miss Selinger in North Grand, and Ernest Taylor in the public schools of Utica, N. Y. Carl Tiffany is an instructor in the Key-Stone Academy, where John Cook is also teaching, having the department of science under his charge.

Lawrence Kalp and Sylvester Dunlap are also engaged in institutional work, the former being an instructor in the Mt. Pleasant Institute and the latter in Ligonizing County Normal at Muncy. Gunter is principal of the public schools of New Castle and Young is at the head of the Kane High School.

Three of the class felt called to relieve the physical woes of suffering humanity and are preparing to heal the sick and wounded. Saint and Walls in the University of Pennsylvania's medical department, and Maurice at one of Philadelphia's many other medical schools.

Bilger, Glasgow and Hart felt the "Call of the Wild" and are leading out-door lives as civil engineers in Slater, Mo., Greenville, Pa., and Verona, Pa., respectively. Kester is in engineering at Indianapolis, and Rhodes is taking a special course along that line in the University of Michigan.

The Law, on the extreme other hand, drew six of the class to the study of its tangled mazes. Marsh after completing a course in the Ann Arbor Law School, is visiting at home in Lewisburg, preparing for the bar in New York City. Lloyd Kalp is in business in Mt. Pleasant where he is at present the Democratic candidate for Assemblyman from the Seventeenth District of Pennsylvania.

Of those who have entered into business, two, Edwards and Jaekel are in Philadelphia and Terrell is in New York City. Lloyd Kalp is in business in Mt. Pleasant where he is at present the Democratic candidate for Assemblyman from the Seventeenth District of Pennsylvania.

A Card from Dr. Aviraagel.

All who wish to become members of the College Band will please report to-night in Room 5, in the New Building for Women at 7 p. m. Music for College Life is on hand. Practice can be set for suitable hour and can begin at once.

First at Home Next Monday.

The first at Home of the year will be held at the Institute next Monday afternoon from 4 to 6.

AN ACCOUNT OF 1904.

Four of the class are in engineering work and their success is evidence of the kind of work done in that line at Bucknell. Morris and Edwards are located with firms in Pittsburgh. Browning is with a large company in Rochester, and Johnson is with the Pennsylvania Steel Company at Harrisburg.

The legal world is as usual, well represented. Heidenreich, Caruthers, Wolfe and Karge are enrolled at Ann Arbor Law School, Deata at Columbia, Robey at University of Pennsylvania and Bacon at Yale.

Griffiths after a law course at W. U. P. is located with Willis F. McCook in the Frick Building in Pittsburgh. Leisher is reading law with Attorney Follmer at Lewisburg and Martz is doing the same with a prominent firm at Crowl.

Journalism has attracted two of the class into its field. Stevenson is on the staff of Franklin's leading paper, while Miss Bane after some work with a Philadelphia paper is now assistant to Dr. Blankall, of the American Baptist Publication Society.

Miss Leshar took Horace Greeley's advice and has gone west to grow up with the country, being at present located in Timpani, Col. Cule, on the contrary is in the East, studying in the Boston School of Oratory.

One of the class in the wisdom of the all-wise Father has been removed from earthly life to "rest on immortality." Gould Carrier of Summerville contracted typhoid fever and died at his home in that place. He had entered into business there and had made fair to force rapidly ahead on the road to success when the call came to go up higher. His death is a loss to the class and to the community in which he lived.

Many Bucknell Men in Attendance.

The Baptist State Anniversary which was held at Hollidaysburg during the past week was largely Bucknellian in its make up, some twenty graduates and representatives of the College being in attendance.

Among those enrolled were President Harris, '06; Prof. Phillips, '02; Prof. Hare, '02; J. S. James, '08; Charles Walker, '09; C. A. Sears, '08; E. N. Huff, '01; Roger Williams, '02; J. S. Wrightman, '09; S. F. Forges, '02; B. Mac Maclin, '04; E. C. Kunkle '08; H. I. Stewart, '09; F. I. Sigmund, '05; John Sherman, '06; George Alexander, '01; C. F. Hall, ex-'05; Professor Edwards and Rev. J. T. Judd.

Republican Club Organized.

On Thursday night an enthusiastic body of students assembled in Room 11 and organized The Republican Club of Bucknell.

Etrass, '07, was elected President. Hulley, '07, Sec.; Burton, '08, Treas.; and Harris, '08, Vice President. Burrows, '07, Irey, '08, Hayes, '08, and Bracken, special, were appointed a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws.

Editorial

When the season ticket plan was inaugurated here at Bucknell a year ago it was hoped that athletics would be put on a sound financial basis, and that the painful deficit of former years would have become a thing of the past. Endorsed by the Faculty and a representative following of the students, this plan was expected to clear the financial skies of all their lurking clouds of debt and despair.

Has the plan accomplished the desired result? It has not. Then where must we place the blame? Where, but upon the fellows who have failed to respond to the urgent needs of Bucknell's athletics? Upon the fellows who have not manifested their pride in their Alma Mater, and their desire to see her keep in the foreground of the collegiate field, by buying a season ticket?

In many of the colleges the purchase of a season ticket is compulsory by school requirements, or an athletics fee is imposed upon every student. Unfortunately this plan is impossible here for reasons that are generally known throughout the student body.

But compulsory subscription to athletics should not be necessary with us. We should have patriotism enough and pride enough in ourselves and in Bucknell to do this thing of our own accord.

It may be argued that some of the students cannot afford to purchase a ticket. We grant that many of us must watch carefully over all our expenditures; that it is a most difficult thing for us to keep ourselves here honestly and in decent circumstances. Many of us are working our way through college and with us every cent has a distinct value.

But if we come to look into the matter closely, we find that the very men who have to struggle hardest are the ones who are most patriotic in this regard. The men who can least afford to indulge in any recreation or evidence any spirit that is at all expensive are the ones who are holding season tickets. The careless and indifferent ones are found almost entirely among the ranks of those who have little to worry about concerning money matters.

There is no need to urge the advantages to ourselves of holding a season ticket. We do not, it is true, get much return this year so far as football is concerned, but conservative estimate will show that more than fifty per cent. is saved on the price of the ticket. If we see all the basketball and baseball games scheduled for home.

This is not the question at issue, however. The whole matter lies in these questions: Are we or are we not true Bucknellians? Do we or do we not take pride in the College which we call our own? If we do care for Bucknell and if we desire to see her take her rightful place in the college world, shall we not give evidence of it? If we do not love and cherish Bucknell—well, the fact said about us, then, the better.

Bartholomew is in business in Sunbury and Moorehead, in Milton, while John Snow has gone to the far west, having settled in Ottawa, Kansas. Dershimer is located in Scranton and John Brandt is receiving tetter for the Harrisburg Trust Company.

Prof. Sidel is a practicing chemist in Milwaukee, Wis., and Miss Sidel is taking a three years course in trained nursing in the hospital at Wilkesburg, near Pittsburgh. Bliss is still studying, being now engaged in post-graduate work at Cornell University.

Three of the girls of the class added a name to the ones by which they were known here. Miss Grace Roberts became the wife of Prof. Perrine, one of the members of Bucknell's Faculty. Miss Ayres married Mr. Ernest Taylor, of Ithaca, N. Y., where they are now living. Miss Boyce was married to Mr. Garrison, and is now living in Geneva, N. Y.

In the ministerial world six of the men are making their start. Bresnahan is pastor of one of the churches of Ringoes, N. J.; Sheldon is provost of at Jacobusburg, Ohio; and Roger Williams, after graduating at Crozer Theological Seminary, accepted a call to Newberry, Pa.

Howard Williams graduated from Crozer and Elmhurst and Perbell from Rochester. They have not yet accepted calls to pastorate and are at present at home.

Three of the girls have so far resisted any inclination towards professional or matrimonial life. Miss Charlotte Shields is living at home in Lewisburg and Hannah Goodman is still domiciled with her parents in Philadelphia.

Eva Coleman is still Miss Coleman and is living at home in Reynoldsville, Pa., while Martha Thomas, after having taught for some time in Indiana, has returned to the shelter of the paternal roof in Frostburg, Md.

The Literary Societies.

The regular programs of both literary societies gave way Friday night to addresses by members of the Faculty. Prof. Perrine addressed Euphonia on Eloquence, and Prof. Nevins related to Theta Alpha some of his experiences abroad last summer.

Prof. Perrine, before discussing his subject, related his connection with the literary society of his preparatory school, and made a very unfavorable comparison between the lagging interest which he found evidenced in such matters in college and the enthusiasm and spirit manifested by his former preparatory school-fellows.

He then entered upon a clear and concise exposition of Eloquence, saying that it cannot be defined; that it involves more than is in the voice and lips. Quotations were given from eminent orators on eloquence and made of some of the men who have won renown in the field of Oratory.

Dr. Stephens addressed the members of the Ministerial Association at their regular meeting held on Thursday afternoon, in Euphonia Hall. His subject was "The Call to the Ministry."

THE CLASS OF 1902

What the Lapse of Four Years Has Brought About For Its Members.

Of the forty-nine men and women who four years ago last June stood upon the platform of Commencement Hall and received their diplomas, probably but a very few realized in any measure what this brief four years' time held in store for them. Eleven states and territories are now represented in their roster, and as far southward as Florida and westward as Colorado they are doing their share in the work of the world.

By far the greatest proportion of the class have entered into educational work and we find the teachers of the class everywhere making their mark. Pennsylvania's schools naturally come in for the largest representation though we find Miss Bacon in Mt. Holly, N. J., and Miss Lacey an instructor in Leland University, New Orleans, La. Columbia, S. C. holds Kyle as an instructor in Benedict College and Holly is Principal of the Pomona, Florida, high school. Maryland also holds a teacher from the class in the person of Charles Boyer, who is instructor in English in Strayer's College, Baltimore.

In the legal world, Zerby and McCracken have already been admitted to the bar. Zerby in Baltimore and McCracken in Chefield. Stanton after serving some time as Physical Director in Denison University has entered the legal department of the Western Reserve University where he is fitting himself to guide his clients through the mazes and perplexities of the relations under the law.

Medicine proved its drawing powers as well, and four of the class have entered that field of usefulness. Elliott after graduating from medical school has been appointed resident physician in the State Hospital for the Insane at Harrisburg, while Harvey and Williams are enrolled in University of Pennsylvania's medical department and Manuel is a "med" at Johns Hopkins.

Burrows and English end the list. They have both entered into chemical work and are chemists for large steel companies in McKeesport, Pa.

A Bucknell Band.

Editor of The Orange and Blue:—I noticed in a recent issue a communication from Dr. Aylingnet calling for a meeting of all those interested in a College Band.

The idea is certainly a most excellent one. Why should we not have a college band and a good one? We have plenty of talent along musical lines in the University to organize a band that would be a credit to the institution. Can we not get together and put this talent to some use? I feel confident that if the matter were given notice and attention that more than sufficient interest and enthusiasm could be aroused to lend to the organization of a Bucknell band in which we could all take pride.

I take the liberty of addressing this communication, through you, to the student body with the hope that responses may be elicited that shall be productive of what I feel sure we all want and would be pleased to have. Won't others come forward with plans for the organization and carrying out of such a project?

COLLEGE WOMEN ENTERTAIN

The First "At Home" of the Year A Grand Success.

This afternoon from four o'clock until six the Faculty and members of the Department for Women and of the Institute entertained their friends in the first "At Home" of the year. The guests upon arriving were welcomed by the Reception Committee composed of Dean and Mrs. Edwards, Miss Bush, Dr. Aylingnet, Miss Shillinger, and Miss Darlington, the heads of their various departments.

The usual decorations were not in order this time, Christy pictures and reproductions of Dutch masterpieces forming the basis of the decorative scheme. Their tasteful arrangement did great credit to the committee having that part of the affair in charge. Refreshments were served during the course of the afternoon by a most efficient corps of the Sophomore girls and chat and music and numberless introductions made the two brief hours pass all too quickly for both hosts and guests.

At six o'clock the guests departed, regretting only the fact that events of this nature are not of more frequent occurrence, and hoping soon to hear of the announcement of another.

Bucknell To Play Gettysburg.

Arrangements have been about completed to play the strong Gettysburg College football team on Nov. 24th. In all probability the game will be played at Milton. The price for general admission will be 10 cents, grand stand 15 cents extra, boys under 15 years of age, 15 cents. Athletic Association season tickets will be honored for this game, but holders will be required to present their season tickets to the treasurer before the game and secure a special ticket for presentation at the game. Season tickets will not be honored at the gate.

The Gettysburg game should prove a big attraction as the battlefield boys are putting up a fine article of football. The committee is to be congratulated upon securing the game for it will give the student body and other friends an opportunity to see a good game at home. It will cost considerable money, however, to put it on, and every student, therefore, is urged to do his utmost to make it a financial success.

Since the above went to press, it has been learned that the game will probably be transferred to Lewisburg because of the unfitness of the field at Milton for football.

Bucknell Men Elected to Office.
In the elections of last week several Bucknell alumni were honored by election to office in different parts of the State.

In Philadelphia, Mr. Ernest L. Tustin, of the class of 1881 was elected by a handsome plurality State Senator on the Republican ticket. In Erie county Mr. M. W. Schrevel, also of 1881 was elected Assemblyman by his many Republican friends and admirers.

In Lackawanna county W. M. Russell of the class of 1887 was elected Democratic Prothonotary in a county normally Republican while in the Seventeenth Legislative District, J. Lloyd Kalp, of 1903, was defeated for Democratic Assembly by only a narrow margin.

One of the simplest games of football ever played between under-class teams on the Athletic Field was that on Saturday afternoon between '09 and '10, resulting in favor of the latter by the score 3-0.

The Freshman won the toss and elected to defend the west goal taking advantage of the slight breeze. The Sophomores kicked to Schenck who punted back. After trying the line three times the ball went over and from that time on the Freshmen kept the oval continuously in their opponent's territory. With three minutes left to play and the ball on the twelve yard line, Jones made a pretty forward pass but the score was not allowed as the ball was passed a little over the line.

The Sophomores kicked out and the Freshmen immediately began to rear holes in their opponent's line until the ball was again dangerously near the goal line. With a half minute to play Townsend drop-kicked a pretty field goal from the 35-yard line. Score 4-0.

In the second half the Freshmen got the ball after the first few minutes of play and were never held for downs. Heemer finally scoring. Goal was missed, the ball striking one of the posts. Score 5-0. During the latter part of the half the Sophomores took a brace and worked the ball well into '10's territory but were unable to score.

About the middle of the last half the appearance of a gorgeous Orange and Black banner with '10 upon it brought from within the Gym attracted the attention of the Sophomore rooters and a rush was on immediately.

While the excitement was on here, however, a '09 banner was flung to the breeze from the top of a tall tree on the Campus and the Freshmen, in turn, attempted to send a man up the tree at the farther end of the Athletic Field with a '10 banner. The tree being of considerable size, the progress of the man was necessarily slow, and before he could grasp the first high branches the Sophomores pulled him down into the struggling crowd.

No bad results attended the rush and the game and the scrimmage were seemingly only productive of a stronger class spirit and enthusiasm. The Freshmen and Sophomore girls attended in separate bodies and added much zest to the occasion with their songs and cheers and the music of their tin horns.

The line up of the game was as follows:

SOPHOMORES: FRESHMEN:

Looney, I. B., G. Peter, Humm (Boyer), L. T., Schenck, Johnson, J. G., Werner, Pries, C., Baskins, Timlin, R. G., Edmunds, Foster, R. T., Browne, Ogden, H. E., Knapp (Huston), Matthias, Q. B., Jones, Ritter, R. H. B., Liddy, Granfield, L. H. B., Townsend, Haggerty, P. B., Boomer, Goal from field, Townsend, Touchdown, Boomer, Referee, Prof. Thomas, Umpire, Prof. Wolfe, Head line-man, Piersol, '08, Timers, Miller, '07, Steele, '08, Time of halves, 20 minutes.

Mock Trial Postponed.
The inter-society mock court trial scheduled for Friday night has been postponed.

BUCKNELL DOWNS V. P. I.

Orange and Blue Wins Good Game at Norfolk on Saturday

Bucknell won in football from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute team, at Norfolk, Va., on Saturday by the score of 10 to 0. The game was brilliant in parts. Bucknell did not play in her usual form, and there seemed to be lacking the "get there" spirit so predominant in the game with the University of Virginia, the preceding Saturday. From the start it was quite evident that V. P. I. had a stronger team than many people supposed, and it was also quite apparent that Bucknell would win out in the end. In kicking Bucknell was highly superior to V. P. I. and when ever Clark punted he invariably gained the ten yards for his team on the exchange. It was his pretty forward work that gave Bucknell her score in the middle of the first half when he kicked a goal on a drop kick from the twenty-five yard line. It was a very pretty exhibition of kicking had brought forth great applause from the stands. This was the only scoring in the first half, which ended four to nothing in Bucknell's favor.

In the second half both teams went in with stiffened determination. After a series of plays near the middle of the half, V. P. I. got the ball and one of their players got away for an apparent touchdown. It was not allowed, however, by the officials, on account of holding, the ball being brought back and the Polytechnic boys given the consequent penalty. The V. P. I. man also secured the ball on this play and made a seventy-five yard run, started just as the whistle was blown for holding. He did not heed the call of the whistle but kept on until he went behind the goal posts. This to the crowd looked like a touchdown, but it clearly was no score. While the V. P. I. man was logging down the field, the Bucknell team made only feeble efforts to stop him, having paid attention to the whistle. It would have been good football, however, to have dived the man even though the whistle had blown.

Latter in the second half, V. P. I. attempted to punt, the kick was blocked and Captain Lehart secured the ball and made a touchdown. He kicked the goal, making the score 10 to 0 in favor of Bucknell. The V. P. I. coach contested the touchdown on the ground that the man who kicked the ball was interfered with after he had made the attempt to punt and that he could not in consequence recover the ball, which was "anybody's ball" after he kicked it. He became unduly excited and ordered his team from the field and then still further losing his head, started an argument with the referee regarding the matter. The crowd seeing the V. P. I. coach gesticulating in front of the referee, and not understanding the matter, rushed on the field and threatened the official who was immediately surrounded by police and friends. After some minutes the field was cleared and upon the request of the officials and the advice of cool headed friends of the V. P. I. the team returned to the field and play was resumed, the game ending in three minutes.

Alumni News

Dr. George Shortley, '92, of Camden, Maine, spent last week renewing old acquaintances in Lewisburg.

The Linden Baptist church, of Camden, N. J., has extended a call to Rev. Chas. Goodall, class '02, to become assistant pastor.

A son was born last week to W. T. Coverdale, '06, and Mrs. Coverdale, at Bella Branch, Mich., where Mr. Coverdale is preaching.

Rev. A. C. Lathrop, '94, has resigned his charge in Milesburg to accept the pastorate of the First Baptist church of Clearfield. Rev. C. F. Hall, of Dixonville, a former member of '95, has been elected to fill the vacancy at Milesburg caused by Mr. Lathrop's resignation.

Christopher Matthewson, Jr., is the name of the boy that arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Matthewson in New York City recently. His father was a member of the '02 class and has attained great celebrity in the baseball world. His mother is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Soughton, of Lewisburg.

Co-operative Store Successful.

At the University of Tennessee the co-operative book store has become a success and the profits accrue to the benefit of the various student enterprises. At a recent meeting of the bookstore company at that institution the success of the concern was reported as follows:

It has always been the plan of the store to pay a small dividend and give the remainder to student enterprises. This fall the football suits were donated by the store, $60 was voted for advertising in The Orange and White and The Magazine, and the remaining $25 of the $200 set aside for donation was given to the Y. M. C. A. to assist in building a swimming pool in the Association building.

Matriculation Nov. 26.

On the above date all new students who qualify will be formally received into the College. According to the catalogue matriculation gives membership in the College and is a condition precedent to all degrees and honors as well as honorable dismissal. No student is admitted to matriculation until he has shown by his class work during at least ten weeks and by his department that he is worthy of membership in the College.

It is to be hoped that all new students have been and are putting forth their best efforts to come up to the necessary standards.

Noted Y. M. C. A. Man Coming.

On Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 10th and 11th, N. C. McMillan, Jr., of New York City will be here to address a Bible Institute to be held in the Y. M. C. A. room.

Mr. McMillan is associate secretary of the Students' Bible Study Department of the International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations. A most profitable meeting is expected.

At the regular Y. M. C. A. meeting on Thursday night Prof. Phillips will give a short talk on "The Ethics of Jesus."

Miss Bush at Golden Wedding.

Miss Bush has gone to her home in Jamestown, N. Y., to attend the golden wedding of her parents, the Rev. Mr. A. D. Bush and wife. This pleasant event is being celebrated to-day by a series of elaborate social functions.

Miss Bush's many friends at Bucknell unite in extending heartiest congratulations to her parents on this happy occasion.

Tailor-Made Suits

During the week we received another line of Tailored Suits, showing that we are keeping up with the times, for as soon as there is anything new on the market we always take advantage of it and purchase the new thing.

By shopping here you are posted with what are shown by the leading manufacturers from New York, Philadelphia and Cleveland.

Among the arrivals are blacks, blues, browns and mixtures. As the present season is not cold enough for Heavy Coats, you will at once notice that Suits are preferable, and we are showing them from $3.00 up to $35.00.

Many charming styles can be seen and every taste gratified. You can safely choose at once from our extensive line for there will be few, if any, handsome costumes than this showing comprises.

Editorial.

"Eternal vigilance," said Patrick Henry, "is the price of liberty." So, too, eternally keeping it must, it would seem, be the price of that spirit and enthusiasm which should be so prominent in everything connected with the college, but which is so often woefully lacking.

"We're here because we're here" is the refrain so often dimmed into our ears, and, sad to say, it seems to be about the only reason many of us can advance for our being enrolled among the student body at Bucknell.

We care nothing for athletics; we take no interest in class matters; we give no attention to any of the various activities of the college about us.

A chance is coming now for us all to show our spirit and our patriotism. On November twenty-sixth we are to have a football game with Gettysburg College at Milton—a game which will be an expensive one and which must have the enthusiastic support of the entire student body to make it a success financially and otherwise.

Will you give your support? If you have not bought a season ticket, will you do so now? Will you spread the news of this game abroad among your friends at home and in this vicinity? Will you do all that you can to stir up interest and increase the attendance? Lastly, will you lend your moral aid with your presence, your voices, your encouragement, your votes? Get ready to help make this game what it should be—a big success.

It is gratifying, indeed, to the management of the Orange and Blue to notice the renewed interest which the Alumni of the College seem to be taking in the paper. Not alone is this evidenced in the goodly number of subscriptions that are coming in, but in the good wishes expressed in accompanying letters and the timely bits of news conveyed therewith, as well.

Our request in a recent issue for the co-operation of the Alumni in making the paper newsworthy and interesting has not been without fruit. May we not have more of it? Will you not let us know about yourself and your friends? We shall most deeply appreciate the favor and you will be helping us to broaden and strengthen the University's influence and good name, in that the college paper is so much a type of the college itself. Help us to help Bucknell.

Bucknell Downs V. P. I.

To the credit of both teams it remains to be said that none of the players or substitutes took any part in the trouble. The entire matter was precipitated by the V. P. I. coach who took the wrong time and place to argue the matter.

The whole affair is to be regretted at this time since football is "on trial" this season and many colleges stand ready if the rules do not eliminate roughness, and rowdiness does not cease, to cast the game loose as a college sport.

The lineup:—

V. P. I. HUCKNEILL.

Solan L. E. . . . Wingardner.

Diffendal L. T. . . . Sayre.

Cunningham L. G. . . . W. Hawk.

Johnson Centre O'Brien.

Goodwin R. G. . . . Shade.

Branch R. T. . . . Lehart.

Vanner R. E. . . . Hayes.

Wilson Quarterback Niple.

Luttrell L. H. B. . . . McNinch.

Nutter R. H. B. . . . Baldwin.

Hodgson.

Smith Fullback Clark.

Goal from drop kick, Clark; town-down, Lehart; goal from touchdown, Lehart. Referee, Merman M. Sturges, Princeton; Umpire Sol, Metzger, Univ. of Penna.; Linesman, W. S. Weber, Univ. of North Carolina. Time of halves, 25 minutes each.

Bible Study Institute in Session.

A Bible Study Institute was conducted here under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday and Sunday by Mr. Neil McMillan, Jr., of Chicago, International Secretary of the Bible Study Department. Mr. E. E. Bohmer, Student State Secretary, was also present and assisted.

The following program of messages and sermons was carried out:

1:00 P. M., Saturday, "The Problem of Enrollment," Mr. McMillan.

7:00 P. M., Saturday, "College Men and the Bible," Mr. McMillan.

2:00 P. M., Sunday, "Bible Class Leaders," and "Preparation for and Conduct of Class Hour," Mr. McMillan and Mr. Bohmer.

6:15 P. M., Sunday, "Bible Group and Evange-lism," Mr. Bohmer.

The Temple Quartet.

If the first number on the Y. M. C. A. course is any indication of what is to follow, the students and public may well give their most liberal patronage to the remaining recitals.

The Temple Quartet, assisted by Miss Cole as Reader, gave a thoroughly good concert on Tuesday evening in the Baptist church. The program was good and was well rendered in every particular.

Prof. Paul M. Pearson of Swarthmore fills the second number on Dec. 7th, and judging from the reports of local people who have heard him, his interpretation of Riley, Fields, Dunbar and the rest is second to none. A crowded house would greet this and the remaining numbers of the course.

Sophomores and Freshmen Rush.

On Monday night there seemed to be a spirit of restlessness abroad on the Hill which culminated in a regularly organized rush between the two under classes. The Athletic field was the scene of the rush which was supervised by upper classesmen, the judges giving their decision in favor of the Freshmen.

SEASON TICKET SALES

Only One Hundred and Forty Sold to Date Among the Students.

The records of the treasurer of the Athletic Association show that only one hundred and forty season tickets have been sold among the students of the University. Of these 1907 have purchased twenty-eight, 1908 thirty-four, 1909 thirty-four and 1910 forty-four.

Such a showing is certainly a very poor one—a showing of which we may well be ashamed in that it displays not only a lack of patriotism and pride, but a want of common sense and good reasoning, as well.

A careful and conservative estimate of the returns one gets from a season ticket is this: Football, (this year's home schedule being granted as unusually poor) $1.25; Basketball, $3.90; Baseball, $2.50; Membership in the Association, $1.00; Total, $8.65. The returns, however, will be really greater than these since not a few of the basketball and baseball games will be thirty-five cent games, while the figures are based upon a twenty-five cent basis. Besides, the three track meets annually given are not included at all.

Then, too, the assurance of an ample fund for expenses which a sufficient sale of season tickets would give, would enable the various managers to reckon upon a larger expense margin and would consequently result in the procurement of stronger teams to play here, with better and faster games.

Why can't we get together in this matter and see that the right thing is done concerning it? Every student in the University should be the holder of a ticket. The classes should vie with each other in seeing which class should lead in the percentage of members holding tickets.

The fraternities, instead of quarreling among themselves as to division of offices, should rather see to it, as one fraternity has done, that every man affiliated with them does his duty by the College in the matter of supporting, not directing, athletics.

The non-fraternity men should set an example to the men of the fraternities in this matter. Everybody, in fact, Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, Freshmen, Specials, should make it a point to be the possessor of a season ticket before the close of another day.

Elliott-Dunkle.

Cards are out announcing the wedding of Dr. Calvin H. Elliott, of 1902, and Miss Nellie J. Dunkle, of 1899, Institute. The wedding, which took place on Saturday, September 15th in Philadelphia, has been successfully kept secret until the announcement recently made.

Dr. and Mrs. Elliott are at home to their friends at No. 311 South Sixth street, Lewisburg.

Prof. Martin's Son To Be Married.

The engagement of Miss Helen C. Yates, of Warren, Pa., to Mr. James B. Martin, a former member of 1901, was announced November 9th.

Mr. Martin is a son of Prof. Wm. E. Martin and is the representative of one of New York's leading musical managers, while Miss Yates is prominent in the younger set of Warren. Many telegrams of congratulations are being received by the young people.

Bucknell Rooters in the South.

Bucknell was not without grand stand support at both Richmond and Norfolk in the recent games with Virginia and U. P. I.

At Richmond the team found an ardent cheerer and enthusiastic backer in Mrs. Florence Stoner-McCosh, of the class of 1885, Institute, a sister-in-law of Registrar Gretzinger.

Mrs. McCosh brought a party of friends with her all the way from Roanoke, N. C., to cheer for Bucknell, and their ardent sympathy must surely have proved a help to the team.

Hon. Cyrus T. Fox, of Reading, an old friend of Mr. Gretzinger, is sojourning in Richmond, and hearing that Pennsylvanians were going to play, he rounded up a goodly number of the "Pennsylvania Colony" of Richmond and took them with him to the game to root for "Gretz's team."

At Norfolk Mr. Fox and some friends were present, and Earle Phillips, '06, and John Stephens, '01, together with our genial "Chaplain Jones" were also in attendance.

Don't for the Gettysburg Game.

1st. Don't forget that everybody should be there.

2nd. Don't forget that both Colleges' colors are Orange and Blue and that you should wear some distinguishing mark besides colors.

3rd. Don't fail to turn out to the mass meetings on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday nights. Registrar V. C. Gretzinger and others worth hearing will speak.

4th. Don't fail to learn the songs which the management of the "Orange and Blue" has had printed for your benefit, and a copy of which is enclosed with your paper. Don't—please don't—sing from a paper on Saturday.

5th. Above all, don't fail to remember to keep off the field of play—to keep outside the ropes. The new rules impose a heavy penalty on the home team for violation of this rule by any spectators. Don't forget it.

Summer Assembly Arrangements.

The Summer Assembly of the Baptist Young People's Union of Pennsylvania, which was such a success last summer is to be repeated during the coming summer, the sessions to last from July 31st to August 9th.

Mr. L. C. Walkinshaw, of Greensburg, the secretary of the Union has appointed the following committee of arrangements: Rev. J. T. Judd, Dean T. A. Edwards, Registrar Wm. C. Gretzinger, Prof. W. G. Owens and Mr. Elkannah Hully.

Bucknell is well represented among the officers of the Union, Rev. W. M. Courson, '96, of Washington, being President and Lewis C. Walkinshaw, '96, being Secretary, while several other Bucknell men are prominent in its activities.

Another Bucknell Assemblyman.

Bucknell will be well represented in Pennsylvania legislative halls this session. The election of R. L. Tustin, '84, and M. W. Shreve, '84, was noted last week. Besides these Wm. L. Nesbitt, of the class of 1860 was elected Republican Assemblyman from Northumberland county, being the only Republican elected from that district.

GETTYSBURG NEXT SATURDAY

Bucknell's Leading Game of the Season on Nov. 24th

By far the most important football event of the season for Bucknell is the game to be played here on Saturday with the strong team from Gettysburg College. The game was originally scheduled to be played at Milton but owing to the condition and size of the field there, it was decided to transfer it here.

Great preparations are being made by the local athletic authorities to make the contest a success in every sense of the word. The Pennsylvania and Reading railroads will give special excursion rates and extensive advertising is being done in all the surrounding section of the state and a great crowd is expected.

The game bids fair to be one of the closest and most interesting ever played in Central Pennsylvania. Both teams are exceptionally strong this year, and, in the judgment of competent critics are about evenly matched.

Gettysburg played State to a standstill with a score of 0-0 and broke even with University of Pennsylvania with a score of 6-6. Last Saturday they defeated the strong Medico-Chi team by a score of 12-5 in a very hard played game. Bucknell's excellent work this year is too well known among us to need repetition. Individually, Gettysburg's team is composed of some very strong men. Sieber, the left half-back, has been doing sensational work this year and is attracting attention all over the football world. He is a former Lewisburg boy, being the son of L. L. Sieber, once pastor of the Lutheran church. Lammert, the famous quarterback has been doing phenomenal work this season. Welmer is another star and his foot work as full-back is said to be equal to our own Jimmy Clark's. The whole team, in fact, is exceptionally strong.

The game will be played under this year's regulations prescribed by the new rules committee. Ropes will be stretched around the gridiron and no one will be allowed inside the ropes except the officials and players, under penalty to the home team. Several police from another city have been engaged to patrol the grounds. These police will be instructed to eject anyone without tickets, consequently it will be necessary to wear your ticket conspicuously.

Tickets have been on sale in town at Heiser's and Baker's drug stores since last Wednesday, at 50 cents each. The game is an expensive one and it is necessary to sell every ticket possible. A liberal patronage is therefore asked of all in order that the success of the game may insure others like it here in coming seasons.

The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock sharp; and as there will likely be an immense crowd it will be well to be there on time. Let the student body bear in mind that a good strong cheering section is needed and endeavor to get together as will be suggested in the mass meetings during the week.

Williamsport-Bucknell Club To Feast.

The Club will hold their first social event of the term at Madame Hutch's parlors next Saturday at six o'clock. Chicken and waffles will be served.

The College Bible Class.

The relation of Genesis to present day discussion was the subject. The author of Genesis, like Plato and the Babylonian Epic of Creation, wrote from the scientific standpoint of his time. Since then the development of Biology, Astronomy, etc., has helped much in the solution of the problem, which is an eternal one. It is not probable that at any step of advancement, the finite mind can comprehend fully the universe and its author. The agnostic declares any knowledge of the origin of the world impossible. This is the attitude of despair. The attitude of faith is that there may be real, though limited, knowledge of God's works. The progress of knowledge has only enriched and strengthened the religious and moral truths of the prodig.

In the Way of Life meeting, the topic was Decision of Character. Decision gives internal unity and energy, relieves from external opposition and promotes influence on others.

Keystone Club Organizes.

The Bucknell-Keystone club held its first meeting of the year Friday night in Room 2, West Wing, occupied by Gibson and Smith. The evening was enjoyably spent by all present in the playing of games and singing, the refreshments being by no means the least enjoyable feature of the gathering.

After the social session, the club re-organized for the present year. The following officers were elected: Elkanah B. Hully, '07, president; W. W. Gibson, '09, secretary; William Elisser, '07, treasurer; Gibson, Conn and Baldwin, '08, were appointed a committee on meetings. Six new members were elected, all Freshmen; Miss May Wright, Messrs. Besmer, Smith, Bakerley, Quintin, Mitch.

The membership of the club at present numbers twenty-one active and seven honorary.

Builder of West College Ill.

Mr. Joseph C. Nesbitt, a former member of the class of '08, and the contractor who built West College, is recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever at Roanoke, Va., where he has been engaged in some of his business operations. His son, Dr. Edwin L. Nesbitt, '06, of Bryn Mawr, is at home, convalescing from a severe attack of the same disease.

Romantic Wedding.

Joannette, Pa., was the scene of a delightful romance, in the wedding and winning of a bride by James Madden, formerly of 1905. In a drama which was given by local talent Mr. Madden took the leading role of a lover, and so ardently did he woo that he won the heart of Miss Myrtle Randolph, who was assisting in the play, and a real wedding followed.

Mr. Gretzinger Attends Funeral.

Registrar Gretzinger recently attended the funeral of his old friend and preceptor, the late Almer K. Stauffer, Esq., a prominent lawyer of Reading.

Attorney Johnson to Speak.

Hon. A. W. Johnson will address the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday night on "Law as a Life Work." The students in the Jurisprudence course are especially invited.

BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY

Substantial Increase to Volumes Made Recently.

The Library was the recipient during the past week of a gift of books from one of Bucknell's staunch and earnest friends, Mr. Edwin Henry Sibley, of Arcadia Place, Franklin, Penna.

The collection, consisting of nearly two hundred volumes, comprises works on Political Science, Oratory, Greek History and Literature, American History, Travel and Fiction, together with bound volumes of The Century Magazine. Several volumes of technical matter on Chemistry and Engineering are also included in the list.

Mr. Sibley is one of the prominent business men of the western part of the State, but he has found time in the midst of business cares and vexations to achieve an enviable reputation in literary and scholarly circles, as well.

His "Administration of Life" is an ideal one. It reads as follows: "To be helpful, courageous, and self-controlled; to cultivate a taste for what is simple, natural, and wholesome; to be a diligent, faithful worker and make due provision for the future; to prize bodily exercise, recreation, sunshine, and the open air; to shun bigotry and morbid religious excitement, but above all else to love and serve the cause of truth and righteousness; to cherish home and friends as special boons vouchsafed by Heaven; to keep the heart always young and the mind even zealous for further enlightenment and progress—such a life shall find earth's richest treasures, and be held in grateful remembrance; for it shall hasten the coming of that new and glorious era in which peace, justice and wisdom shall everywhere prevail."

Mr. Sibley's interest in the University's welfare is duly appreciated and he may feel assured that he has put his books where they will prove of lasting use and benefit.

Communication.

Mr. Editor:—May I suggest that it would be a courteous thing for the student body to meet the Gettysburg College Team upon their arrival at 5:50 Friday evening and escort them to their headquarters at the Cameron House. It would be a fine display of inter-collegiate courtesy on the part of Bucknell undergraduates. Alumnus, Lewisburg, Pa., November 16, 1906.

The Literary Societies.

"Roosevelt" was the topic for discussion in Enigma, Friday night, the meeting being of an unusual character and highly successful.

Schenck, '10, told about Roosevelt, the Policeman; Steele, '08, the Warrior; Potter, '07, the Author; Claypoole, '09, the Citizen; and Hully, '07, the Statesman.

Delta Theta Upsilon Dance.

Delta Theta Upsilon fraternity held their second informal dance of the year in their halls on Friday night. Twenty couples spent a very pleasant evening, the Imperial Orchestra furnishing the music for their enjoyment.

Editorial

There is a day's delay in getting the paper to the subscribers this week, occasioned by our desire to give fuller particulars concerning the coming Gettysburg game.

Again and again, and yet once again shall we harp upon enthusiasm for Bucknell athletics, and above all, upon the routing of the proper spirit regarding next Saturday's big game. Our opportunity is a hard won to show what can be done by us along these lines, if we are really in earnest.

The Gettysburg game will, first of all, be a most expensive one. We need every ticket sold that can possibly be sold, and a few more, besides. Interest your friends, then, in and around Lewisburg, and in the neighboring towns. Get them here for "the big game" and show them what Bucknell can do when we wish to.

Then having gotten here every friend and stranger possible, be mindful about your own financial duty. Buy a season ticket and show thereby your patriotism. Buy a general admission ticket too, and take a friend with you.

Other things are necessary, too, besides financial support. Time and again has it been said that nothing spurs a man to achievement like encouragement and enthusiasm. Here again each and every one of us can make himself invaluable. Let us get out to mass meetings and learn the songs that have been especially prepared for this game. Let us, too, not be afraid to join in the cheering and, say—let us not forget our homes and megaphones.

Last of all, let those of us who have the physique and the endurance come out and give the team something to do in practice this week. They need the hardest kind of practice to enable them to get the best results out of their own work. Don't be afraid to be a "scrub." Be a true Bucknellian and whether "scrub" or "varsity" be your team you will not fail of the credit due you.

Everybody, then—let everybody do his whole duty regarding this game. Financial support is needed; moral support is needed; what skill and aptitude for football you may have is needed; you are needed. Don't fail to do your share.

An excellent communication of an editorial nature was received this week and will be given publication in a later issue when it can be given the consideration it deserves.

Things New About the Library. It may not be amiss to mention a few things in this issue concerning some improvements and changes that have been made at the Library during the past summer. Since its completion and opening there has been an awakening on the part of the students in regard to its completeness and advantages. The small inconvenient place of a few years ago was not one to arouse enthusiasm for reading or library work and the result was a lack of interest on the part of the student body.

The old quarters, however, have given place to a commodious, well-lighted and well-ventilated building of which Bucknell may well be proud and to which the students' steps should eagerly turn.

This summer the books remaining in the old building were transferred to the new, and the thousands of volumes and pamphlets re-classified and re-arranged. The Dewey system of classification is giving thorough satisfaction and facilities for reference work are up-to-date in every particular.

There are but few grounds for complaint any longer, the chief of them being the tendency on the part of the students to withdraw books and keep them withdrawn for long periods. This is particularly exasperating in the case of books of reference in the various departments. Often there is but one copy of a needed book in the library and to withdraw that book from circulation for an indefinite time is an injustice not only to the library authorities but to the student body, as well.

Professor Martin and his able and energetic corps of assistants are doing their utmost to render the library and its facilities of advantage and profit to all, and it should be the aim and wish of all the students to extend their hearty co-operation in making the library exert its proper influence in shaping the tone of the College life.

Bucknell in Siam.

Miss Nina Plann, a graduate of the Institute, '04, sails for Siam on Nov. 20th.

Miss Plann, since her graduation, has been in Alameda County Hospital, San Leandro, Cal., preparing herself to be a trained nurse. She will pursue her profession in the Hospital of Dr. Hans Adamson, Bangkok, Siam.

Matriculation Day Next Monday.

On Monday, Nov. 26th, the new students of the University will be called together for formal matriculation in College. Every new student should be on hand at the appointed time, as this is one of the pre-requisites to full standing in the college, no honors or preference of any kind being open to anyone who has not properly matriculated.

Senior Girls' Party.

The members of the Senior class living at the Institute entertained at dinner on Friday evening their four class-mates living in the town, Misses Sill, Leisher, Stanton and Olds. After dinner the girls spent the evening informally in the parlor, singing, playing and having a general good time.

Y. W. C. A. Observes Week of Prayer.

During the past week the Y. W. C. A. observed the week of prayer by having short services every evening instead of the regular chapel services. Addresses were given by Dean Edwards, Prof. Owens and Prof. Phillips, and Miss Bottorf and Miss Isaac, with several members of the School of Music added to the enjoyment of the meetings with vocal and instrumental music.

GETTYSBURG WINS

Bucknell Wins in a Hard Fought Game by Score of 10-0.

Gettysburg defeated Bucknell on Saturday by the score 10-0 in a fast exhibition. The game, filled with sensational plays and plenty of punting, was very interesting from a spectator's point of view.

Selber, the visitors' left half, and Clark engaged in a punting duel in which the latter excelled. Selber ran them back farther, however, aided by fine interference. Altogether there were twenty one punts handled and but one was fumbled. This one was recovered by Selber and was run back twenty-five yards. The Bucknell ends found Selber one of the hardest propositions to tackle encountered yet this season. Time and again he would throw off four or five tacklers before being downed.

The game opened by Lenhart kicking to the visitors' five yard line. In the first two plays through the line Bucknell loomed up strong, appearing to hold their opponents easily. Gettysburg was penalized fifteen yards, and on the next play around the line they were thrown back for a loss of three yards. Selber then punted to Clark who made ten yards; Nible made two yards on a quarter back run around right end. On the next play, a forward pass from Nible to Winegardner, Lantz got the ball and made a brilliant run of thirty-five yards. After Gettysburg had run the ball out at right angles with the goal, Selber tried a drop kick from the twenty yard line. The kick was low and easily blocked but the ball bounded back into a Gettysburg player's hands. In the three more plays Lantz was sent over for the touchdown and Selber kicked the goal. Score 6-0.

On the kick off Lenhart sent the ball over the goal line, Selber kicking it out. On three line plunges Bucknell made the required distance. On the next play a forward pass, Lantz again got the ball but made no gains. Then followed an exchange of punts. Each team on getting the ball tried one play and punted. Gettysburg profited by this for Selber ran the ball back a greater distance. After three plays through the line which put the ball on our twenty-yard line, Selber kicked a field goal. Score 10-0.

In the second half, after Gettysburg's chances were beginning to look bright for another touchdown Hawk secured the ball and made a nice run. Bucknell then rushed it down the field and appeared to have the necessary strength to score. But on the forty-yard line we were held and all chance of scoring lost.

Gettysburg's best ground gainers were Welmer, Swartz, Lantz and Selber. For Bucknell every man played well and Coach Hoskins after the game ensured no one. The lineup:

Attorney Johnson Addresses Y. M. C. A.

"Law as a Life Work" was the subject expounded by Attorney Johnson in a spirited and forcible talk to the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday evening.

From the opening sentence to the peroration the speaker carried the students with him. His positive statements, as well as his refutations and corrections of popular misconceptions concerning the law and the lawyer, were reinforced by logic and argument and in a manner possible only to a lawyer.

In the closing of his address Mr. Johnson spoke of the good that is done by the profession. He placed the law as a life work second only to that of the ministry, and exhorted all young men to become lawyers who feel that by so doing they would make better men of themselves and render their greatest service to their fellow men, their state and their God.

Paul M. Pearson Coming.

To those who have heard Paul M. Pearson, the mention of his name is sufficient to insure their being at the lecture.

Mr. Pearson gives a Lecture-Recital in which he discusses the characteristics of some of our modern writers, such as Riley, Fields, and Dunbar. He illustrates his points by reciting such typical passages as lend themselves to recitation. This popular combination of instruction and entertainment has given him rank among the few whose platform work is enduring. He will be in the Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course, on Friday evening, December 7, at the Baptist church.

Because of the fact that the first number came on election day a ticket for the four remaining courses will be sold at the reduced price of $1.25. No reduction will be made on the last three. Single tickets, 50c.

Phi-Bucknell Club to Meet.

At a business meeting of the Philadelphia-Bucknell Club on Wednesday it was decided to hold a banquet during the Christmas holidays in Philadelphia. Eleonor, '07, Saylor, '07, Booth, '08, Miss Turner, '09 and Miss Corlies, '09, were appointed a committee to make the necessary arrangements.

A Class in Ethics.

There is offered for next term a course in Ethics, open to Seniors, which will recite four times a week. The principal work will be in Plato's Republic, the teachings of which will be compared with the teachings of the New Testament, with collateral reading in the great ethical writers.

A FRATERNITY ALUMNUS'

View of Fraternism at Bucknell University.

Fraternities and fraternity spirit form important elements in the life of most American colleges. It is so at Bucknell. There have appeared in recent numbers of our leading magazines articles by college alumni on fraternities and their influence for good or evil on college life. Perhaps a similar article touching on some phases of fraternity life at Bucknell might be of interest, written by an alumnus who is a fraternity man but who feels that a few years' contact with the outside world has lessened that partisan spirit with which formerly he might have approached the subject.

We have, let us say, some seven or eight men's fraternities at Bucknell and several women's fraternities. We would speak only of the former.

These seven or eight fraternities, then, represent as many small groups of men gathered together by mutual liking, whose aims and principles are known intimately only to the initiate but which have many points in common.

Are these small groups a factor for good or evil at Bucknell; or, is the non-fraternity man a more representative college man, a more potent factor for the development of our college? Truly this is a question of some concern to faculty and student-body alike. There is more to be said on each side than a partisan is likely to admit. It is a subject which an undergraduate feels a diffidence in discussing. The writer is of opinion that fraternities are of helpful influence both to the fraternity men and to the college, but that there are certain conditions which should be changed.

Let us admit that in the fraternities are generally found polished men, the men from our large cities and leaders of social life in small towns, those whose parents possess some degree of wealth or refinement. Athletic men, good students, are sought after by the fraternities. But the quality which makes a man most eligible is not any of these solely but an additional element of congeniality, of good-fellowship.

Fraternities have a leveling influence. By contact with his brothers, the grind acquires a fellowship which before he knew nothing of; the athlete loses a certain roughness; the man of wealth calls the poor man brother. Many good times are spent in the fraternity houses or halls singing the old songs around the piano which some brother plays with great gusto, if with slight technicality. Many a good story is told around the eating-club table; laughter and good-fellowship lend a savor to plain fare.

Good-fellowship, that is the keynote to the fraternity. And if this good-fellowship is solely good and does not lead a man to do things he knows are wrong for fear he may not be considered a good-fellow, all well and good.

So much for the effects of good-fellowship the fraternity itself, but what of the effect on the college. Do you, Greek-letter man share that good-fellowship with your non-fraternity brother, or do you share it with him about election time when

A Bucknell Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Esther J. Godcharles, of Milton, to Mr. George W. English, of McKeesport, in the Presbyterian church at Milton last Tuesday night was largely representative of Bucknell, so many were present who have been connected with the University.

EDITORIAL

In another column appears an article from the pen of an alumnus, who, while he was in College, was prominently identified with the activities and interests which he discusses. It must be granted that since the times of which he speaks matters have greatly changed and vast improvement has been effected in this feature of our College relations.

But there is still much room for criticism. The tendency manifested by different groups to monopolize the places of preference is too apparent. While money may not be actually changing hands in the furtherance of the political ambitions of the various cliques and factions, it cannot be denied that methods are resorted to and schemes carried out that are unworthy even of the practical politics of the outside world, to say nothing of the College.

Fraternities, as the writer of the other article says, exert a potent influence on the life of the school. They have become a permanent factor to be reckoned with in every college. Wielding the influence they do and having such a power to add to or detract from the general good which a university may accomplish, they should feel the weight of responsibility resting upon them and use this influence to the advancement not of their own selfish ends, but of the welfare of the university.

As the time approaches for the underclass banquets, may we offer a word of suggestion concerning them? Occasionally classes have carried their banquets to such a distance as to make the expense necessary to attend them prohibitive to the attendance of the student of ordinary means. The memory of these affairs will always be held as one of the most misused of College experiences and it is unjust that any underclassman should be deprived of it. Besides, in order to be truly successful, the banquet should have the presence of every member of the class. Would it not be well, then, for the classes to select places as near home as possible to have their feasts?

Dramatic Entertainment.

A Fraternity Alumnus.

Brother Doe is to run for football manager or Brother Roe essays to guide the baseball team to success?

Again, the fraternity man has on the surface a shroud more of that effervescent intangible thing called college spirit. He usually lends the cheering and is right there when his rah-rah when the team is ahead, and if he is of the right sort, when the team is losing. But has he an equal degree of a more substantial college spirit which is the real thing; a loyal devotion to the college and all its institutions; a large helping hand to any fellow undergraduate in distress whether he wears a jeweled pin or not.

We spoke above of certain tendencies prevalent during election times. It is the influence which the fraternities have on the college elections that is at once powerful and harmful. I presume conditions have not changed since my undergraduate days. The party that is in power goes the whole hog and its candidates, at first representative college men, finally are representatives of their fraternity alone and mighty poor ones at that. It matters little which side is in power; the same conditions hold good in time.

Conditions I am informed, have greatly changed; so corrupt were the fraternity politicians and non-fraternity voters when I entered Bucknell that money was freely offered and accepted in exchange for votes. Such a state of affairs is now a thing of the past but underlying conditions are no better; the same electoral system prevails.

It's up to you, undergraduate, and more especially, non-fraternity undergraduate, if these conditions suit you, let them continue; if not, change them. It may seem Utopian but the writer has a vision of an election board, composed of representative college men, of college spirit and to create good feeling in general; would give the non-fraternity man his club-house and provide a place where all could meet on equal footing.

This is by way of suggestion; other plans might be more feasible. But if this article awakens the student body to a discussion of the present situation and a determination to better conditions, its purpose will be served.

Alumnus, '01.

Williamsport—Bucknell Club Feasts.

On Saturday evening the Williamsport Bucknell Club held their first social of the term at the parlors of Mrs. Ruth on Market street. The affair took the form of a chicken and waffle supper, with an elaborate menu of good things besides.

At five-thirty the Club had assembled, and, after the cold of the hillside, where most of them had spent the afternoon watching the Gettysburg game, they did ample justice to the store of good things set before them.

The feast concluded, Mr. Shoemaker entertained with a number of the selections for which he is so well known and college songs and other familiar airs were sung. Mr. Berlin with his "blondism" adding much to the enjoyment of the occasion. At about eight o'clock the company broke up, all expressing themselves as well pleased with their evening. Miss Bush chaperoned.

Bucknell Music Matters.

The request of Dr. Ayrault some time ago for the coming together of those interested in the formation of a College Band, resulted very well. Almost a score of people presented themselves and expressed their willingness to go ahead with the organization. Instruments left at home have been sent for and "horns" that have been "out of commission" are being shined up and put into good shape. Prospects are very good for the permanent organization of a band that will be a credit to the college.

The College Orchestra is already a success. Some twenty pieces, among them several excellent first violins, are already active, and rehearsals are proceeding regularly and successfully. The same is true with the double quartet that is to be the foundation of the Glee Club. Their program is almost complete and every number in it is a good one.

Matriculation To-day.

One hundred and twenty-three students assembled in Bucknell Hall this afternoon for the purpose of being formally matriculated in the College.

Such a large number is gratifying to the authorities and to the friends of the institution everywhere, as indicating a constant progress onward and upward. With the new East College completed, no doubt next year's enrollment of new students will be even larger.

Chemical-Physical Society Meets.

At the regular meeting of the society at the Chemical Laboratory on Thursday, Rubber was the subject of discussion. Brodie, '08, Owens, '09, and Smith, '09, lead the discussion which covered all the phases of the gathering, refining, manufacturing and uses of rubber, and which proved most interesting and worth while to all present.

Thanksgiving Reces.

The annual recess incident to the celebration of Thanksgiving Day will begin on Wednesday at 11.15 a. m., and will last until Monday, Dec. 3rd at 11.15. Owing to this break in the activities of the college there will be no paper issued on Dec. 3rd.

Football Teams Entertained.

The University Club gave an informal reception Friday evening to the members of the Bucknell football squad and the visiting Gettysburg team in their rooms on Market St. Cards and chess and stories served to render a most enjoyable evening to those present.

A Thanksgiving Game.

On Thanksgiving Bucknell will play an all college team, on which are several former Bucknell players, at Steelton.

FOOTBALL SEASON CLOSED

A Good Record by Bucknell's Team This Year

Bucknell closed her football season of 1906 with the game at Harrisburg on Thanksgiving Day, Steelton winning by the score 17-0. The Steelton team was made up of former star college football men including Cockill, Shipp and Johnson who have starred on former Bucknell teams.

In glancing back over Bucknell's achievements on the gridiron for 1906 one must conclude that the team has played good, consistent football throughout and that it has made itself felt as a factor to be reckoned with in every game.

The first two games were merely try-outs of the new men. Then followed the Cornell and Princeton games. With Cornell we scored six points in the second half against their six, while the next week at Princeton we were the first team this year to score upon the Tigers.

The following week at Annapolis we played the Middies to a tie. The two Virginia games followed, both victories, and showed the fact that the team was in fine mid-season form. Unfortunately the Army cancelled a game in which our chances looked good was lost. The Gettysburg game was a hard one to lose and one in which the relative strength of the two teams was not shown by the score.

Below is found an outline of the season's work together with brief opinions from Charles Cooper, a former captain of the team, Coach Hoskins, and the members of the football advisory board, as to the working out of the new rules.

Sept. 22, Bucknell, 4—Reserves, 0.
Sept. 29, Bucknell, 6—Mansfield, 0.
Oct. 13, Bucknell, 6—Cornell, 24.
Oct. 20, Bucknell, 4—Princeton, 32.
Oct. 27, Bucknell, 0—Navy, 0.
Nov. 3, Bucknell, 0—Virginia, 0.
Nov. 10, Bucknell, 10—Va. P. I., 0.
Nov. 24, Bucknell, 0—Gettysburg, 10.
Nov. 29, Bucknell, 0—Steelton, 17.

Coach Hoskins on the Rules.

In this year's rules for football I find three very good changes, which have benefited the game greatly: 1st, The elimination of roughness, slugging and unnecessary delay of the game; 2nd, A more open style of game, consisting of kicking, forward passing, with fewer mass plays; 3rd, The game of football is healthier, more sportsmanlike, and a cleaner game to play.

There should be a rule framed to do away with coaching from the sidelines by coaches and players, who should be compelled to sit on a bench and stay there during the entire game; this would, I believe, do away with the trouble through I have found that all coaches will coach if they get the chance. The smaller colleges seem to be in favor of a rule in which there should be no coaching, but the larger colleges seem to hold back from a rule of this kind, as they wish to get a line on their men during the season.

Ex-Captain Cooper.

The football season of 1906 closed satisfactorily to even the most optimistic. It was football under the new rules, and from those interested we hear nothing but praise for the game.

DR. HARRIS ON ATHLETICS

The President Pays Tribute to Their Worth in Splendid Address

President Harris delivered an address on Dec. 1st before the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Middle States and Maryland, at Philadelphia, laying special stress upon the importance of athletic sports as a factor in the full development of the student.

"While emphasizing the value of work when interest flags or even ceases. The student, therefore, must learn to determine his actions according to the idea of right, according to principles which do not vary with the ebb and flow of emotion, or with atmospheric changes."

"There can be no doubt that the general practice of out-door sports and athletics has greatly improved the moral character of the student body in our land. The gymnasium is a factor different in kind, but in its place, a factor of importance comparable with the classroom and chapel. Besides their positive value in developing the will and power of initiative, they have also a negative value in keeping the student from falling into sensual vices."

"This intense struggle for honor and for their own cannot fail to have a beneficial effect upon those who take part in the football game. At the same time, it may be admitted that the very intensity of the struggle often proves a test too severe for the student at his stage of moral development. It takes considerable Christianity to go through a football game and come out morally whole. That so large a proportion of the players do so speaks well both for the moral fibre of the men and the character of the game."

An Opinion from Prof. Wolfe.

In the midst of all the present day talk and action in the direction of reform college athletics in general and football in particular, have come in for their share. No one will deny that, as conditions were last year, there was need of reform, and those who were most deeply interested in the game took it in hand to reform it. It is not necessary to go into detail as to the methods of reform, but if we may judge from the general expression of satisfaction from players, coaches, officials and the public, there has been a great improvement in the game of football, as played in the season just closed.

Among the most important points to be noted in the way of improvement is the more open play, which is due to the changes in the rules, involving the inside kick, the forward pass, and the requirement of a gain of ten yards in three downs. This has made the game much more interesting to the spectators, as well as opened the way for many and varied trick plays, which tend to make it more a game of skill and less a game of brute force. The forward passing, with fewer mass plays, has made it much easier for the hands or arms, and certain other rules against various kinds of rough play, along with increased strictness on the part of the officials, have done away with much of the danger, and much of the kind of play that helped to bring the game into bad repute. The appointment of efficient and capable referees and umpires by the Central Board of Officials has also done much to improve the game, and it is to be hoped that this board will be continued and its powers enlarged.

The College Bible Class

The Lesson on Sunday was concerning man's dominion over nature

The grant of dominion is not merely of his gods; but it is attained only by mastering the world through thought and labor. This is increasingly recognized as civilization advances. It takes more faith to work in accordance with God's law for slow results than to attempt quick results by magic. Ours is pre-eminently an age of faith.

The subject at the Way of Life meeting was Winning Friends. The value of friends and friendship in making our own way in life as well as in helping to sweeten and better the world was dwelt upon particularly. A quartette number "Lead, Kindly Light" was pleasingly rendered.

Registrar Gretzinger at Reception.

Registrar Gretzinger spent a part of last week in Franklin, Pa., where he was a guest of Major General Charles Miller at a reception given by him on Friday night to the National Guards Association of Pennsylvania, in which Mr. Gretzinger holds the rank of captain.

The reception was given at the Park hotel of Franklin and was one of the most brilliant social events in the history of the western part of the state.

General Miller is one of the best known business men of the State. He is one of the Trustees of Bucknell University, in which he has always manifested a deep interest.

Prof. Riemer Addresses The Forum.

On Tuesday evening Prof. Riemer gave a lecture of unusual interest before the members of the Forum on Student Life in Germany. Inasmuch as American students are more interested in the experiences of the American student in Germany than that of the German student in Germany, Prof. Riemer delivered his address from the point of view of the student, giving first his relation to the home, then to the public, and last to the German University, including student body and professors.

THE CLASS OF 1901

A Brief Account of Its Members' Whereabouts and Doings

Fifty-two men and women who have had the advantage of a college training make, notwithstanding the three-and-a-half year commencement, the jokes of the humorists, an appreciable impression upon the life of society at large. The class of 1901 have not failed, judging from the records, to measure up to their opportunities, and are doing their share of the world's work.

Of the different fields of activity entered, teaching received the largest share of workers, twelve of the class now being engaged in that work. P. M. Ballard assumed the vice-principalship of the Williamsport High School and two years ago was elected principal of the school. Lyndon Ayers is also in high school work being Latin professor in Camden, N. J. Miss Phillips is in the high school at Milton and Miss Mary Davis at Scranton.

Charles Hankey is teaching in Charlton, Otto Reichley at York and J. P. Snyder at Cadwaller, while Allison has gotten beyond the Williamsport, being one of the teaching corps of Sioux City, Iowa. Miss Wood is Preceptress of Keystone Academy, Miss Eckles after graduate work at University of Pennsylvania is now on the faculty of West Jersey Academy, at Bridgeton, N. J., and Miss Gold is an instructor in Leland University, New Orleans.

Frank Burpee, after teaching for sometime in Bucknell Academy was made an instructor in the University and now has the work in Electro-Physics under his charge.

Among the lawyers are H. A. Trax who is practicing in Pittsburgh and Harry Maize, who has established himself in Pottsville. David Sauser took a law course at Harvard and Charles Biedelgacher, after teaching for a while, is now in law at Williamsport.

The medical world is represented by six of the Class, and a seventh, Miss Bower, is a trained nurse in the University of Pennsylvania hospital. Thomas Evans received his M. D., at U. P., and was shortly afterwards appointed resident physician in the East End hospital of Pittsburgh. Charles Lesher and Edgar Shields took medical courses in Philadelphia. "Dr. Samuel C. Smith" is one of the attractive names of Hallidaysburg and "Dr. Goodman" is becoming a well-known name in Logansport. One of the girls, Miss Mabel Grier, is also an M. D., having established a lucrative practice in Trenton, N. J.

John Neuhauser is pastor of the Lutheran church of Georgetown, O., and Elmer Myers is pastor of one of the Congregational churches of Camden, N. J. Raymond Pierson is in Y. M. C. A. work, being religious director of the Bedford Avenue Y. M. C. A., of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Editorial

One principle that is maintained by co-educational schools, is that women are on an equal footing with men. This statement may be true in the pursuit of study, but it is not true in the pursuit of physical training. The last state of affairs exists at home—at Bucknell.

In football, in baseball, in track and tennis, numerals and letters are awarded for a certain number of points which are earned in games, or races, but, manifestly, the opportunity is open only to the men.

In all fairness, why should there not be some means by which the women might earn the numerals of their class or the letter of the College? Should not literary ability or skill in debate or exceptional merit along some other line of college work give a chance to earn such decorations? It does not seem right that in a co-educational college the women should be debarred from honors as dear to them as the men.

A COLLEGE WOMAN.

Academy News

Prosser, formerly of State Prep, entered the Academy recently.

A number of the Academy students took in "The College Widow" last week and enjoyed it very much.

Evans, who was called home recently owing to the death of his father, has returned to the Academy.

The Fourth Form class met recently and elected the following officers: Pres., Schellberg, V. Pres., Rhoades, Sec., Lawrence; Treas., Neff.

Owing to serious illness at their respective homes, Truitt, McAnulty, Clark, Woods and Alexander were summoned home very unexpectedly last week.

Dr. Goff on Tuesday evening addressed the Y. M. C. A. speaking on the subject "Purity." His talk was enjoyed very much and was very helpful to those present.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association last week H. A. were awarded to all the football team consisting of Neff, Lawrence, Bruehler, Morgan, Brown, Rhoades, Butler, Guinner, Atkinson, Boyer, Butler, Schreiber, Hoffman, McCombs and Craig.

Football Season Closed.

the hearts of even the most ardent lovers of the game, and a demand for its reform became universal.

To solve the problem was no easy task. The first step was the adoption of the new rules which have proven so successful during the season recently closed. The reformation is yet by no means complete, as it could not be expected that one season would remedy all the defects, but the general public are satisfied that much has been done toward improving the character of the game. The open plays and the distance to be gained calls into activity something besides brawn and muscle, and develops in the player skill and science more in harmony with the intellectual training which he receives from the college.

The new rules also rigidly enforce a discipline heretofore disregarded. A player who cannot restrain himself from unsportsmanlike conduct in the form of slugging, profanity or disrespectful language, is immediately disqualified and is thus fittingly denied the honor of representing his college in the contest and naturally invites the reproach of his fellow students.

The college stands for intellectual, culture and refinement, and the development of the highest faculties of the man. The elimination of the undesirable elements from the game will materially assist the players in the matter of self control, and thus enable them more successfully to play the part of a man, not only in a football game, but in the broader activities of life.

Registrar Gretzinger. Condemns Side Line Coaching.

To my mind, football, as played by the colleges, should be a clean game, played with all possible fairness. The new rules have introduced features favorable to the purity of the sport. Mass plays, slugging and other deplorable features have been successfully offset. There still remains, however, one feature that will require the attention of the rules committee, namely, coaching from the sidelines while the game is in progress.

The rule covering this matter is not far reaching enough. Coaching from the sidelines during an inter-collegiate match is unsportsmanlike, reprehensible and unfair. To successfully offset it, the rules committee will find it necessary to have a meeting from which all the coaches are barred for the time being, as it was demonstrated at a recent meeting where the matter was brought up by some of the leading football officials, that the coaches present claudered the loudest for their presence on the sidelines. To have the coaches remain on the sidelines and under all circumstances with the highest degree of fairness and the code of honor between rival players must partake of that fitness that smacks of the gentleman. Rough talk and swearing have been shut out of the game, why not other objectionable features, particularly side-line coaching?

The students from Sunbury attending Bucknell, last week organized the Sunbury-Bucknell Club. The following officers were elected: Pres. Oberdorf, '07; Vice Pres. Niple, '08; Sec. Shultz, '08; Treas. Gardner, '08; Executive committee, Draclenmiller, Long, Neff, and Hoffman. Mr. C. Walter Jarrett was unanimously elected an alumnus member.

1900'S MEMBERS

Whereabouts of the Last Graduating Class of the Eighteenth Century

Some men, it is said somewhere, are born great; some achieve greatness; and some have greatness thrust upon them. From the meagre records from which the information below has been gathered, it would seem that the members of 1890 are of the second type, for their work since leaving Bucknell is nothing of which to be ashamed.

Business pursuits are absorbing the attention and time of a good share of the class. Susquehanna is the scene of Williams' growing success. Weymouth is winning his way at Clayton, Mass., and Switzer at New Castle, while Hohrbach is wooing fortune at Sunbury and Peck at Hancock, N. Y. Harrisburg is the scene of Wager's efforts, and Clarion of Miller's and Flintstone, Md., of Koons.

Kreese is succeeding in the busy life of New York City and Pittsburg is the scene of Durham's pursuit of success. Schilling after for some time as Y. M. C. A. Secretary at Franklin, is now connected with the General Manifold Company of that place. Miss Lee is one of the employees of the Scranton Correspondence Schools at Scranton, and Miss Black is the efficient private secretary to Dr. Reed, president of Dickinson College.

Bell is in civil engineering at Frankford, and Simons is a chemist at Allegheny, though still calling Oak Lane, Philadelphia, his home. Of Robbins no later word could be gotten than that he was sometime ago engaged in business at Mooresburg, Pa.

Law claimed four of the class. Borntrager is reported as one of Pittsburgh's best known young lawyers, while Carringer in Tionesta, Moyer in Norristown and Deppen in Mt. Carmel are possessed of large clientages.

Miss White entered medicine and is a successful practitioner in Rochester, N. Y., where "Dr. Shorley" is also located. Vincent, who was recently married, is practicing in Scranton and Hottenstein in Millersburg. Sherwood, who is building up a lucrative practice in Union City, was accidentally shot some time ago, and has not yet recovered.

Five of the girls now respond to "Mrs." Miss Shires is Mrs. Robert Siler, of Allegheny. Miss Foust is Mrs. Edgar Reed, of Scuttsdale, and Miss Bell has become Mrs. Hutchinson of Canonsburg. Pittsburgh is the home of Mrs. Alrich, nee Wensel, while Valdez, in far away Alaska claims Miss Kline as Mrs. Charles Bunnell, and Chicago knows Miss Pooley as Mrs. Manning.

Loren Reno, after a course at Crozer, is now in mission work at Victoria, Brazil, and Harvey is the Y. M. C. A. secretary in Tienstin, China. Sherman is preaching in Danville, Dewitt at Erie, Kulp at Saint Peters, and Holland in Philadelphia.

The teachers are enrolled in goodly numbers and are scattered from Valdez, Alaska, where Bunnell is in school work to Deland, Florida, where Miss Martin is one of Stetson University's instructors. Grim is teaching at Kutztown, Hess at Cross

Ex-Captain Cockill's Opinion of the New Rules.

Mr. Cockill's views on the subject of the new rules were asked for but not received in time for publication last week. They are therefore given below.

The close of the season of 1905 found the fate of football in doubt. Two of the leading coast colleges and two eastern colleges prohibited its continuance by Faculty edict. Harvard was thinking seriously of abolishing the game but after careful deliberation decided to allow it this year on probation. Other colleges and schools decided to give the game a trial under the new rules and their conservative judgment is shown by the result.

Under the new rules football has been reformed but not revolutionized. It has kept its most essential features and through the use of the forward pass and on side kick it has added more brilliancy to the game and at the same time opened up the play. The neutral zone has eliminated most of the dirty work in the line which was rather hard to see under the old rules. As to the ten yard rule a substitution of five yards inside the twenty-five yard line would add more scoring and make the result of the game decisive. When one considers that there were three times the number of scoreless games this fall as last the more consideration should be given this point.

Football, like all other games, should be decisive. In other games an extra period of time is allowed in case of a tie, why not in football?

The rule prohibiting tackling below the knees should be abolished. It has not been enforced all fall while there is no doubt that three-fourths of the tackling was below the knees. This rule should have never been passed for tackling below the knees is the safest to both tackler and the man tackled, and at the same time the most effective way of stopping a man running with the ball.

The new rules should receive the encouragement of all friends of the game. They have proved the game's salvation. Both the death and injury lists have decreased. Concentrated force and battering ram tactics must now give way to speed and strategy, and craft must be met with draft to make victory possible.

Alpha Sigma Elects Officers.

At their regular meeting on Wednesday night the Alpha Sigma Literary Society elected the following officers: President, Carl, '07; Vice President, Matthias, '09; Secretary, Bertha, '08; Treasurer, Staver, '07.

Pittsburg Club Meets.

The members of the Pittsburg Club assembled on Thursday evening in Mrs. Huth's parlors for their first social meeting of the year. About twenty-five members were present and spent a delightful evening with games, speeches and singing, refreshments forming the wind up of the evening's entertainment.

ATHLETIC ASSO. ELECTIONS

Officers Chosen and New Constitution Adopted at Meeting on Saturday

On Saturday morning the Athletic Association of the University met to elect officers and an assistant football manager for the coming year and to pass upon the new constitution which was to be proposed by the committee selected last year.

President Hall, after the reading of the last meeting's minutes called for the report of the committee on the Constitution. Prof. Wolfe reported for the committee, reading the proposed Constitution and By-Laws section by section, the Association acting upon each section as it was read. With a few minor amendments and changes the report met with the hearty approval of the Association and was adopted almost as read. Owing to the necessity for Faculty approval before final recognition, the report will not be given until a later issue.

A vote of thanks was extended the committee, which was composed of Prof. Wolfe, Prof. Lindemann, Registrar Gretzinger, Girt Lenhart and Charlemagne Wolfe, for the work they have done. The new Constitution when finally adopted, will certainly be a great improvement upon the old, and the committee deserve much credit for the faithful work they have given in its drawing up.

Following the adoption of the Constitution the Association elected the following officers: President, W. L. Noll, '08; Vice President, C. D. Ferguson, '08; Secretary, W. H. Posten, '08; Treasurer, W. J. Snyder, '08, E. Van Why was elected assistant football manager for the coming year.

Prof. Lindemann was elected Faculty member, Prof. Wolfe, Alumni member, and Coon and Sayre, Junior members of the Executive Committee, to serve for one year. Prof. Hamblin was elected Faculty member, Prof. Meyer Alumni member, and Schuch and Leach Senior members of the Executive Committee to serve until the meeting of the Association in June, next.

Several reports were listened to and accepted, among them the statement of Treasurer Snyder, given herewith.

Prizes for Economic Essays.

Messrs. Hart, Schaffner and Marx, of Chicago, have offered through a competent committee some very large prizes for the best essays on economic subjects. For the third time, a first prize of $1000, and a second prize of $500 are offered to graduate students; and to undergraduates, a first prize of $200 and a second prize of $150. These papers must be sent in by June 1, 1907, to Professor J. Laurence Laughlin, University of Chicago. The subjects assigned are as follows:

1. The practical wisdom of freeing raw materials, essential to subsequent manufactures, from custom duties when entering the United States.
2. The best methods of obtaining an elastic currency in times of panics.
3. To what extent, and in what form, are socialistic tenets held in the United States?
4. In what respect and to what extent, have combinations among American railroads limited or modified the influence of competition?
5. The best methods of avoiding resort to force by labor unions in their contests with employers.
6. The effect of "trusts" upon the prices of goods produced by them.
7. How far does the earning power of skill obtain under a regime of trade unions?
8. A critical study of modern commercial methods for distributing products to consumers.
9. The development of economic theory since John Stuart Mill.

A New Departure.

Rev. Frank M. Goodchild, D. D., 1884, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, of New York City, is using some new methods to increase the attendance at church services, one Sunday a celebrated whistler entertained the audience and at another a performance was given upon musical glasses.

The innovation has stirred up considerable interest and Dr. Goodchild hopes that the effort will be well received; insisting, in reply to his critics, that no harm can come of the introduction which is sweet and pure in sound into public worship.

Senior Committees Appointed.

President Rockwell last week announced the appointment of Fred R. Zuehlweg as chairman of the Senior Class Play committee and Edwin W. Saylor as chairman of the Class Memorial committee.

The remaining members of the Class Play committee have not yet been selected. Andrews, Avenue, Baer, Bernhard, Barrows, Griffith, Hawk, Manley, Minor, Schultz, Wagner, Miss Olds, Miss Parmley, and Miss Weddle, will constitute the Memorial committee.

Bucknell in Theatricals.

Last Friday evening the New Century Club of Philadelphia, presented several amateur plays in aid of charity. One of the best received was "Chums," by Mr. Bert W. Baker, a former student of the University. The play is based upon some of Mr. Baker's experiences at Bucknell and received much favorable comment from those who saw it.

A FRESHMAN FROLIC

Freshmen Girls Entertained Most Delightfully by Sophomores.

A novel event took place at the Institute on Friday evening in the shape of a "Freshman Frolic" tendered the Freshman class of girls by the Sophomores. The fun began at half past seven, when the Freshmen went down the receiving line of twenty-four Sophomore girls to the inspiring strains of the "Freshman March" played by a one piece orchestra. After a little dancing a guessing game was announced. Each of the thirteen Sophomore girls impersonated a character well known among the College students. The impersonations were clever, and called forth a good deal of laughter. An unmitigated "Daddy Kahle"—a waste basket on his back and a rising ball in his hand ended the series, and was greeted with rounds of applause. Several of the young ladies having been skillful enough to guess all of the characters correctly, lots were drawn, and the prize—an excellent caricature of some old friends, executed by a member of the Sophomore class, was awarded to Miss Mildred B. Gathers, '10.

The next number on the program was a hurdle race. Three rows of Indian clubs were set up for the hurdles and the "stunt" consisted of jumping the hurdles, eating a piece of pie from a plate at the farthest end of the room, and returning to the starting point. The contestants first ran in pairs; afterward those who had made the best time were matched again. Everyone joined in regardless of athletic qualifications, and the fun was hilarious. Miss Florence Stauffer, '10, carried off the honors to the satisfaction of all present, and received a box of chocolates. The refreshments were served at about half past eight to a crowd whose appetites did not seem to have been entirely ruined by the pie consumed so unceremoniously a short time before.

After the debris of the feasting had been cleared away some of the Freshmen engaged in an exciting game of "parlor football." Miss Presilla Hardisty, '10, received due renown and praise for making the first "touch down." At the ringing of the nine-thirty bell the grand march was formed, and as the seventy odd girls in their pretty evening dresses trod the "mystic mazes" they formed a charming picture. The classes gave their yells, and with one last song for "Old Bucknell" they departed well pleased with the success of this the first "Freshman Frolic."

Football B's Awarded.

Football B's were awarded last week to Clark, Lenhart, Winegardner, McNinch, O'Brien, C. Baldwin, Hayes, Shade, W. Hawk, Cron, Nipke, Sayre, Wagner and Piersol. Shavely, D. Hawk and Harris were awarded B. U's, and Fasset a manager's B.

Editorial

The "fall campaign" in the politics of the College is over at last and the result is in many respects gratifying. Good, clean and capable men have in every instance been selected to fill the various offices and the new assistant football manager will, we have every reason to feel, make a most efficient manager when he enters upon his duties two years hence.

Perhaps the most pleasing feature of the whole campaign is the fact that it has been, far and away, the cleanest and fairest contest of the kind seen here for many years. Both sides had good clean men in the field, and whichever way the result might have turned, we might have felt assured that the athletic affairs of the University would have been honestly and capably administered.

The fact of partisanship and division is desired by some, but their objections could not have proved valid in this case. The right sort of men were supported by both factions and were elected as honestly as could be expected in any election. The whole matter now lies in the question: Will the good work continue?

Official preferment in Bucknell of any other college should not be a matter of party bickering and jealous factionalism. We should be above the meanness of fraternity ambition and non-fraternity envy. What we need—and, we believe, desire—in a candidate is efficiency and merit, not "pull" nor greed for office.

May the best man, then, be the fraternal or non-fraternal, always win. May the intelligent and reasonable and reasoning portion of the student body—and they are not few in number—ever safeguard the interests of Bucknell's athletics by a careful choice of the best men for the place whatever it is, and whoever he may be.

Dr. Lincoln Hulley's New Book.
"Studies in the Book of Psalms," by Lincoln Hulley, Ph. D. The author has gathered the substance of lectures delivered at Summer school into permanent form. Hebrew poetry, the Psalter, as a Book of Life, The Titles and the Traditional Setting of Psalms are presented in a clear and informing manner. Fifteen Psalm Groups are treated with brief discussions concerning the Messianic, Imprecatory, Pilgrim and other Psalms which are examined soundly and in a judicial spirit. The closing section presents ten class studies for complete and thorough investigation by students. The book is a practical, helpful and clearly written one and is well fitted for the use of Bible classes and individual students of readers of this subject.

This is a book of 175 pages, published by Fleming H. Revell Company for $1.—From the "Watchman."

Literary Society Elections.
Theta Alpha Friday night elected Riggs, '07, President; Elson, '09, Vice President; Leppard, '08, Secretary; Foster, '09, Treasurer; Nylberg, '09, Censor; and Sherwood, '10, Critic.

In Theta the following were elected: Reese, '07, President; Bromley, '08, Vice President; Condit, '08, Secretary; Maher, '10, Treasurer; Sadtler, '09, Sergeant-at-Arms; Stimmington, '08, Critic.

Communication.
The "Orange and Blue" invites communications but does not necessarily agree with the opinions expressed therein. All communications must be signed, though the name will not be published if so desired.

Editor of Orange and Blue:
To keep the reformation of the underclassman rush before the attention of the students, I submit these remarks concerning that annual and traditional event. The two proposed plans that appeared in the Orange and Blue a few weeks ago are in my judgment alike desirable and feasible.

In fact, this year's engagements between the Freshmen and the Sophomores demonstrated the need of some definite plan and goal in any contest or scrap, and proved beyond doubt that the underclassman rush could satisfactorily be conducted according to the plans set forth in that communication.

In the midnight scrap as well as in the scrap on Nov. 17th, no serious injuries were sustained, no property was destroyed, and no bitter feeling engendered between the classes. On the contrary with an object in view, each class worked together, accomplished its end, and then quit with the satisfaction of definitely knowing whether it had lost or won the fight.

It seems to me that the dispatch and consensus of the foregoing scraps, prevailing and emphasizing the laxity, fatality and danger of the annual rush as now carried out, ought to stimulate the upper classmen to revise it.

To encourage such revision I offer this plan, which with slight modifications, is in vogue in many of the colleges: Two posts are planted in the ground eight feet apart. Joining these posts at about four feet from the ground, is an iron bar or pipe which is generally about four inches in diameter so that a contestant cannot get a grip on it. At a given signal the classes come together, and as many of the contestants as possible get their hands on the bar. After a specified time the contest is declared off, and the hands counted.

This plan is suggested, as was said, in order to keep the matter before the student body. It is to be hoped that interest can be maintained and the matter put into better shape than it is now.

Be Quick. I have a limited stock of Pillow Covers, Flags, etc., on hand. Come look them over and get first choice. Claypoole, $9 W. College.

Good Christmas Music Yesterday.
The Christmas music rendered yesterday by the Baptist choir under Mr. Paul G. Stolt's direction was exceptionally fine. The leading number was "He Became Incarnate" from "The Second Mass in D" by Father H. A. Gauss.

Father Gauss was in charge of the Catholic church at Milton at the time Dr. Avramet first came to this vicinity and it was through the latter's interest that the priest's ability came to be known. Dr. Avramet when he went abroad in 1890 took several copies of the Mass with him and by a friend of his it was brought before the critics by whom it was enthusiastically received.

The full program was composed of the following numbers:
"The Babe of Bethlehem"—Bartlett.
"Hark! The Herald Angel's Sing."
"Break! Forth into Joy," Harris.
"The Virgin's Lullaby,"—Solo—Miss Gearhart.
"He Became Incarnate,"—Father Gauss.
"A Holy Night"—Dressler.

College Locals

Helm, '07, who was removed to his home in Ashland recently on account of an abscess in the head, has undergone an operation at German-town Hospital, Philadelphia, and is now reported as much improved.

Prof. Phillips was in Herwick over Sunday conducting the election of a new pastor for the Baptist church of that place.

Owing to a tie vote in the qualified basketball team, the selection of a captain to succeed Claypoole, who is not back this year, was made by the basketball advisory committee, who selected Lose, of the Junior class.

At a meeting of the Board of Public Education of Philadelphia on Dec. 11, 1906, it was voted to include Bucknell in the list of Colleges to which scholarships are granted by the city.

Good Christmas Music Yesterday.
The Christmas music rendered yesterday by the Baptist choir under Mr. Paul G. Stolt's direction was exceptionally fine. The leading number was "He Became Incarnate" from "The Second Mass in D" by Father H. A. Gauss.

Father Gauss was in charge of the Catholic church at Milton at the time Dr. Avramet first came to this vicinity and it was through the latter's interest that the priest's ability came to be known. Dr. Avramet when he went abroad in 1890 took several copies of the Mass with him and by a friend of his it was brought before the critics by whom it was enthusiastically received.

The full program was composed of the following numbers:
"The Babe of Bethlehem"—Bartlett.
"Hark! The Herald Angel's Sing."
"Break! Forth into Joy," Harris.
"The Virgin's Lullaby,"—Solo—Miss Gearhart.
"He Became Incarnate,"—Father Gauss.

Bucknell in Institute.
W. W. Feltzer, 1934, Superintendent of Northumberland County public schools is presiding over the Teachers' Annual Institute, now in session at Sunbury. F. L. Yost, assistant principal of the Milton High School is officiating as pianist and Dr. Ench Perrine is one of the instructors. Birthdays 1902, is also a member of the institute and acting as chairman of the Memorial Committee. L. H. Dennis, a special student of the University and principal of the Northumberland schools is enrolling clerk.

Holidays Recess.
The holding of the examination for the S-B classes on Thursday morning will bring to a close the work of the fall term—a successful one in point of numbers as well as in work for the University.

The recess will last until January 2nd, work to be resumed at 11:15 a. m., on that date.

Prof. Phillips Addresses Y. M. C. A.
On Thursday night Prof. Phillips gave before the Y. M. C. A. the second of his series of talks on "The Ethics of Jesus." These talks are not only helpful, but interesting, as well, and deserve the attention of every student who wants to get the most good out of his course at Bucknell, to be a Y. M. C. A. man or not.

1909 BANQUET SUCCESS
The Sophomores Had a Very Enjoyable Banquet at the Baker House
On Monday night the class of 1909 held what is generally conceded to have been one of the most successful banquets in the history of the College. Instead of the inconveniences and heavy expense of a long and tiresome trip to some distant town there was the quiet satisfaction of a most comfortable and enjoyable evening spent here at home, with ample time to carry out the full program of events and no fear of missing trains to mar the evening's pleasure.
At nine o'clock the class and their guests had assembled and the grand march to the banquet room was taken up to the orchestra's lively strains. The banquet room was decorated in maroon and white, the class colors, and the tables with their snowy linen and rich colors made a very pretty sight. The menu which Landlord Krosche had prepared under Chairman Smith's direction, was one of the most elaborate ever served at any banquet in Lewisburg. The menu cards were of white kid embossed with the Bucknell seal and corded with maroon silk, and were exceedingly neat and tasteful.
The feasting over and the wants of the inner man satisfied, President Fetter, acting as toastmaster, introduced those who were to respond to the toasts.
"The Wanderers" were remembered by Humm, "Our Friends in Need, the Seniors," were toasted by Landsrath, Leo L. Rockwell, the Senior President, responding. Miss Garvin told of the joys—and sorrows—of life in "Oak Hall" and the Freshmen's failings and follies were related by Fries.
Rofe "hazily hazed," as he said, on "Hazy Notions" and following him Van Wily extolled the beauties and graces of "Our Co-eds." Ritter cautioned his classmates not to devote their full power to "Climbing Upward" for fear that their superior ability might lead them to too great a height.
Miss Garvin selected some promising "Suits" for her friends and Miss Weddell told of the valiant exploits of "Our Warriors." Matthias discussed the value of "Unity and Coherence," and Miss Mervine explained the import to the class of Kipling's words, "Lest We Forget." "One Thing More" was told by Nyberg and Wilson answered the question "Why Are We Here?"
The class poem, written and read by Miss Turner ended the feast of wit and flow of wisdom, and with a class yell and a Bucknell-ell-ell the Sophomore banquet was over.
Miss Mary Woods, Miss Helen Oaks, Miss Mollie Westcott, Wilson Staver and President Leo Rockwell of the Senior class were the guests of the occasion, with Miss Grace Silfer, who chaperoned.
Christian Science Exposed.
Rev. A. Lincoln Moore, D. D., pastor of the Riverside Baptist Church, 52nd Street and Amsterdam Avenue, New York City, has just published a book exposing Christian Science, "Christian Science; Its Manifold Attractions." The book is said to be one of the ablest exposures of the fallacies of this cult yet brought forward, and it is to be hoped that it will do the good intended.

The Basketball Schedule.
The basketball schedule as arranged for home games is given below, and is seen to be a good one. Good teams have been secured to play and a successful season may be expected. Manager Andrews deserves credit for his earnest effort to give us a good schedule.
The week of February 17-23 will be a great one in the history of the college. On the 21st the fast Swarthmore team will be pitted against Bucknell, on the 22nd occurs the Junior Prom and on the 23rd the Alumni game which was such a pleasant feature of the season last year. College spirit will certainly be at the top notch that week. Following is the schedule:
Jan. 12—Susquehanna.
Jan. 18—Delaware College.
Jan. 26—Mansfield Normal.
Feb. 1—Gettysburg College.
Feb. 9—N. Y. University Law School.
Feb. 14—University of Buffalo.
Feb. 21—Swarthmore.
Feb. 23—Alumni Game.
Mar. 1—Open.
Mar. 9—Dickinson Law School.
Possibilities—Haskell Indians, of Kansas; Carlisle Indians; Princeton Theological Seminary.
The College Bible Class.
The fourth verse of the Second Chapter of Genesis was considered. It treats of the beginning of civilization with the culture of the ground. The cereals are the gift, not of god's but of Jehovah God, but need the care of man in tillage. Next Sunday will be considered man in his two-fold nature, mind and body.
At the Way of Life meeting it was announced that Rev. Andrew F. Anderson, class of '94, will preach on the Day of Prayer, Jan. 24th. Special meetings will be held each evening of the week till Thursday.
Minstrels To Be a Success.
The annual minstrels, if things turn out as they bid fair to, will be a bigger success than ever. Manager Evans is planning already for "the big show" and Burrows, who will have charge of the musical side of the performance, expects a generous lot of music, from which to choose, to come this week.
There is an abundance of good material in the College this year for this kind of work and there is no doubt but that the men managing the affair will give us a show that will be "bigger and better than ever."
Communication.
Editor of the Orange and Blue:
Dear sir:—May I have room in the paper to make a suggestion for a plan for reserving seats at the basketball games? It is rumored among the students that the matter will be settled soon and I believe my plan is a good one.
Wouldn't it be well at the beginning of the season to sell tickets entitling the holder to the same seat at every game during that season, but making the ticket transferable so that if the holder were unable at any time to use it he might loan or rent it to some one else desiring a seat for that game? The present plan certainly is most unjust from its making us waste so much of our time waiting in line once and sometimes twice in every week. Let us have something to relieve it.
Crank.

SUSQUEHANNA DEFEATED
Bucknell Wins Season's First Game 40 to 29.
Although Bucknell was slow in developing any kind of team work in the opening game in Tustin Gymnasium, Saturday evening, the five soon rallied and before Susquehanna could stop the onslaught of goals by the forwards, the "Orange and Blue" had rolled up 40 points against its opponent's 29. Star playing received little development during the forty minutes, and nothing was gained except when passing was encouraged.
In the opening seconds Susquehanna was off with a rush, and before the guards could get into the spirit and dash of the contest Sunday and Shaffer, for the visitors, landed three goals in rapid succession. Several fouls helped to run the score up, and helped materially to waken the home team. Bucknell got the ball under its basket and some clever juggling of the sphere resulted in two goals. From this time until the closing of the first half, the game was a wild battle for points, and the period ended with the score a tie, 16-16.
Refreshed by a rest the players threw life into the second half, but Susquehanna, by using the triangular pass and by quick dribbling, accurate shooting, and team work, walked away from the home team. Wagner had been taken out at guard to try out some new blood, Croop being substituted for him during the rest of the game. After the down-river forwards had succeeded in bringing the tally dangerously high, Bucknell was smitten with another periodic brace and scored at will. The vim had been played out of the visitors, and the rest of the game was easy. The "Orange and Blue" began to vary the style of play, and O'Brien began to find the basket. The final score was 40-29.
The line-up:
Bucknell. Positions. Susquehanna. O'Brien . . . forward . . . Sunday. Loe, Capt. . . forward . . . Houtz. Leuhart . . . center . . . Shaffer, Capt. Wagner, (Croop) guard . . . Bingham. Townsend . . . guard . . . Jacobs, (Current). Goals from field: O'Brien 7; Sunday 4; Loe 8; Shaffer 6; Houtz 3; Leuhart 2; Croop 2; Townsend 1. Goals from fouls: Shaffer 3. Referee, Turner, of Williamsport; Timekeeper, Hoskins. Length of halves, 20 minutes.

Dr. D. J. Hill Honored.
Dr. David Jayne Hill, of the Class of 1874, Minister of the United States to the Hague, has been appointed by the government one of the committee of three to consider and report upon our naturalization laws.
Daniels—Martin.
Mrs. Emma Martin, of Lewisburg, has issued announcements of the marriage of her daughter, Edith Mae, to Mr. J. Frank Daniels, on July 23, 1906. Mr. Daniels was a member of the 1906 class and is now principal of the High School at Nanticoke.
Dietrich—Delbert.
H. O. Dietrich, 1906, principal of the high school at Fleetwood, was married on Christmas day to Miss Eva Delbert, of Kutztown, at the home of the bride's parents.

Teachers' Club Organized.
A number of the men in the college who have taught or are preparing to teach met last week and organized the Teachers' Club of Bucknell University. W. C. Hulbey, '07, was elected president; W. W. Baker, '07, vice president; D. A. Green, '08, secretary; and I. A. Timlin, '09, treasurer.
On motion a committee composed of Siler, '08, Snyder, '07, Haller, '08, Smith '08 and Timlin, '09, was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws.
The club expects to meet regularly to discuss educational questions of the day and it is purposed also to have lectures by members of the Faculty and by outside educators upon subjects of interest in the teaching world.
Dr. Wolfe Highly Praised.
Dr. Mary Wolfe, 1896, head of the Norrisstown Hospital for the Insane, was recently highly complimented by the Legislature's commission appointed to inquire into the condition of State Hospitals. The commission said in part:
"The frightful overcrowding of the Norrisstown Asylum made clear to the members of the commission the wonderful ability of Dr. Mary M. Wolfe, who carries the entire burden of the responsibility of the hospital. It proved just how remarkable the woman must be to preserve the splendid discipline, the almost perfect management that prevails at the institution, despite all the overcrowding."
L'Agenda Goes To Press.
The first form of the 1908 L'Agenda, comprising about one hundred pages, goes to press Tuesday. The rest of the annual is being prepared to be sent in in a few weeks. Every member of the board, together with various individuals of the other classes, is working hard to make the book abound in permanent, as well as momentary, interest.
A number of alumni and friends of the College have written to us this year for copies of the 1907 L'Agenda, but could not be accommodated because the supply was exhausted. We will this year, continue the custom to take orders for the book before it is printed, and will have published only a limited number, not previously ordered. We shall be glad to accommodate all the alumni and friends, wishing copies of the 1908 L'Agenda, if they will drop a card or letter AT ONCE to the Business Manager ordering same. The printers must have our order for the number of books to be printed when we accept the proofs for the form going to press now. It is necessary, then, for all out of town orders to be sent in immediately.

Phi-Bucknell Club Bonquets.
The Philadelphia-Bucknell Club banqueted at the Hotel Hanover, Philadelphia, Thursday evening, December 27th, entertaining as their guests of honor Senator and Mrs. Ernest L. Tustin. Mr. Tustin, a member of the class of '84, responded to one of the toasts, giving reminiscences of his college days and congratulating the club as representing a college that is making progress along all lines.
Mr. Tustin's and the other responses to toasts, together with an elaborate menu well prepared and well served, gave a most enjoyable evening to all present.

The Freshmen Banquet
Class of 1910 Feast at the Park Hotel, Williamsport.
The very apparent dearth of Freshmen during the first week of the term gave rise to a suspicion in the minds of the Sophomores that 1910's banquet would be an occurrence of the near future—a suspicion that proved well founded. On Sunday afternoon the west-bound afternoon train on the Reading stopped by the Gym and the few remaining Freshmen on the Hill rushed madly down the slope, across the athletic field and got on board, bound for Williamsport. On Monday afternoon, the girls of the class, under Miss Bush's chaperonage, took their way also to the Lumber City and joined their classmates to participate in their first class banquet.
At nine o'clock Monday evening the orchestra struck up the grand march and the class and their guests filed into the large west dining room where they partook of the excellent menu which Landlord Kavanaugh had prepared to satisfy their bodily wants. The toasts and responses which followed were of the finest, though owing to the necessity for getting to the train on time it was necessary to omit a large part of the program.
"True Blue" was toasted by Velte and "The Loyal Helpers" were fittingly eulogized by Pangburn, Merle B. Whitney, the Junior class president responding. Wiant, who discoursed on "Visions," was the last speaker called upon, the too rapid approach of train time making it necessary to end the banquet.
"No Man's Land" was to have been responded to by Miss Stauffer, "L'Agenda Capita" by Wallers, and "Brain and Brawn" by Eastwood. "Alma Mater" was Winterroad's subject and "Wise Pools" was Huston's while Miss Williams was to have told "Why We Are Here" and Miss Hanley was to have eulogized "The Warriors." Earle was to have spoken on "Unwritten Volumes." The class poem to be read by its author, Miss Watkins, was the last but not the least pleasure to be foregone.
Merle B. Whitney, president, Robert Steele, Luther Piersol, Miss Anna Stagle, Miss Dana Bower and Miss Jennie MacLaggan were the Junior guests.

Athletic Executive Board Meets
The new constitution recently adopted by the Athletic Association having been ratified by the College authorities, the Executive Board elected under its provisions met for the first time last Wednesday.
Prof. Wolfe was elected chairman and Prof. Meyer secretary. Chairman Wolfe then, upon motion, appointed Registrar Gretzinger, Prof. Hamblin and Mr. Leach as the new finance committee. Upon motion Prof. Wolfe, Prof. Lindemann and Mr. Sayre were appointed a committee to revise rules and regulations governing athletics. The basketball manager and captain with Treasurer Snyder were authorized to formulate a plan for reserving seats at the basketball games, subject to the finance committee's approval. It was decided to accept U. P.'s proposition for a football game Oct. 5th, 1907, on Franklin field, provided satisfactory arrangements can be made.

Editorial

If there be one thing that more than any other distinguishes the gentleman from the tough and the boor, it is his attitude toward, and treatment of, woman. His manner of thought and speech and action toward her stamps him indelibly as gentle-born or as low-born.

By this is not meant, by any manner of means, his ability to make use of the polished veneer of social etiquette. Some of the most contemptible men we know are among the most polite, as the word goes. It is not adherence to the conventionalities that marks the gentleman—it is adherence to principle.

The true gentleman will not do anything nor say anything nor think anything that may in any way wound the feelings or hurt the good name of any woman. His respect for womanhood will be so sincere and chivalrous and his reverence so deep that he cannot in any manner offend its possessor. All of which is apropos to the enticement and blatant bawling that have been heard on the Hill lately, and to the personalities that are to be overheard in the halls and on the steps. Nothing further needs be said, needs it?

The fact that banquet affairs were carried through this year without the usual violence and rowdiness is a matter for congratulation. Class spirit is all right in its place and a friendly rivalry between classes is undoubtedly productive of a larger college interest and a stronger college loyalty. To carry it to such extremes as is but too frequently the case, however, is only productive of bitterness and dislike and destructive of that good fellowship which should permeate the entire student body, irrespective of class.

The turn that affairs took this year was a good one. It is to be hoped that future classes may follow this excellent precedent, and that our name may not unjustly be heralded abroad as a synonym for brawling and toughness.

We have made a very creditable start in basketball. We have the material for a winning team. Probably not a faster, better, more capable team will go on any basketball floor this year than Bucknell's, provided that its members are unflagging in their zeal, diligent in their practice and consistent in their training, and provided that the student body show their interest in, and appreciation of, the work of the team.

It is to be regretted that at Saturday night's game some few cards felt obliged to hiss at one or two decisions. While not zoologists, we believe we are correct in stating that but two classes of animals are known to express themselves in this manner—geese and snakes. The hissers themselves must determine which class is theirs.

Bucknell Historical Society.

Thursday afternoon the B. H. S. held its first regular meeting since the organization. Prof. Perrine gave a splendid talk on King Alfred the Great. The speaker held that King Alfred was great because he was a servant of his people. Definite references in history were cited to illustrate this greatness and to show in what it consisted.

Seven new members were voted into the society, which will hold its next meeting Thursday, Jan. 24th, at 4:00 p. m.

Account of the Members of the 19th Century's Last Class.

Forty-six was the enrollment of this, the last class to appear on Bucknell's commencement platform in the 19th century. The account of them given below is not, perhaps, entirely accurate for the reason that it is impossible to get some of them to respond to requests for information about themselves, but on the whole, it will tell pretty closely where they are and what they are doing.

Twelve of the class are teaching. Floyd Ballentine is our well known assistant professor in Latin, having been elected such after a graduate course at Harvard. George Tilley was also one of the University's staff of teachers until last year when he entered the Harvard graduate school to study for a Ph. D.

Irving Buckminster has been promoted from instructor to professor in Chemistry in Oneachia, College, Arkadelphia, Ark. James Cattel has gotten farthest away of any of the pedagogues and is teaching near San Francisco. Cal. Emmanuel Cober and Maurice Milford are both instructors in the Friends' Central School, Philadelphia.

Robert Vinyas has gone south and is pointing the oil of knowledge in to the crannies of the boys and girls of Hendersonville, N. C., while Mary Stephens is doing a like service for the youngsters of Clayton, N. J. Grace Dewolf is one of Newark's corps of teachers and Gertrude Stephens is supervisor of Music and Art in the schools of Brooklyn, Pa. Daniel Krise is principal of West Chester, Pa.'s high school and John Herman holds a like position in Bellport, Pa. Mary Sharpless is teaching at home in West Chester.

Three others of the class were teaching when last heard from, some two years since, though they failed to answer inquiries sent to their old addresses. Benjamin Griffiths was at that time an instructor in the Lock Haven State Normal. William Purdy in the normal school at Slippery Rock, and David Robbins in the Philadelphia schools.

The preachers form a good part of the list, eight of them being engaged in religious work. George Bueard is one of Uncle Sam's Naval Chaplains, with headquarters at Washington, D. C. Rochester Theological Seminary gave Charles Keen and Frank Rawlinson their preparation for missionary work in China. Keen being now in Kinwa and Rawlinson in Shanghai. Civilization seemed to Howard Meserve to give good opportunity for christian work, Milford, Conn., being the scene of his present pastorate.

Evarts Conover graduated from Crozer and is now preaching in one of Philadelphia's Baptist churches, and Charles Meeker is a pastor in Chicago. John Calvin enrolled in Chicago University's Divinity school for his B. D. and is pastor now of the Baptist church at Emporium. Howard Stewart preaches in Lansdale, LeRoy Hall when last heard from was preaching in Pendleton, Oregon, after graduation from Rochester. J. C. Hazen is pastor of the First Baptist church of Nankakee, Ill.

"Oliver Decker, Atty. at Law" is one of Williamsport's well known

The College Bible Class.

The seventh verse of the second chapter of Genesis concerning the origin of man teaches us its essential doctrine that Jehovah God is the author of man. It is not intended to teach Psychology, but the religious point of view alone. Modern Psychology has come to accept the principle of Psychology of Genesis. Biologists and Physiologists studying man from below and in his rudimentary activities came, in many cases, to regard thought as a secretion of the brain, or as a motion of the brain particles, or as in some way a function of the brain. The study of thought, however, reveals the fact that it is a synthesis, a grasping of the manifold of experience in the unity of consciousness. The basis of thought must therefore be a unity, whereas the brain is a complex of an indefinite number of elements. Consequently when at the close of the century a survey of the field was made, it was found that all Psychologists of standing, except Haeckel, had given up the view that the brain can produce thought or that thought is a function of the brain. W. H. James, the most celebrated of all, explicitly renounces in the last edition of his work his former teachings. On the other hand, pure Psychologists, approaching the subject from above, have not always allowed sufficiently for the influence which the body has upon mental activities.

In the Way of Life meeting, Dr. Harris spoke upon the view which Jesus took of the world, showing that He did not stop at the surface, but looked all the way into the heart of things. Miss Isaac sang a solo.

The Manning Glee Club.

On Saturday night the Manning Glee Club of Boston gave the third number of the Y. M. C. A. lecture course in the Baptist church. The concert was a most excellent one, the ten members of the Club all proving themselves to be artists and performers of superior merit. Some of the solos were more than ordinarily fine while the chorus work was excellent. The entertainment was all that it was advertised to be and well worth the price of admission.

The next number on the course will be on Feb. 2nd, when Alton Parker, the famous lecturer, will appear.

Change in Basketball Schedule.

The game scheduled with Mansfield Normal for Jan. 26th has been cancelled by Mansfield. To take the place of this game Bloomsburg Normal will probably play here Monday, Jan. 28th. Bloomsburg has a very strong team this year and this should be an interesting game. Princeton Theological Seminary with six ex-captains from different colleges has been placed on the schedule for a game here on March 1st. George Washington University will also play here sometime early in March.

Alumni Club to Banquet.

The Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia will hold their annual banquet this year at Kugler's celebrated cafe, 1412 Chestnut street. The affair will come off on the night of Monday, February 4th. A good attendance is expected and a most pleasant time for those present.

BUCKNELL 34; DELAWARE 4

Varsity Wins an Easy Victory and Displays Good Form.

The second game in the basketball series was played in Tustin Gymnasium Friday evening resulting in an easy victory for the Varsity. The final score was 34 to 4. From the start the result was never in doubt. It was only a question of how large a score would be made.

Unnecessary rough playing was indulged in by the visitors throughout, but as it did not seem intentional, Referee Turner called but few fouls, Delaware being penalized six times and the Varsity twice. Lenhart showed good form in throwing fouls, making four out of six. Delaware failed in both instances.

The first half was opened up by Wagner being fouled by Gilney after the toss-up. Lose and O'Brien soon followed, the scoring at the end of the first half standing 18 to 4. In this half Ward threw Delaware's two goals, one when not covered, the other a long, pretty shot. In the second half the Varsity scored sixteen points more and Delaware was blanked. In this half Rich was substituted for O'Brien and Gilney for Wagner.

Altho the Varsity won an easy victory and outplayed their opponents their passing was poor. This is a feature in basketball that, more than any other, makes the game fascinating to the spectator. In this instance where weight and superior ability in shooting made a victory sure, doubtless the temptation to make a long, sensational shot was too great to be resisted. Possibly the visitors' "unnecessary vim" and their light weight caused the team to take the game lightly and shoot at random.

BUCKNELL.
Lose, Capt., forward . . . Newman
O'Brien, Rich forward . . . Ward
Lenhart . . . center . . . Robin
Wagner, Gilney guard . . . Voss, capt.
Croop . . . guard Popperman, McArvey
Goals from field: Lose 5; O'Brien 5; Lenhart 2; Wagner 2; Croop 1; Ward 2. Goals from fouls: Lenhart 4. Referee, Turner Williamsport Y. M. C. A.; Timer, Hoskins; Time of halves 20 minutes.

Senior Class Play Committee.

Chairman Zugkewert has announced the following as members of the committee to have charge of the production of the Senior class play: Adams, August, Elmeser, Evans, Hall, Miss Jones, Miss Gleason and Miss Westcott.

Miss Schilling has consented to oversee the work this year and the play no doubt be a successful one in every way.

Communication.

Editor Orange and Blue:—

An editorial from some other college paper was posted on the bulletin board the past week that appealed to me very strongly. It was in regard to the matter of a college "slug" and it seems to me to be a mighty good suggestion.

Musical music and songs of our College at least seems to be widely lacking here, for what reason I do not know. We have plenty of good musicals and lots of musical ability, both vocal and instrumental. We have a number of rattling good Bucknell songs, too. But year after year we sing over and over our old and solemn dirges, "Ray Bucknell," "Ray for the Orange and the Blue," and get up about as much spirit with it as we should with the "Dead March in Sand."

Can't some thing be done along the lines suggested in the editorial in question? Can't we get together and have some "really real" songs brought out that will appeal to us as men and women of Bucknell and that will not only give us good cheer and good fellowship in singing them but that will be worthy of our College?

I have sounded a good many of the fellows on the matter and they all profess their desire to see it done but seem unwilling to take the initiative. Won't you open the columns of the paper for discussion? Let's get busy.

In reply to the above we will say that we believe heartily in the suggestion and that we should be glad to co-operate with him and all others interested in this desirable thing about. Communications on the subject will be given room gladly.

Dramatic Club Takes New Name.

The Girl's Dramatic Club has adopted a new name and will henceforth be known as "Frill and Frown."

The girls recently selected by the members of this organization are given and gold.

Under the direction of Miss Schilling "Frill and Frown" expects to do some work that is worth while.

At the regular meetings to be held every other Wednesday afternoon from four until six, the girls will read a number of papers on interesting subjects dealing with the histrionic art and artists. Dr. Perrine, too, has kindly consented to address the club on some subject pertaining to this branch of education.

Editorial

It should not be, and is not, the policy of this paper to be forever "knocking." But there are many trivial and comparatively unimportant things which we as students do that either increase or lessen the pleasure and comfort of our daily association with each other.

Of the latter class many are often the result of simple thoughtlessness and if called to our attention are easily remedied. And one of them is this—our habit of congregating in the halls during the passing of classes.

Our halls are amply wide, and our means of ingress and egress to and from class rooms and buildings sufficient, to permit the passing of the hundreds of students with only a very infrequent congestion, were it not for the fact that from a score to a hundred of the fellows line up to stare and gawk at those who pass. Worse than this—and equally unbecoming—is the thoughtless grouping and crowding in the very middle of the passage ways. These things, as was said, are but trivial, but how much less disagreeable to our professors and our fairer comrades would it be if we would let them pass without being jostled and ogled worse than if they were passing along the "bowery" instead of through the halls of Bucknell.

business signs, a companion to it being that of Reuben Heitz, Gules Shilman and Amos Diebler display like boards in Sunbury, while Shamokin is the scene of William Engle's legal effort. Arthur Mulford is a member of the bar in Bridgeport, N. J., and Livingston McQuestion is one of Butler's legal lights.
The doctors are Martin Ross, M. D., of Dilworthtown, and Albert Garner and Edwin Nesbit, both of whom graduated from Hahnemann, where they were afterward attached as resident physicians, the former being now one of Norristown's practitioners and the latter, one of Bryn Mawr's medical fraternity.
Two of the girls have married, Bertha Watkins being now Mrs. Bridge of Hammond, Ind., and Myra Spruzue being known to a host of friends in Hamilton, N. Y., as Mrs. Dunkle. Longhurst, R. L., claims the business ability of Ezra Lehman and Meadville is Edwin Huneston's business headquarters. Herbert and William Cook did not answer the inquiry card but are believed to be still in business in Silver Creek, N. Y. Albert Hutchison, of Gilbert Station, Iowa, also failed to respond, but is thought to be still at his former address. Oscar LeVan is in journalism in Philadelphia.

The hand of affliction has been laid upon William Todd, Allegheny being the place of his invalidism which bids fair to be permanent. One member of the class has answered to Death's grim roll call, William Warren having been "mustered out of service" in 1904, just when life was beginning to open up its fairest and happiest prospects. His death was a loss to his class and to the community in which he lived.

It shall be the duty of the Assistant Manager to assist the Manager in every way possible, and especially in the care of the equipment of the team.

NINETY-EIGHT

Who They Are: Where They Are: What They Are Doing.

As the writer of these class histories goes back down the years, the task of locating the members of the different classes, instead of becoming harder with the increasing lapse of time, becomes easier from the fact that they have generally become well settled in their various lines of work and, too, have come to achieve a larger name and reputation, making them so much the better known. The members of the class of ninety-eight are no exception and in the nine years' time since graduation have gotten well established in their different vocations and professions.

Seven of the forty-four members of the class are in the ministry. John Anderson completed his preparation at Crozer and is now pastor of one of Baltimore's Baptist churches. Joseph Cooke and John Coker also graduated from Crozer. Coker now being pastor at Picture Rocks, while Coker has gotten almost beyond the bounds of civilization at Baton, New Mexico.

John Landerbaugh is preaching in Oswego, N. Y., and George Davis in Elwood City, Indiana. William is pastor of the Oliver Baptist church in Minneapolis and Elwood Dutton is one of Buffalo's Baptist ministers. John Saul is a printer and stationer in Norristown, at the same time acting as a supply preacher for the churches in his vicinity.

In the field of teaching some of the best known and most successful of the class are here with us and need no introduction. Paul E. Withase is the University's able Assistant Professor of German and Benjamin Thomas is Principal of the Academy, while Charles Lindemann is our kindly, genial Assistant Professor of Mathematics. Grace Siffer, too, is still identified with Bucknell, as one of the Institute's popular instructors.

J. R. L. Diggs is a college president, having assumed the presidency, last fall, of State University, Louisville, Ky. James Stoker is Professor of Biology and Geology in Albright College at Meersstown. Mary Chambers is an instructor in Burlington Seminary at West Chester, and Emma Reinecke, after a graduate course at Columbia is now head of the English department in a girls' school in Cleveland, Ohio.

Advancement and preferment have come to those in public school work and we find Frederick Robbins, superintendent of Bethlehem's schools, and Simon Gilpin at the head of the schools of Virginia, Minn. Charles Koeb is principal of Phillipsburg's high school, while George Goad holds a like position in Carlsdale and Frank Golder is in high school work in Temple, Ariz.

Of the lawyers, Charles Clement's shingle is to be read in Shubury and Andrew Lester's in Harrisburg. Two of the class, Harry Fithian and Arthur Smith are attorneys in Williamsport where the latter is now being prominently mentioned as a candidate for Lycoming County's District Attorneyship. Levi Pitzer is a member of the firm of Pitzer and Griffies, 35 Wall Street, New York City. Forrester, thinking the West might furnish greater opportunity, College Bible Class.

Concerning the date of the creation of man, the Bible gives no information. That is not its purpose. The date computed by Geeser, 4000 B. C., is clearly too near the present. A great civilization existed in Babylonia 3500 B. C., and the development of a civilization requires a long time. This conclusion as to the antiquity of man is confirmed by the differentiation of languages and races, but most of all by the discovery of human remains in the crust of the earth. The creation of man dates back in the immemorial past. Nor does the Bible inform us as to the manner of the creation of man's body from the dust of the earth. In the Hebrew Scriptures, God the primal cause is put into immediate connection with the final effect. Second causes are usually omitted. God formed man from the dust of the earth, but it may have been through an indefinite number of second causes, or immediately. On this subject there has been for ages much speculation, for which full liberty should be permitted, no one trying to impose by authority his views upon others.

Basketball Games This Week.

No basketball games were played last week owing to Mansfield Normal cancelling and the postponement of the Senior-Sophomore game. The games scheduled for this week will, however, now take place as planned.

Refreshments over, the little remaining time passed all too quickly until twelve o'clock had struck and the guests departed well pleased with their evening and having a third but justly proud and happy lot of girls to discuss the evening's pleasures.

The decorations were this year more than usually elaborate. The class colors, purple and lavender were wound round the railings of the stairs and festooned over the doorways. In the school room scores of pennants and pictures hung on the walls, fraternally banners of every conceivable kind and color being in the majority.

A portion of the room was partitioned off for the creation of a Japanese room, decorated with vases of flowers and apple blossoms, where the punch was served. Japanese lanterns shed their mellow glow, and banks of laurel and spruce added to the attractiveness of the scene, while a large and elaborately trimmed corner will further varied the usual appearance of the room.

The class this year is an exceptional one, having made thus far an unusually brilliant record in their work. No special committees had charge of any part of the preparations, the class working all together, and the success of the affair attests the ability of its promoters.

Petition for Light in the Library.

A petition asking the college authorities to install lights in the Library has been circulated and seems to have met with the approval of nearly every student. Those taking engineering and those, also, who have to devote practically the entire day to the Laboratory are especially interested in its outcome. The petition seems one worthy of consideration since those taking these courses cannot by the present arrangement reap the benefits of our new Library.

Speakers for Junior Debate Chosen.

The preliminary debate on Friday evening resulted in Bertha Boyer, Bromley and Hummer being selected as the Juniors to compete in the Junior Debate. The question debated was: Resolved, that United States senators should be elected by direct vote of the people. The judges were Prof. Thomas and Prof. Chellis of Bucknell Academy and Prof. Smith of the College.

Y. M. C. A. Lecture Postponed.

The lecture by Alton Packard scheduled for Saturday night has been postponed owing to Mr. Packard's inability to be here on that date. The new date will be announced later.

INSTITUTE SENIORS RECEIVE

Class of 1907 Entertain Their Friends on Friday Night.

The "Senior Sen Reception," as it is popularly known, was held on Friday night in the Institute parlors and was a pleasing success in every way. About one hundred and twenty-five invited guests were present to enjoy the hospitality of their fair young hostesses and the affair was one of the most delightful in the history of the Institute.

At eight o'clock the guests began arriving and were received by the Reception Committee, composed of the following persons: Miss Mary Hoad, President of the Class; Miss Ada Moore, Vice President; Miss Frances Goff, Secretary; Miss Helen Harris, Treasurer; Professor and Mrs. Edwards; and Miss Bush.

The time passed rapidly in mutual introductions and conversation, while the Imperial Orchestra discoursed their sweetest music in their best style. Almost before it was realized, ten o'clock had arrived and the time for refreshments was come. These were served in the dining room, which was gorgeous with yellow chrysanthemums and similar, and were all that the most epicurean of tastes could ask.

Refreshments over, the little remaining time passed all too quickly until twelve o'clock had struck and the guests departed well pleased with their evening and having a third but justly proud and happy lot of girls to discuss the evening's pleasures.

The decorations were this year more than usually elaborate. The class colors, purple and lavender were wound round the railings of the stairs and festooned over the doorways. The Coming Junior Prom.

The coming Junior Prom, to be held on Feb. 22nd, promises to be one of the best given in years. The different committees are arranging things in their several departments in such a manner as assures it predestined success. The Southmore game and the Alumni game, both last games, come the night before, and the night after, respectively.

WEEK OF PRAYER OBSERVED

Special Services and Splendid Addresses Mark the Occasion

Preliminary to the Day of Prayer for Schools and Colleges observed all over the country on Thursday last, meetings were held in Bucknell Hall on Monday night and Tuesday night.

Professor Edwards was in charge of the meeting on Monday night and delivered an inspiring address on "Climbing the Cross." On Tuesday night, Professor Phillips had charge of the meeting and gave an address extending the topic of Monday night. Both talks were helpful and strong and were fully appreciated by those who heard them.

Thursday morning at 8 a. m. a prayer meeting was held under the leadership of Prof. Lindemann. A large number took part, which made the meeting a good preparation for the services to follow.

At 10:30 a large majority of the students, besides a goodly number of town people, gathered in the Baptist church for the main service of the day. Rev. A. F. Anderson, of Harrisburg, Pa., delivered the address. His text was the 14th verse of Psalm 25: "The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him, and he will show them his covenant."

In short, he said, "The theory of graduation may also be referred to the realm of the Spiritual; also, as there are different levels of the physical, so there are gradations of the Spiritual. A man must enter into the fulness of his own being if he would see things as they really are. He may live in a low valley, or upon the smit mountain top in a spiritual sense, but to do his best he must first find his best level."

"The text," he said, "reveals the mountain top of Spiritual life. The secret of the Lord denotes intimate friendship with God, which is man's nearest privilege to know and enjoy. This friendship reveals to man his highest privileges."

This intimacy must not only be one of friendship, but a love that prompts him to do God's will. This in turn will help him to interpret nature in its true meaning. It will give him knowledge which is the key to the universe, and under whose influence the lower motives and lower faculties will be cast down.

But mingled with this knowledge must be reverence. Piety is the mother of true philosophy. We may cheat on our best faculties if we have not reverence for God and his laws. Therefore, to achieve the highest level of being, man must be in friendship with God by doing His will, and with reverence, thus attain the knowledge of key to rightly interpret life as it really is."

At 3:00 p. m. in Bucknell Hall, Mr. Anderson addressed an audience again. This time his text was God's question to Moses—"What hast thou in thy hand?" He said in part: "That which Moses had in his hand can be likened to the talent or power that God has given us. God's question when applied to this involves a three-fold responsibility, that we discover what we have; that we develop it; and that we consecrate it."

At the morning service music was furnished by the Baptist choir and was very efficiently rendered under the leadership of Stolz, '07.

OUR EXCHANGES.

During the course of this year we have been in receipt of the following exchanges: The Dawn and White; The Cornell Daily Sun; The Lafayette; The Evening Star; The State Collegiate; The State Collegian; The Reserve Weekly; The Brown Daily Herald; The Weekly Gettysburgian; College Topics; The Albion Bulletin; The Allegany Literary Monthly; The Orange and Blue; The Franklin and Marshall Weekly; The Dartmouth; The Dickinsonian; The Denisonian; The Madisonian; The Phoenix; The Haverfordian; The Maryland Collegian; The Susquehanna; The Lesbian Herald; Impressions; The Orange and Purple; The Reformatory Record; The Amulet; The Washington-Jeffersonian; The Holmdel; The Etanion.

The fact that The Orange and Blue is primarily a news paper rather than one devoted to literary effort prevents our taking the notice of the various exchanges which their excellence deserves. We read with interest the news they give us of the various colleges and schools they represent, and with much pleasure some of the editorial and literary articles contained in them.

Some of them, it is true, are open to criticism in one way or another; poor arrangement characterizes some; some are weak in editorials; others give too much prominence to athletics; some of the college papers have more crude personalities than is befitting a college publication. But in one and all there is some particular excellence or good quality that makes them all welcome visitors to our table.

By arrangement with the Librarian one of the reading tables has been set aside for these publications and our own students have thereby the opportunity to enjoy the fruits of the efforts of their student-fellows elsewhere—an opportunity of which observation shows they do not fail to avail themselves.

A communication appeared in a recent issue of the paper relative to the origination of a college "slug," and looking toward the production of some new Bucknell songs as well as the revival of some of the old favorites of the past which seem to be little known to the undergraduate body of to-day.

The article was one well worth reading and had some excellent ideas in it. We need "slugs" or "smokers" or some sort of assembly whereby the students can get together and promote that good-fellowship which is an essential part of the development of every college man. We need, too, the mutual sympathy which such association produces and which helps us to keep in closer touch with what is going on about us.

But, above all, we need these meetings of the students for the production of a broader, stronger, richer college spirit—a greater love for Bucknell and her traditions.

Bucknell is worthy of our regard. True, she has not the enrollment of thousands nor the millions of wealth that belong to Yale and Harvard and Princeton. True, too, that she doesn't appear "in the public eye" with the glaring headlines that are given to her bigger sisters.

But size is not all the question in college life. Numbers and wealth and prestige give an advantage, but that does not necessarily signify that the small college is mean or ignominious.

Bucknell's aims are just as high, her principles just as true, her record just as clean and fair, as those of any college anywhere, large or small. Her alumni are achieving just as high place in life as those of her sister colleges and her place in the educational world is just as respected. Why, then, not feel proud of our association with her? And why not do all in our power to further this spirit of pride and to strengthen the affection which nothing can so well beget as mutual good-fellowship and sympathy?

The Manager of the Orange and Blue has offered to assist in the matter of working up the "slug" by publishing such songs as may be adopted, should any definite action be taken. May we not have further communications with ideas on the subject? And may we not, too, see an interest manifested that will lead to the taking of a definite step in this matter? We promise our unqualified support to any movement that may be started for the carrying out of the idea.

Freshman Basketball Team Defeated. On Saturday night the Freshman basketball team played the Locust Gap team at Locust Gap, Pa. The Locust Gap team proved too much for the Freshmen, winning a good, fast game by 32 to 14. The national rules hampered our boys, though Clark managed to get four baskets and Ditcher and Rich each got one. The game was unfortunately, largely advertised as being with the Varsity, and was so reported in many of the Sunday papers.

Editorial

Our signal victory in the Bucknell-Gettysburg basketball game was somewhat marred by discourtesy shown the visiting team on the part of the side lines. Several opposing teams have been jeered at in the past, but never before was such unkindness hissing and unspontaneous cheering toward a countering team, manifested on the floor of our gymnasium.

Surely, the attitude of our fans toward the Gettysburg team is not becoming to our reputation as a college and much less to our high standing in the athletic world. Bucknell has never stood for unfairness in athletics and certainly ought not to tolerate this mean, vulgar disposition that is characteristic only of a mean vulgar college.

Is over anything gained by such contemptible practices? Do we place so little confidence in the skill and ability of our own team, that we must have recourse to such tactics in order to win? Most emphatically, No. Our team neither approves of nor needs support of this nature. It has won every game thus far in the season by consistent playing and proper cheering and encouragement from the side lines. But never has it or any other team scored a victory by reason of the spectators' discourtesy, treatment of an opposing or visiting team.

When a contending athletic team of another college comes here, we are the hosts of that team. It is therefore our duty to receive and to treat a visiting team as a host would his guest. We cannot expect that our team will receive courteous and fair treatment at the hands of a college whose team we discountenanced and who, in turn, is unreasonable and our team has often been compelled to pay dearly the price of the thoughtless, mean-spirited deportment of our fellows toward visiting teams.

The deplorable practice, happily, is not indulged in by the entire student body. We are not all blowing whistles and goose. The thoughtful and fair-minded majority of the fellows express their disgust at, and disapproval of, this unbridled discourtesy of the narrow-minded minority.

And it is to be hoped either that this minority will join the well-bred and decent majority, or that the hangers will be "spotted" and requested to absent themselves from the games or be forcibly ejected from the gymnasium. We can't legislate a man into decency but we can prevent his offending us publicly by disgusting vulgarity and ill-breeding, such as is the subject of this criticism.

Phila. Alumni Club.

and has not been found wanting. The diploma of Bucknell is received at par the world over. Another test is that of life. The graduates of Bucknell maintain in church and state, in education and business, equal rank with the best. Hence, there has been possible the attraction of an increasing number of students to Bucknell. The average attendance in college for the past decades ending in 1895, was sixty-five. The present year the enrollment is 214. Since 1890, there has been no year without an increase in attendance. This increase in enrollment and the correlative and indispensable increase in resources have not been the work of any one man or of any hundred men, but of the tens of thousands of friends who know Bucknell and love it. The solid foundation of the college and the guarantee of its future are in the hands of its friends scattered over the globe. Bucknell is not a local institution, but now draws its students not only from Pennsylvania, but from the ten neighboring states, as well as here and there a student from all the states of the Union and from foreign countries.

We must not regard the work as done. When I first answered the question in school as to the population of the United States, I said twenty-three millions; now I would have to say eighty-seven millions. In not many decades, the answer will be two hundred millions. The character of this vast multitude will depend almost wholly upon education, including that from the work of the home, the press, the school and the church; and civilization rests almost upon character. It is a question, then, of being able to meet the demands made upon us, not of work enough to do. We must look forward to increasing growth, and increasing means to do the work that devolves upon us. We must expect by strenuous effort on part of all and liberal giving, that there will be invested in Bucknell in a future not far distant an endowment of not less than five millions and an equipment of half that amount. In time we want the resources of Bucknell to be such that no worthy student need feel of taking a full course of training for lack of assistance.

A number of Academy students participated in a short but pleasing musical entertainment on Wednesday evening. The chief feature of the musicale was a concert solo which was enjoyed immensely by all present.

On Friday night the basketball team won from Sunbury Y. M. C. A. by the score 48-8. This makes the fourth consecutive game that the team has won this year. Next Friday night a close game is expected with the Lewisburg A. A. The game will be called at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium.

James Elligberger a former Academy student is the left forward on the George Washington University basketball team. In a game with Virginia, won by the former by the close score of 18 to 17, he was clearly the star for the Washington five.

KIMONAS AND DRESSING SACQUES.

The season is here when winter stocks are gone over and clean up prices placed on many lines.

We do not mean to use the expression "wonderfully cheap," but the facts call for it in this instance. No other term can fittingly describe the values we have been able to prepare for this February clearance on elderdown kimonas and dressing sacques.

Take these short kimonas from 25c up for instance, and the long kimonas from 50c up and no such values have ever been offered before for the money.

The materials and style of these garments are so varied that description is impossible in this small space, suffice to say that exceptional values are in these lots and you can save from 40 to 50 per cent. from the regular price, becoming now and making a selection, ere the choice ones are called out.

These must be sold before the spring line arrives as our rule is never to carry stock over from season to season, hence these reduced prices on all flannelette and elderdown sacques.

The Shut-In Society.

A report of the Pennsylvania Branch of the well known Shut-In Society was received this week, which, though not particularly a college matter, is of general interest and in the laudable aim and praiseworthy work of the Society is worthy of notice everywhere.

The purpose of the Society is to cheer and brighten the lives of the unfortunate who are condemned by accidents or incurable illness to a life of invalidism. Letters, wonder bags, birthday cards, and so on, are among the gifts to the shut-ins, and wheel chairs, bed tables, and so on, are loaned to them without cost other than freight charges.

The branch desires to know of invalids to whom the Society can bring good cheer; also of any persons who may wish to become Associate or Subscribing members of the Society. Full information will be gladly furnished to anyone writing to the President, Miss Mary Parker Nicholson, 3510 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

Freshmen Hold Warm Meeting.
On Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Chemical Laboratory the Freshmen held one of the most heated class meetings of the year, an evidence of the interest manifested being shown in an attendance of ninety members of the Class.

It seems that a meeting had been called by the president of the preceding week without due notice to the members of the Class, and that notwithstanding the lack of a quorum—only thirty-nine being present—important business had been transacted. In consequence of this unfairness the Class demanded the meeting of Friday and by a vote of 53 to 37 rejected the minutes of the illegal meeting. Regular business was then taken up. Conover was unanimously elected manager of the class track team and Knapp was elected captain pro tem. of the team. Some further minor business was done and the meeting adjourned.

Bucknell Alumnae Club Entertains.
The Bucknell Alumnae Club, of Lewisburg, delightfully entertained the Irish Club, of Schuylburg, and the Century Club, of Milford, on Tuesday evening. The event took place in the parlors of the Institute and was attended by one hundred and twenty-five guests. The program consisted of a number of original papers and poems, while the music was furnished by Prof. Avramet's select orchestra of twenty-five pieces. The refreshments which were served in the dining room were heart shape and consisted of all the good things the season affords. One of the charming features of the evening was the social hour spent in the parlors after the serving of refreshments.

Mass Meeting Tonight.
A mass meeting is called for tonight at 9 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. hall in West College, to effect an organization for the giving of the annual College Men's Reception. This matter is of vital interest to all the men of the College and there should be a full turnout.

Results of Class Games.
The Junior and Freshmen basketball teams will fight it out for the honors in the inter-class series. Both have clean records thus far. Below is the result of games won and lost by the different teams up to the present time.

Juniors—played 2, won 2, lost 0.
Freshmen—played 1, won 1, lost 0.
Sophomores—played 2, won 1, lost 1.
Seniors—played 3, won 0, lost 3.

The Doings and Happenings of Its Twenty-six Members Told.

A little more than three hundred per cent. has been the ratio of increase in the number of students enrolled on the University's registry since the Class of 1895 bade farewell to their Alma Mater. In the year 1894-95 the enrollment was 171; this year it is 514. This brief space of time, too, has seen great improvement and growth in the material prosperity of the university, as well. The Carnegie Library has been erected; a modern and well equipped heating and lighting plant has been installed; a physical laboratory equipped; West College and Oak Hall completed with East College well under way; and many thousands of dollars have been added to the endowment fund.

The Class of 1895 have not failed to keep pace with the growth of Bucknell and are achieving equal success. Though only twenty-six in number they are not failing to make their impress on the world about them.

An indication of the sudden era of prosperity upon which the University entered during this period is seen in the fact that four of the members of the class are now attached to its staff of Professors and Instructors. Nelson F. Davis, after getting his B. S. D., was in 1899 appointed Assistant Professor of Organic Science and has since been made Professor of Biology. Leo G. C. Riemer took graduate work abroad and is now the efficient head of the Department of Modern Languages. Frank Simmons, after a graduate course at Cornell came back as Instructor and is Assistant Professor of Mechanical Drawing and Physics. Hromley Smith was in 1904 appointed Instructor in Oratory and Rhetoric.

Alfred, the teachers are. William Kauffmann who is Science Professor in the Brooklyn N. Y. High School; Edna Allen, who is Professor of Biology in State Normal College at Elliot, Mont. and Joseph Carey, who is Superintendent of Schools in Hanover, Pa. Frank Jackson was at one time consul to Greece, but found teaching preferable to diplomatic life and was recently elected Principal of Mt. Pleasant Institute, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.

Of the preachers of the Class there are six. William Crawford took his divinity course at Crozer and is now pastor of the Baptist church in Canby, N. Y. William Paulin, also graduated at Crozer, and is one of the Baptist pastors of Green Bay, Wis.

Thomas Hanna is a Baptist pastor in Jenkintown, a suburb of Philadelphia, living in the city at 717 S. 51st St. William Harris is another of Philadelphia's pastors, the North Baptist Church, Cor. of 22nd and Oxford streets, being his pastorate. Herbert Pease and Franklin Sigmund are the other two pastors, the former of the Baptist church at Haledale, Pa., and the latter at Elmhurst.

Two M. D.s are found in the list. The University of Pennsylvania Medical School having been the place of professional training for both. One of them, Benjamin Brick, has built a lucrative practice in Marlton, New Jersey, while Peter Cregar, the other, is one of Plainfield, New Jersey's, best known doctors.

The College Bible Class.

Among the problems gathering about the origin of man are whether man originated in one center or in several; or whether the species originated in one pair or in several. The record we are studying is not intended to answer, and does not answer those questions. The Bible is given for a religious and not a scientific purpose. The one majestic truth which our lesson teaches is that Jehovah God formed man. If He formed human kind in several centers, still He did it; if He formed man in one center and from one pair, that is the way He did it. As to the place where man was first formed, there is the widest divergence of opinion. Some eighty places have been proposed, from the land now covered by the Indian Ocean to the region near the North Pole. Some early commentators have inserted in the record the verses ten to fourteen of the Second Chapter of Genesis, which shows that at this time, the valley of the Tigris and Euphrates was thought to be the birthplace of the race, but there can never be more than an opinion on that question. What the great inspired prophet wrote is important and clear, and that is that Jehovah God formed man.

At the Way of Life meeting, Dr. Harris talked the efficient cause of salvation, showing that according to Scripture and in the light of men's own observation and experience, there is but one efficient cause of salvation and Christian character—the Spirit of God. Miss Zeller sang "Oh May My Walk Be Close With God,"—one of the prettiest solos sang at the meetings this year.

Basketball This Week.
This week will see the ending of the two most interesting, and probably the two best games of the season—the Swarthmore game on Thursday night and the Alumni game on Saturday night. The Swarthmore team was one of the fastest in the country last year, and is said to be equally good this year, while we all know what the stars among our "old grads" can do. Both the visiting teams will have about all they can handle for our record of victories this year is an unbroken one. Great games are expected in both cases.

Reserved seats will be for sale for the Swarthmore game in the bookstore on Wednesday at 4 p. m., and at Baker's on Thursday morning at 9-15. For Saturday's game the board will open at the bookstore at 4 o'clock on Friday, and at 9-15 on Saturday morning at Baker's. The general admission at each game will be thirty-five cents, and the reserved seats fifteen cents additional.

Junior Prom Next Week.
On next Friday night the annual Junior Prom will come off in the Armory and a great time is expected. The chairman of the different committees report that the indications all point to the affair's as the most successful Prom ever given here, an unusually large number of acceptances having been received of the invitations recently sent out.

Coming as the dance does, between two such important games as the Swarthmore and the Alumni, a heavy representation of "old grads" is expected to be on hand.

SAYFORD MEETINGS

S. M. Sayford, Holds a Series of Meetings.

During the past week under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. a series of very good meetings was held by S. M. Sayford, of Boston, well known the country over in Association and church circles.

The opening address was given by Mr. Sayford on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock before a gathering of several hundred students and professors.

Mr. Sayford related what he calls his "Beemias Story." It is the story of how he was led to take up religious work among the colleges of the United States at the suggestion of a young fellow by the name of Harry Beemias, who was a Junior at Amherst at the time that Mr. Sayford first preached before the students of that college. Beemias was touched by his talk and was converted.

He and a number of his most intimate friends, noticing Mr. Sayford's influence over the fellows at Amherst, thought that perhaps he would meet with similar success in other colleges, and so offered to raise money enough among the rich men of Boston to pay his expenses if Mr. Sayford would try the work for a year. This offer to Mr. Sayford took place twelve years ago, and from that time to the present Mr. Sayford has followed the suggestion offered at Amherst.

On Monday evening Mr. Sayford spoke on the different ways of becoming acquainted with people. He said there were three:—Through hearsay; through introduction; and through personal contact. He then developed the fact that these are the ways not only of knowing people but also of knowing God.

The Conversion of Paul was the topic discussed on Tuesday night. The speaker showing that Paul had the most essential characteristics required of the Christian—obedience.

On Wednesday night the talk was on Purity of Manhood and was an earnest, forceful presentation of views that are well worth the heed of every man, be he Christian or not. This meeting closed the series.

Mr. Sayford was assisted throughout by State Y. M. C. A. Sec'y of Colleges, Mr. Bonar, who is a graduate of Dickinson College and is well liked by the student body.

Major Shorkey Dead.

Maj. Geo. Shorkey, well known to Lewisburg and students of Bucknell, died on Feb. 12th, of heart failure at Hawthorn, Fla., where he was spending the winter.

Maj. Shorkey had a most enviable war record. He entered the service in 1861 as First Lieutenant of Co. H, 53rd Regiment. He participated in thirty-seven of the battles of the war, being wounded six times, and was finally raised to the rank of Major in the Regular Army in 1866 for gallantry and was brevetted by President Lincoln for heroic service.

He served on the frontier and as a member of the Magazine Gun Board until 1885, when, on account of ill health he was retired. Since then he has divided his time between New York City, the South, and Lewisburg, where he made his home with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Shorkey.

Editorial

As noted in another column, there is to be a mass meeting on Monday night for the men for the purpose of organizing to carry out the annual College Men's Reception.

Unfortunately, though the affair was a success notwithstanding the Reception last year became popularly known to many as the "West College Reception." This was certainly a misnomer and wholly out of accordance with the spirit and purpose of the affair.

The Reception is not a "West College Reception," it is "The College Men's Reception," and appertains to all our college men whether they room in West College, or in Main College, or in the town. Trust it is held in West College, but that is simply because there is no other available place for holding it.

Then, too, the mistaken idea seems to prevail that it is a fraternity men's affair. This notion is just as erroneous as the other. The non-fraternity men took, in some cases, an even larger interest in it last year than did the majority of the fraternity men, and, we venture to say, derived a correspondingly larger enjoyment. Men, let us all turn out, then, to this meeting and get things under way so well that our Reception shall be truly representative of what Bucknell's men can do, and worthy of our friends to whom the Reception is extended.

The coming of E. M. Sayford here last week was an undoubted good to Bucknell. While he did not conduct "revival services" in the popular sense of the word, we believe that he did set the fellows thinking and thinking along the right line.

Mr. Sayford himself is a quiet, plain, straightforward man—a man, in every sense of the word, ready to help and advise but too gentlemanly to thrust himself upon the fellows if not sought for. In his inobtrusive way, we believe his visit has been of benefit and profit to the University and we shall be glad to welcome him again.

An Account of 1895.

Only one of the class entered the Law. Andrew Loomis got his LL. B. at Columbia and was admitted to the bar in New York City where he has succeeded in acquiring a large clientele.

William Carey found business more attractive than professional life, and located in Downingtown, Pa., where he is manager of a large garage. Philip Dickerson has emigrated to the West and is in business in Pawlusk, Okla. William Sheddian went into library work and is at present Assistant Librarian of Princeton Theological Seminary. Benjamin Wagenseller entered a similar field, being at present Assistant Curator at the Philadelphia Museum, in which city he has his home at 674 Brooklyn St.

Don Cuyd exercised his wiles successfully with the feminine part of the class and all three of the women members have forsaken single-blessedness. Minnie Cotton became the wife of Perry S. Calvin, '92, and is mistress of the Baptist parsonage in Kittanning. Albert E. Flinn, '94, also disregarded the mutual animosity supposed to exist between succeeding classes, and made Cora Perry his bride. They are living happily in Plainfield, N. J., where Mr. Flinn is a Baptist pastor. Kate McLaughlin was wooed and won by Harry S. Bourn, ex-'95, of Lewisburg.

One of the class has passed beyond. Herbert Schuyler died in 1897 at his home in Turbotville, mourned by a host of friends, who knew his sterling worth and unusual ability.

The most interesting game yet played in the inter-class series was that between the Seniors and Freshmen on Saturday afternoon. At the end of the first half the score read 12-7 in favor of '07 but the Freshmen got together early in the last half and by clever work won easily, the final score being 22-12. The line-up:—

FRESHMEN. SENIORS.
Clark (Harris) forward . . . Leach
Rich, Capt. . . forward . . . Smiletsky
Harris (Clark) . . center . . . Smiletsky
Butcher . . . guard . . . Buer, capt.
Croop . . . guard . . . Rockwell
Goals from field: Clark 5; Harris 2; Butcher 2; Rich 1; Wagner 3; Rockwell 2; Leach 1. Goals from fountains: Harris 2; Smiletsky 1. Referee Owens, '09. Timer Hoskins. Time of halves 15 and 10 minutes.

Junior-Sophomore Game.

The Junior-Sophomore game was played on Friday evening resulting in a victory for '05 by the score 26-11. Neither the small admission—ten cents, nor the one-sided score, indicates the excellent game put up by both teams. In fact it was a faster and more interesting contest than the Varsity' game the night previous. The line-up:—

JUNIORS. SOPHOMORES.
Low . . . forward . . . Ritter
Hawick, capt. . . forward . . . Owens
Leubart . . . center . . . O'Brien
Gibney . . . guard . . . Oigen, capt.
Niple . . . guard . . . Hallman
Goals from field: Low 5; Niple 5; Hawk 4; Leubart 2; Gibney 1; Owens 2; O'Brien 2; Ritter 1. Goals from fountains: Leubart 2; Ritter 1. Referee Bingham, Gettysburg. Timers, Hoskins. Time of halves 20 minutes.

Prof. and Mrs. Davis Entertain.

Prof. and Mrs. Davis gave a Valentine party for about twenty of their student friends last week that was greatly enjoyed. Guessing games and contests of various sorts were features of the evening, not the least pleasing being the making of "maple wax" which formed part of the refreshments and which was something new to most of the guests. After the distribution of the prizes won in the contests, the assembly broke up, having spent a most pleasant evening.

ALUMNI TEAM DEFEATED

Fastest Game of the Season a Victory for the Varsity.

In the most exciting game of the season the Varsity won from the Alumni 29-16. The Alumni held the lead by a narrow margin during all of the first half and the early part of the second. The score was tied three times in the latter half and the game was anybody's up until the final call of time. This uncertainty of the final result lent a keen interest and spice to the game—an element lacking in all the contests preceding the Swarthmore game.

Good team work was the strong factor which gave the Alumni the lead from the start-off. The Varsity seemed unable to keep the ball. When they did get it they shot at random. During the first half, failure on their part to follow up their shots undoubtedly cost them many points. In the second half, however, they pulled together and played in the form which they have displayed in all the games thus far. In this half their team work and accuracy in shooting put them ahead and won the game—the eighth victory out of the same number of games played.

For the Alumni, the work of Anderson and Cockill stood out prominently. The former throwing three goals, the latter two besides also contributing six goals from offenses out of eleven chances. O'Brien, Lose, and Lenhart did good work for the Varsity. O'Brien scored three goals and Lose two. Two of these goals thrown by the former were pretty shots from long distance. Lenhart threw ten foul goals out of seventeen possible ones. Eight of those thrown by him were in consecutive order and came just when needed most. The line-up:

O'Brien . . . Forward . . . Griffin
Lose, Capt. . . Forward . . . (Capt.) Dill
Lenhart . . . Centre (Kridler) Kruger

The College Bible Class.

With the introduction of man there began on this planet a new line of development. Since man appeared there has been a constant evolution of animal with higher organization than his. The development thereof is a psychological and moral, the development of individual character, of societies and of science and art. Man marks an epoch in development. Progress is not regular, but by epochs, yet with continuity. In the preceding there is always a prophecy of, and preparation for, the new. So we find in animals a rudimentary psychological nature and social communities. Man, however, becomes a conscious factor in his own progress, and in this differs wholly from the brute. While it is true that nations develop according to a plan not consciously their own, yet they also consciously move toward an end. This is more evident in the case of individuals, and the resultant of the purposes of the individuals becomes the moral goal of the nation. Though the term soul is applied to brutes, and by some to plants, yet the human soul is different in kind from the formative principle, or plan, of a tree or the soul of the brute.

Prof. Riemer's Talk.

On Thursday afternoon Prof. Riemer delivered a talk before the Bucknell Historical Society on Ancient Scandinavian Sagas. He discussed the origin and influence they have had on Scandinavian literature and life. The talk was thoroughly good and was greatly enjoyed by those who heard it.

THE JUNIOR PROM

Juniors Give a Successful Dance On Friday Night.

On Friday night, Washington's Birthday, the annual Junior Prom was given in the Armory under the auspices of the class of 1907. The affair was an unqualified success from every point of view and from the overture to the "Home, Sweet Home" waltz nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the event.

The decoration committee, under the chairmanship of Luther Piesol had succeeded in changing the dingy interior of the old Armory into a most attractive hall. Hundreds of yards of red, white and blue, and orange and blue, bunting hung from the ceiling and draped its borders, while the walls were almost hidden with a multitude of fraternity and other banners and pennants. Drapery of the class colors, brown and white covered the windows, and masses of evergreen filled the corners, adding freshness to the scene.

The interest attaching to this week from the fact of the Swarthmore and Alumni games, along with the Prom itself had the effect of increasing the attendance, there being nearly seventy-five couples present, many of them from out of town.

Stewart Duncan and his committee who had charge of the music and programs had things very well arranged, and the music which Constock's orchestra played for the dancing was unusually good. The programs were dainty white ones with brown silk cord and white pencils, and were embellished with the College seal.

Ernest Morris was chairman of the committee that had charge of the refreshments, which were served this year by colored waiters instead of by underclassmen as heretofore, and which were very good.

In every respect the affair was successful and much credit is due the Juniors for the able manner in which it was carried out.

College Sing Under Way.

At the mass meeting held last Monday night to arrange for the College Men's Reception the question of new and better Bucknell songs was brought up. Evans, '07, was elected to take the matter in charge and empowered to select his own committee to assist him in the work. He has arranged his committee as follows: Burrows, '07; Miner, '07; Potter, '08; Sprunt, '08; Strum, '08. The plans of the committee, for carrying out the idea, are not yet definitely formulated, but will be approved soon. It is expected that the women of the College will appoint a similar committee to participate in the movement.

Col. Weaver Reappointed.

Col. Joseph K. Weaver, M. D., '61, of Norrisport was last week reappointed by Gov. Stuart as Surgeon General of the National Guards of Pennsylvania.

Hunsberger Elected Pastor.

John E. Hunsberger, '04, who will graduate from Crozer Theological Seminary this year, has already been elected to a pastorate, the Baptist church, of Canton, Pa., having last week called him to its pulpit.

College Men's Reception Under Way.
Last Monday night a mass meeting was held in the Y. M. C. A. hall in West Lewisburg to form an organization to conduct the annual College Men's Reception. Saylor, '07, was elected chairman of the organization and given full control over all matters with power to appoint such committees as are necessary.

Chairman Saylor has since named the following committees: Invitations, Burrows, '07, chairman; Leach, '07, McColl, '07, Brockway, '07, Rockwell, '07; Decorations, Stratton, '08, chairman; Hawk, '07, Haller, '08, Strum, '08, Henderson, '08, Rangbourn, '09; Entertainment, Minor, '05, chairman; Manchester, '08, Hamm, '09, Street, '09, Roser, '10; Finance, S. R. Smith, '09, chairman; Noll, '08, Haggerty, '09, Poffenberger, '09, Wiant, '10.

Chairman Saylor has had the honor of nearly seven years' experience in the life of the Academy and the College and is thoroughly acquainted with conditions to be faced and difficulties to be overcome. With the help of the able committees he has appointed there is no doubt of the final success of the Reception.

ADDRESS ON SIDNEY

Dr. Perrine Gives Brilliant Talk On The Famous Englishman.

Friday being Washington's Birthday, the regular sessions of the College were omitted, the feature of the day being an able address by Dr. Perrine before the student body. The speaker broke away from the common place custom of eulogizing "The Father of His Country," devoting himself, instead, to a painting of the life and traits of the first of all England's gentlemen—Sir Philip Sidney. Dr. Perrine said in part:

Newman may describe, as he has described in faultless phrase, the characteristics of a true gentleman nobler than any of whom Chesterfield ever dreamed; nevertheless, the world is coaxed away from his low stolidity, not by the proclamation of glittering abstractions, but by the persuasive voice of men of like passions with itself calling downward from the heights to which they have striven, and illustrating by word and deed the glorious attainments that are possible to humanity. At least one such English people have produced; and of him one, who shared his boyish sports and who helped carry him to his grave amid such lamentation as London has never known before or since said: "His wit and understanding bent upon his heart to make himself and others, not in word and opinion but in life and action, good and great." This was the ruling passion of the short life of "Philip Sidney—born," so Symonds in our day has written, "to show the world what goes to the making of an English gentleman."

Sidney was born to the purple. Named for Philip of Spain, a king, an earl and a duchess were his godparents. From Henry the Eighth's time the Sidneys had been warriors, diplomats, courtiers; while in all England there was no greater name than Dudley, his mother's. Yet with all the advantages of birth and station he said: "I will walk upon my own feet; I will work with my own hands; I will speak my own mind." He declined to live in the light of prominence reflected by his relatives; and in carving a place for himself he did it in the way that has the sanction of the ages.

Before he was twenty-four years of age he had sought out the best that was to be seen and known on the Continent, witnessing the massacre of St. Bartholomew, contracting a rare and beautiful friendship with the noble Langnet many years his senior, studying astronomy and music and politics in Venice, becoming acquainted with the champions of religious liberty in the various countries through which he passed, learning all he could of statecraft as it was practiced in this court and that; withal, conducting himself so wisely that William the Silent, to whom he had been sent as ambassador, wrote to Queen Elizabeth that in his opinion she had in Sidney, young as he was, one of the ripest and greatest counselors of state that lived in Europe.

Sidney subordinated, as one has said, self culture of every kind, dear to him as this was, to the ruling purpose of useful public action; and yet, in all he thought and said and did, one notices the poetic temperament.

Editorial

One of the most pleasing features of the Swarthmore game on Thursday night was the fair treatment shown the visiting team by the student body. Not only was there none of the too frequent hissing and cat-calling, but good plays by the visitors were time and again applauded.

This is as things should be. We men and women of Bucknell are surely too far above the level of ill-breeding to vent our disappointment at the outcome of plays and games upon the visiting players who may worst our own representatives. And we are also, we hope, sufficiently broad and fair minded to appreciate good work and to render it its just measure of recognition and applause. It is certainly to be hoped that this spirit of fairness will continue, and not only that there will be no future occasion for criticism but also that as true "sportsmen" we shall be able to show our approval of good work on the part of either Bucknell's men or their opponents.

Address on Sidney.

ament in full force. Did he think? He was in search of the inner truth so beloved by the singers of our race. Did he speak? It was, so William Browne declared, "in accents more melodious than Orpheus' harp or Tully's golden tongue." Did he act? The very sweep of his lance, had in it a sweet, attractive grace. These words are extravagant; but when the chorus of praise is so universal while he was living and since he is dead, proceeding from all ranks of men, it is impossible not to believe that there was more than mere fatherly pride in his father's words to his other son Robert: "Imitate Philip's virtues, exercise, studies, and actions. He is a rare ornament of this age."

The last act of Sidney's life, as he passed on the cup of water to the stricken soldier by his side, and those immortal words—"Thy necessity is greater than mine"—show that he stood on a spiritual elevation that enabled him to see beauty and hear music which only the chosen few can see and hear. Dying ere he had reached the thirty-second milestone, like Keats and Shelley, he is among the inheritors of unfulfilled renown; and, while we grieve over his untimely taking off, we may rejoice to know that one of the finest gentlemen in the long line of human history spoke the same language we speak and steered his life under and by the same stars to which we look for guidance and help.

Basketball.

Two games are scheduled for this week. On Tuesday evening the Sophomores and Freshmen meet in what should be a fast game. The reserved seats for this game will be on sale at College Book Store Monday at 4 p. m., and at Baker's on Tuesday at 9.15 a. m. Price 10 cents. Admission 25 cents.

Reserved seats on sale at College Book Store Thursday at 4 p. m. and at Baker's Friday at 9.15 a. m.

Mrs. Henry M. Bliss.

On Saturday morning, Feb. 23rd, in Washington, D. C., there passed to her rest Mrs. Bliss, wife of Henry Harman Bliss, Esq., and mother of George R. and Norman E. Bliss, all graduates of Bucknell.

Mrs. Bliss was of New England birth. She became in her young womanhood a teacher in the schools in Washington, and twenty-five years ago became the wife of Henry Harman Bliss. As teacher, as wife and mother, as well as member of the church and of the community, she left the impress of a firm and womanly character.

The interment was at Lewisburg, where she was laid away on Tuesday morning beside the grandfather of her sons, Rev. George Ripley Bliss, L.L.D., for twenty-five years professor of Greek in Bucknell University, a man esteemed by all who knew him.

Phi Kappa Psi.

Founder's day of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity was celebrated by the local chapter and the Sunbury Alumni Association in the chapter halls on Wednesday night. The fraternity has been in existence fifty-five years and the Bucknell chapter fifty-two years. The entertainment was the usual "smoker" plan, in addition to which Mr. Greitzinger made an address upon the history of the Bucknell chapter. Among those present were Dr. Harvey E. Smith, Harrisburg, Pa.; Morris F. Reading, Williamsport, Pa.; Messrs. Clement, Cressinger, Elscholtz, Purdy and Hoard, of Sunbury; S. H. Schoch, of Sellersgrove; Mr. Schooley, Montgomery; W. C. Greitzinger, J. M. Wolfe, W. A. Bartol, Harry Bourne, of Lewisburg.

Amos Williams, '96, Dead.

Amos Thomas Williams, M. D., of the class of 1896, died last week in South Carolina. He had gone there with his invalid mother to spend the winter, and while there contracted fever and died after a brief illness. The funeral took place last Thursday from his late home in Ridgway. Dr. Williams while in college was prominent in college activities, excelling especially in tennis. After graduation here he took the medical course at University of Pennsylvania. Having gotten his degree he entered upon his profession in Ridgway where he soon built up a very successful practice. His untimely death is sincerely regretted by a host of friends.

Pretty Nuptials.

On the evening of Washington's Birthday, First Floor, Oak Hall, was made the scene of the most brilliant function that the "Sem" has known for many a day. A mock wedding it was called, tho in many ways it was very realistic as all those who were present can vouch for. The wedding however, indubitably a "thing of beauty," occupied the alcove in the middle of the hall, while directly opposite a very imposing orchestra was stationed. Promptly at eight o'clock, to the exquisite andante movement of the Lohengrin Wedding March, the bridal procession appeared; in due time they reached the altar, and the preacher, black-robed, solemn-faced, performed the ceremony. This ended, gay orchestral strains, congratulations, and showers of rice ensued, and there followed the wedding ball and the wedding supper. Chief among the fifty or more guests in attendance were Miss Ruth Dean Edwards, Professor Avramet, and the members of the Institute Faculty, Mrs. Joseph Wolfe and Miss Mary Josephine Wolfe and George and Martha Washington. In the hasty and mysterious disappearance of the bride and groom on their honeymoon they omitted to leave their names; but despite this much-to-be-regretted fact we are able to extend hearty good wishes for their future happiness.

Princeton Theological Seminary Easy.
The Varsity had no trouble in winning from Princeton Theological Seminary on Friday evening, the final score being 35-15. The visitors played fairly well in defense work but had little success in advancing the ball. Instead of dribbling, they either used a short pass, or a long oval or rainbow pass which generally gave the ball to a Bucknell player in short order.

The first part of the game was warmly contested but the Varsity soon took the lead, due to a succession of long distance shots rather than team work. O'Brien scored the first two goals, both of them pretty shots. Lose took the next basket

FRESHMEN WIN

Interesting Game Between the Under Classes Results in a Victory for '07

The annual inter-class basketball game between the Sophomores and Freshmen was played on Tuesday evening, the Freshmen winning by the score 31-20. The game was an interesting one from the start-off and its final outcome was in doubt until the latter part of the last half.

The Freshmen, however, always retained the lead and clearly outplayed their opponents. Their final score would have been considerably larger but for the fact that many of their tries for the basket were hard luck shots.

A feature of their play was their dribbling and all-around team work. Because of this they kept the ball in their own territory most of the time. Both teams did some pretty long distance shooting and their failure in making comparatively easy goals may be traced to over-anxiousness on their part.

In the first half, O'Brien scored five times for '06 and Ritter once. The former also threw one foul ball out of a possible six, which, in addition to the six field goals, netted '06 thirteen points for the first period. Harris, Clark, and Rich each tallied twice and Croop once for '07, which, in addition to a foul goal thrown by Harris out of four possible ones, gave them fifteen points for the first half.

With the score 15-13, the Freshmen opened the second half with more vim and by fast work soon had a safe lead. In this half Rich again scored two goals, while the rest of the team contributed one each. Harris threw four goals out of five attempts, which, with their six field goals, gave them their total score, thirty-one points. For '06, Ritter scored twice and Croop twice and Owens once. O'Brien threw one foul goal out of five tries which, with their three field goals, gave them their final count twenty points. The line-up: Freshmen: Butcher . . . forward . . . Ritter Harris . . . forward (Rolle) O'Brien Clark . . . center . . . Owens Sophomores: Croop . . . guard . . . (capt) Ogden Rich (capt) . . . guard . . . Kase

Goals from field: Rich 4; Clark 3; Harris 2; Croop 2; Butcher 1; O'Brien 5; Rolle 2; Ritter 1; Fetter 1. Offences called: On Sophomores 9; on Freshmen 11. Goals thrown from offences: Harris 5; O'Brien 2. Referee: Tuseff, (Susquehanna). Time, Hoskins: Time of halves 20 min.

The 57th Catalogue Out.
The fifty-seventh annual catalogue of the University, which has just been issued, shows an attendance in the College of 511 and in all departments of seven hundred and twenty-nine. The names of two trustees deceased are marked with a star, Hon. William B. Hanft, D. C. L., and Hon. John B. Stenson. A new name has been added, Charles S. Walton, Esq., of Philadelphia.

Solid Geometry has been added to the entrance requirements for the General Science, Biological and Chemical courses, as before for the Engineering courses. Higher degrees, C. E. and E. E., are offered, upon certain conditions, to graduates, respectively, in the Civil and Electrical Engineering courses.

A prize in Logic has been established by Professor Hare in memory of his daughter, Anna Moore Hare, and a scholarship in memory of his son, John Howard Hare.

A friend is considering the New Cottage for Women as a memorial to a brother, but the matter has not yet been consummated. No more worthy memorial can be established than the endowment of a department, chair or scholarship or the payment for a building in a college.

Alumnae Club Meets.
The Philadelphia Bucknell Alumnae Club met in the First Baptist church in Philadelphia last Tuesday. After a business meeting at 11:30 luncheon was served, after which a varied and interesting program was given. About fifty were present.

WHEREABOUTS OF 1894

What the Thirty-one Members of the Class Are Now Doing.

Thirteen is said to be an unlucky number but the facts regarding the class that graduated thirteen years ago do not seem to bear out the statement. Each and every member is making a success of his or her work in life; all accounts go to show that happiness and prosperity attend this success; and, best of all, upon not a single one of the class has Death yet laid his heavy hand.

A deep religious zeal seems to have pervaded the class, almost half its number having entered upon Christian work. Andrew Anderson, who delivered the able sermon listened to by the students of the University on the College Day of Prayer, January 24th, entered ministerial work and is pastor of one of Harrisburg's leading Baptist churches.

Perry Calvin and Robert Davidson, both B. D.s, at Chicago. The former is in charge of the First Baptist church of Kittanning and the latter of one of the Baptist congregations of Detroit, Mich. Ralph Shaw also took his theological course at Chicago and after getting his degree settled in Cleveland, Ohio, where he is a well known Baptist pastor.

Crozer was the place which five of the men selected for their divinity study: Raymond Davies after completing his work there entered active ministry and is present pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist church, Williamsbridge, New York City. Albert Finn is ministering to the spiritual needs of the First Baptist church of Plainfield, N. J., and Charles Williams is doing likewise for one of the Baptist congregations of Warren, Mass.

George Wald, is engaged in a little different line of Christian work, being editor of "The Michigan Christian Herald," Michigan's State Baptist paper, and serving also as Secretary of the Michigan State Baptist Convention. He lives in Detroit at 88 Griswold street. Joseph Wood, the other Crozer graduate decided that two '94 people could battle with life together better than alone, and so wooed and won Eliza Bell, one of the girls in the class. They are living happily in Hollidaysburg, Pa., where Mr. Wood is pastor of the Baptist church.

Thomas Pretz sought the distant Pacific Coast for a field in which to labor and is now pastor of the Baptist church of Kent, Wash. Rosedale, Kansas, in the middle West is the scene of Charles McMan's pastorate and Morganton, N. C., in the sunny South, is the place where Albert Wykoop guides his spiritual flock.

Fred Schab, after a successful pastorate in Chicago, was induced to give up the ministry for educational work and is an instructor in the University of Texas, at Austin, Texas. Almon Lathrop is pastor of the First Baptist church of Clearfield, Pa., where he is meeting with great success.

Of the five girls of the class two are married. Mary Batto took a graduate course at University of Pennsylvania for her Ph. D. Lewis Theiss, '02, however, persuaded her that married life, not profession, is woman's sphere, and they are happily married and living in New York City.

THE COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

The primitive garden in which man was placed had but little effect in the thought of the Hebrew people. In the psalms which are the response of the heart of the people to the history and law, there is no mention of it. Isaiah refers to it once only. The reason is that it was the mission of the Hebrew people, a mission now devolved on Christianity, to turn the thought of the world to the future. With the early people we have first the age of gold, then of silver, of bronze and of iron. The religion of the Hebrews was one of hope; and this is true with greater emphasis of Christianity. Christianity is not a one-sided optimism which denies or ignores evil, but a rational optimism which recognizes evil and offers a remedy, and looks confidently to the triumph of righteousness in the earth.

Change in Basketball Schedule.
The basketball schedule has been changed so that the Junior-Freshman game will occur on March 6th and the George Washington University game on March 12th. The date of these two games have simply been interchanged.

The Junior-Freshman game is the last one to be played in the inter-class series and on its outcome depends class supremacy in basketball for this season. Both teams have a clear record thus far, each having decisively defeated the Seniors and Sophomores teams. Without doubt it will be the fastest and hardest class game of the year. Reserved seats for this game will be on sale at Sollege Book Store on Tuesday at 4 p. m., and at Baker's on Wednesday at 9:15 a. m. Price 10 cents. Admission 25 cents.

On Saturday evening Dickinson Law School plays here. Reserved seats on sale at College Book Store Friday at 4 p. m., and at Baker's Saturday at 9:15 a. m.

Lecture by Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper.
Tuesday, Mar. 5th, at 8 p. m., in the Baptist Church, Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, of New York City, will lecture on the subject "Optimism versus Pessimism, or the World Growing Better." The Y. M. C. A. has gone to considerable expense ($100 for the lecturer alone) to secure Dr. Tupper. Dr. Tupper is not only an instructive lecturer, but entertaining as well, holding his audience for over an hour by his eloquence and without once referring to any notes. Dr. Harris will introduce Dr. Tupper to the audience.

The lecture of Alton Packard which was postponed from Feb. 2nd will be given Monday, April 29th. Further particulars of this lecturer will be given later.

College Y. W. C. A. Candy Sale.
The "Chocolateaire" given by members of the College Y. W. C. A. on Saturday from two to five p. m. was a delightful social function. Owing to the fact that it was not well known among the fellows—the artistic ad, put on the bulletin board making next souvenirs—the attendance was somewhat limited. The knowing ones who did venture down were liberal buyers, however, of the excellent candy and refreshments offered, and a fair fund was added to the Y. W. C. A.

Invitations Appear.
Invitations for the College Girls' reception to be held on Friday evening, March 8th, made their appearance Wednesday. Since the invitations are sent out under a new plan this year, but one invitation being allowed each girl, it is important that the fortunate ones acknowledge the same at once. It is needless to say that "acceptances" will be greatly in the majority.

Bucknell Catalogue.
The catalogue of Bucknell University for the school year of 1906-1907 has just been issued from the press. Copies of the catalogue can be secured by addressing the Registrar. Names of prospective students are particularly requested.

THE MINSTREL SHOW

The Annual Show Proves to be one of the most Enjoyable events.

The annual Bucknell Minstrel Show was given at the Lewisburg Opera House on Saturday evening and was "as good as ever," which is saying it was real good. The performance given this year compared favorably with those given in former years, and if anything, excelled later year exhibitions.

Each time the Minstrel comes we think it has reached its zenith in artlessness, funniness, and elaborate settings, but each time we find it a little better than the time before, and Saturday evening's performance was no exception.

The opening scene presented the full chorus with the exception of the two premier end men, Grimmer and Evans, who were "casually" introduced by Shoemaker, Interlocutor, a little later in the scene. The singing of the chorus was very effective and the soloists rendered their parts in a pleasing manner. Burrows, Nottaker, Evans, Fritz, Parsons and Grimmer had solos and were obliged to respond to numerous encores.

The olio portion of the program between the solos was well taken care of by Godshall, Shrum, Gardner, Hawk, Grimmer and Evans, and the jokes were crisp and clean and never failed to tell.

In the second part, Grimmer appeared in monologue. In his familiar droll style, he got a friendly welcome and was recalled again and again. His improvised songs set to catchy music were well received. Gardner and Shrum next appeared in their song hit, "What Poor Fools We Morals Be."

Way offered "a little mandolin and some banjo." Each brought out his part well.

A fitting climax was "The Great Lafayette," introducing his band of eminent artists. "These musicians had been collected from all parts of the country, specially for the occasion." And they made a decided hit. Their music proved excellent and under the direction of "The Great Lafayette"—Evans—it was very effectively rendered, being received with the same unalloyed enthusiasm.

All in all, this year's Minstrel was an excellent one, well planned, and cleverly executed. Popular prices prevailed and the large crowd present were well pleased, the more so, when the object for which the show is given is such a worthy one—a new Athletic Field.

EDITORIAL

As another term draws to its close, the student is forcibly reminded of the fact that "Time waits for no man" and that he, as his own master, has accomplished possibly less in the time elapsed than he had mapped out, coming fresh from his holiday vacation. His plan or system formed at that time has been bent and twisted, has been rendered subordinate to other college activities, until a disordered state of affairs has resulted, producing a discouraging, or at least, a disquieting frame of mind.

Yet if he take the time and trouble to inventory his stock in trade at this period in the final "spin" incident to examination, he will doubtless find that the outlook is not as gloomy as the first hasty retrospection seemed to indicate. Not only has much been accomplished in the class room, but a broader view has also been acquired and realized which is truly brought about by activities in college life not found in the class room. All these belong to the life of a college man and leave their finished touch, exert a vigorous influence just as it takes a certain amount of rest and recreation each day to remove the dull effect of the more sordid cares; just as it takes a certain amount of detail and minutia in the story to give the artist essential life and action.

Accordingly, the student has two extremes presented to him. To follow either unwaveringly and insistently is unwise and unjust to himself and to others. To choose the relative mean as it is determined by reason, and as the man of practical wisdom would determine it, is the broader and better method—a choice which gives a different aspect and a deeper significance to each activity into which he does enter.

A commendable feature relative to the game on Tuesday evening between the under classes was the absence of unnecessary roughness on the part of the players. The elimination of this element made the game cleaner and faster and much more acceptable to the taste of the average spectator.

Friendly class rivalry is praiseworthy in those who manifest it, but it should never go beyond the bounds of good sportsmanship. Good losers are respected and admired all the more for the fact that they yield gracefully.

The absence of hostile demonstrations after the game was another laudable feature. Not that in former years other classes have gone too far in the matter, but because the annual game this year was so much cleaner than the ordinary class game—and for that reason worthy of mention as a precedent again revived—is this comment made. Nothing promotes good feeling or good fellowship more among players and supporters alike, than a certain amount of fair and courteous consideration at the hands of their opponents.

At the game on Saturday afternoon, some of the supporters of the home team blissed the unnecessary rough playing of a few of the visiting players. A little reflection on the matter might put things in a different light, for an athlete in the heat of play often does things which in calmer moments, he sincerely regrets. Besides, hissing is an extreme measure which is not resorted to consciously, at least, by gentlemen. By all means, let us treat athletes in the same manner that we would wish to be treated. The best of us are only human and it is more of a battle for some to keep control of themselves than for others. Let's not act irritably in this matter, and let's always remember that the player in an exciting game has a better excuse for his actions than we who look on. "Think twice before you act and you'll act twice the better for it."

where Mr. Thebes is making a brilliant reputation in the newspaper world. Eliza Bell, as stated above, married her classmate, Joseph Wood, and lives in Philadelphia.

Grace Guthrie, after a graduate course at Yale, entered teaching and is an instructor at Vassar. Mary Harris attended Chicago for graduate work, winning her Ph. D. there. She is at present principal of a girls' school in Chicago and achieving unusual success. Jessie Wheeler is in public school work, the History and English department of the Erie High school being her province.

Five of the men entered the field of education. James Hughes is an instructor in Latin in the Scranton High school. Warren Martz is also teaching Latin, being in charge of the department of Latin in the High school at York. Franklin Strayer is assistant professor of physics in the Morris High school of New York City.

James Kendall preferred private to public school work and is one of the faculty of St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H. Harvey Passett is also in school work and holds a very good position near New York City.

The lawyers of the class are George Deppen and Wilson Vastine. The latter is practicing in Riverside, Pa., while the former is one of the most successful attorneys of Sunbury, where he is also well known in National Guard circles, being an adjutant in 12th Regiment, N. G. P.

Only two of the class entered the profession of medicine. Harvey Smith got his M. D. at University of Pennsylvania and enjoys a large and growing practice in Harrisburg. Levi Rignin is one of Oakland, California's, best known medical men.

Business, rather than professional life, appealed to Everett Bush who is in the wholesale lumber business in New York City, with offices at 1123 Broadway. Gilbert Kendall is also in the great metropolis, an employee of the Corn Exchange Bank.

Howard Gundy saw his opportunity here at home and holds a position of trust and responsibility in Dreisbach's store.

Sketch of Chas. E. Hankey's Life. Prof. Charles E. Hankey, '01, Superintendent of Public Schools in Kittanning, was born in Armstrong county in 1868. He attended the schools of his county, the Dayton Academy, and the Clinton State Normal school, and graduated from Bucknell in 1901. During most of his life of schooling, circumstances compelled him not only to keep up his studies but to continue his work as teacher as well, and his ability and scholarship are proved in the fact of his having satisfactorily carried on his work under many difficulties and discouragements.

After the completion of his college course Prof. Hankey was able to devote himself unintermittently to teaching. He was elected principal of the Kittanning High School and his efficient work there earned for him the superintendency of all the schools in 1905. His untiring efforts since that time have placed Kittanning's schools among the very first of the State and it was just upon this harvest of good results that he had entered when stricken by death.

In June, 1904, Prof. Hankey was married to Miss Winnie Brodhead, of Kittanning, by whom he is survived. Their home on Union avenue has long been the centre of a circle of mutual friends to whom this sudden death has brought deep grief. With friends and fellow teachers and pupils as well Prof. Hankey was deservedly popular and his death has brought a feeling of sadness into all the community.

Dr. Groff's Tribute to Williams, '06.

Amos Williams died for Cuban freedom. While a student in the University of Pennsylvania he enlisted as a private for the Spanish-American War. He took part in the Porto Rico campaign in which the duties required of him were so severe that he broke down and had a severe attack of typhoid fever. After a year of convalescing, he resumed his studies, but he was never again a well man. He knew he had sacrificed himself on the altar of freedom.

He was an earnest, conscientious and ambitious student. A true and reliable man in every way. With a character so pure and upright, that all who knew him admired.

His work is done. May he rest in peace.

THE CLASS OF 1893

What Fourteen Years Have Brought to Its Eleven Members.

Although twenty-seven men and women matriculated in the class of 1893, but eleven of them kept in the race until the finish on Commencement Day. The old adage holds true, however, that "good goods come in small packages" for of the ten members still living, all have been making their way to the front in their various fields of work.

Three of the class entered upon medicine as a profession. John Cressinger took the medical course at University of Pennsylvania and then settled in Sunbury where he is one of the city's best known physicians.

Charles Gandy also got his M. D. at University of Pennsylvania and after a year as resident physician at the Norristown City Hospital returned to Lewisburg where he has established a most successful practice, his office on South Fourth street being a well known store house of health to Bucknell students.

The same medical school saw the beginning of Willis Webb's study for his degree but ill health compelled him to give up his study there and seek another clime. He went to Denver, Colo. took up professional study in the University there, and after graduation hung out his shingle in Denver. His practice now is a large and growing one.

Two preachers were given by the class to minister to the spiritual needs of mankind. Edward Paulding is a successful pastor in Northfield, Mass., while Eugene Thomas, after graduation from Crozer Theological Seminary, entered the Baptist ministry and is now pastor of the church of that denomination in Montrose, Mr. Thomas is well known, too, as one of the Trustees of Keystone Academy, one of the best preparatory schools of the state.

Three of the class entered the field of education. Edwin Maxey was for a number of years Dean of the Law School situated at Morgantown, W. Va., but gave up his position some time ago, and we are unaware of his present whereabouts. Albert Gardner is one of the faculty of the City High School of Troy, N. Y.

Ephraim Helin is perhaps best known to Bucknell friends and students, he being one of the Faculty of the University. In 1897 he was elected an instructor and in 1899 was appointed Professor of Economics and Political Science.

To only one of the class did business seem most attractive. John Foreman took up an interest in a lumber business at Williamsport, where he is today one of the City's best known manufacturers, of and dealers in, lumber of all kinds.

Of the girls of the class one, Carrie Lloyd, is married. Rev. Dr. Geo. C. Horter, former '94, won her heart and made her mistress of his parsonage at Williamsburg, Pa. Carrie Geary is living at home in Carbondale, Pa. Nelle Conrad, after nine years of service in bettering and sweetening God's world was called by her Father to a place up higher, her death taking place in Philadelphia in 1902.

An important meeting of 1907's Memorial Committee is called for Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock in Theta Alpha hall.

Dickinson Law Defeated.

Dickinson Law School proved to be an easy proposition on Saturday evening, the final score reading 51-5.

The visitors never had a chance to win and this fact was demonstrated very early in the first half. The Varsity displayed their usual good form and by their consistent playing scored in rapid succession. Coach Hoskins sent the substitutes in for the second half, composed almost entirely of Freshmen, and they made about as many points as did the Regulars during the first period.

27-0 was the score at the end of the first half. Lenhart had thrown six goals, O'Brien four, Harris two, and Cooper one, while Lenhart threw one foul out of two tries. Twenty-four points were added in the last half. Butcher threw four baskets, Harris three, Rich three, Clark one, and Ogden one. For Dickinson, Hendricks scored once, while Edwards made a successful long shot besides throwing one foul out of a possible two. The lineup:—

BUCKNELL. DICKINSON L.

O'Brien . . . Forward . . . Wilson (Butcher)

Harris . . . Forward . . . Henry (Hendricks)

Lenhart, (C) . . . Center . . . Lang (Clark)

Gihney, (Ogden) . . . Guard . . . Edwards (Rich) . . . Guard . . . Elberle

Goals from field: Lenhart 6; Harris 5; O'Brien 4; Butcher 4; Rich 3; Clark 1; Croop 1; Ogden 1; Hendricks 1; Edwards 1. Offenses called: on Bucknell 4; on Dickinson 3.

Goals from offenses: Lenhart 1; Edwards 1. Referee, Bingham, (Gettysburg); Timer, Hoskins. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

The German Play.

The "Deutscher Verein" presented the well known German play, Wilhelm's "Eher muss heissen," on Friday evening in Bucknell Hall, before a large and appreciative audience. The play was rendered in German and was the first affair of its kind to be given at Bucknell.

The parts of the professors, Jacob and Wilhelm Zorn, were played in a very natural and attractive manner by Rockwell, '07, and Haller, '08, respectively; the role of Aunt Gertrude was well filled by Miss Anna Galbraith, '07, while Miss Stanton's impersonation of Louise's part was highly meritorious.

Solz, '07, favored the audience with Schubert's "Wanderer" and Miss Isaac with Beethoven's "Kunst der das Land." The "Verein" consisting of twenty-five members, sang "Deutschland ueber alles" and "Die Wacht am Rhein." The instrumental music was furnished by the University orchestra.

The "Verein" was organized by Dr. Blomer and plays will be given periodically. Its object is to promote the study of the history, culture, language, and literature of Germany. Judging by the actors' excellent command of German in the play just presented, much will be accomplished.

W. J. Coulston in New Work.

Rev. W. J. Coulston, '84, for many years one of Pittsburgh's successful pastors, has accepted a call to be state evangelist for the Baptist Home Missionary Society of Nebraska, and has moved, with his family, to Lincoln, where he will have his headquarters.

LAST WEEK'S LECTURES

Dr. B. L. Whitman, of Philadelphia, Gives Most Excellent Addresses.

At 3:00 P. M. Thursday, and 8:15 and 11:15 A. M. Friday, Dr. B. L. Whitman of Philadelphia, delivered a course of lectures on Practical Ethics which were exceedingly interesting.

Preliminary to the first lecture Dr. Whitman told of the program Providence had assigned to him for the next six months, the fulfillment of which had occasioned an earlier visit than usual to Bucknell. It included a trip to the Orient, for the sole purpose of studying the educational and religious prospects in China from the standpoint of the West. He will start in two weeks and make a complete circle of the globe, spending the last six weeks abroad in a prominent London pulpit.

The lectures proper were under three sub-heads, first of which was "Man a Stranger in His Father's Home." In part Dr. Whitman said that the estrangement of life itself is what leads man from God. The fulfillment of life is the standard problem of the world and only as one fulfills this life or soul does he succeed. Truth is in ourselves and the utmost the teacher can do is to help in the self-discovery of it in the student.

Experience, he said, is interpretation of the Universe. We get it by intuiting conscious existence. We know the Universe in inference or through facts of consciousness and only as this reaches out do we know the world.

The presence of sin in the world hinders the fulfillment of self. Man's vision is limited. He cannot know the things about him, and so is a stranger in the very place that God made for his home.

The second lecture was under the subheading, "A Seeking Lord." He showed how God was making every effort to remove the limitations of man's vision. God's hunger for expression is seen first of all in Creation, then in Christ. The unfolding of aspects constitutes revelation and the sum total of all these revelations is the Revelation.

God chose not only Revelation but redemption through Christ. Christ would have come whether man had assimilated himself with evil or not. The only difference would have occurred in the form in which he came. God through Christ expressed himself and had to do so in the form of a sinful people.

But God's ultimate purpose shall be accomplished. How long it will take we cannot tell, nor how, but it shall be done. He will continue to seek man.

The third address was the application of this to Practical Ethics. The truly ethical spirit, the speaker said, has at heart the religious spirit. The greatest difficulty is the fact that man does not believe believe these facts of his estrangement and God's seeking to be possible.

A large proportion of man's failures arise from disbelief. We should get the general principle of our lives right. Not the solution of the single problem, but the discovery of the principle under which all problems come is the true success. If the principle is right the tendency will be continued on second page.

In the final inter-class game on Wednesday evening the Juniors met defeat at the hands of the Freshmen by the score 25-19. Each team had defeated the other class teams and in the outcome of this game depended the class supremacy in basketball for the season. This fact attached an added interest to the game and it was uniformly contested from start to finish. The teams were about evenly matched, although '08 was crippled by the absence of Capt. Lose of the Varsity.

The first half ended 13-12 in favor of '10 and within that time the score had been tied six times. Up to this time it was either team's game. While possibly not the fastest action of basketball generally seen, yet the evenness of the score, and the uncertainty of the result, made it one of the exciting games of the season—the most exciting of the class games.

Shortly after play began Niple scored and a moment later Harris tied the score on a long shot. Butcher or then threw a pretty field goal while Lenhart evened up matters with an equally good shot. By good passing he soon scored another for '08 but Harris again tied the score in a long successful try. Ferguson, Hawk and Lenhart then scored in the order named while Clark tied the score after each one of their shots by scoring the last three goals in the half for '10. Butcher closed the half by throwing a foul goal.

In the second half the Freshmen continued their lead and by better team work won out. Butcher and Harris threw the first two baskets and Clark contributed two more. Butcher threw four goals out of a possible nine which, with their four field goals, gave them twelve points for the half. For '08, Lenhart scored twice besides throwing three fouls in seven chances. Two field goals, and three goals from offenses, gave them seven points for the half. The lineup:—

Freshmen Juniors

Harris . . . forward . . . Ferguson

Butcher . . . forward . . . (capt.) Hawk

Clark . . . center . . . Lenhart

Croop . . . guard . . . Gihney

Rich (capt) . . . guard . . . Niple

Goals from field: Clark 5; Harris 3; Butcher 2; Lenhart 5; Ferguson 1; Hawk 1; Niple 1. Offenses called: On Juniors 15; on Freshmen 10.

Goals from offenses: Butcher 16; Lenhart 3. Referee Teufel (Susquehanna); Timer Hoskins. Time of halves 20 min.

Book Published by Dr. Groff.

Ferris & Lenz, publishers, of Philadelphia, issued a booklet last week from the pen of Dr. Groff. It is entitled "For Home and Country" and is an exposition of the high place that the professional nurse holds in the world and the opportunities and duties of such a profession. The book is a very attractive and well written piece of literature and should prove an inspiration for those with whose vocation it deals.

Prof. Smith's Able Talk.

At the regular meeting of the Bucknell Historical Society on Wednesday, Prof. Smith delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture on "The History of Poland." The talk was highly appreciated by the members and friends present.

COLLEGE GIRLS ENTERTAIN

The Annual College Girls' Reception at Noteworthy Success.

On Friday night the girls of the College extended their annual Reception to the Faculty and the men of the University, and to say that the affair was a success is to give it but little of its desert of praise. From the hour of the guests' arrival until their departure not a word was uttered upon any man's face, a fact so unusual with the customary formal reception as to attract beyond question the pleasant evening that was spent by all in attendance.

The guests were greeted, upon arrival, by the Receiving Committee, composed of Dean and Mrs. Edwards, Miss Bush, Miss Frances Williams, '07, who is President of the College Girls' Association, Miss Margaret Leisher, and Miss Mary Weddle, '07. Miss Olive Richards and Miss Beatrice Richards, '08, Miss Myra Chaffee and Miss Ella Garvin, '09, and Miss Alvina English and Miss Katharine Voorhis, '10.

After passing the receiving line the guests dispersed themselves throughout the parlors and the chapel, all of which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion. The decorations this year, were of an unusual order, particularly those of the chapel. Its slides had been hung with green crepe, which was led up to the ceiling in a half arch of the same material. The green, with the white of the window curtains, gave a combination of the colors of the Women's Department of the College and the link sketches, was exceedingly attractive.

Green was the prevailing color. Plants and potted plants were scattered about the rooms, and

The German play which was produced with such success on Thursday night was a most commendable and excellent thought. The University is in need of such incentives to study and interest as this play afforded. No one who was present and who observed the keen zest and enjoyment with which the audience received the production could doubt its perfect success or could fail to perceive the good possible of accomplishment along these lines.

It is to be hoped that this will not be the last affair of the kind but that in the coming years the movement may be made to broaden so as to include not only the German, but the French and the English drama, as well. No line of activity could produce better results in the arousal of interest in the work of the school and in the development of an appreciation of what is worth while in our language work.

The coming of Dr. Benjamin L. White man, the University's Lecturer on Practical Ethics, is always looked forward to with interest and pleasure, and in no case is there disappointment of expectations. Dr. Whitman, who is pastor of the Fifth Baptist Church, one of Philadelphia's most important churches, is kindly in disposition, engaging in manner, and the perfect type of public speaker. Filled, as he always is, with the inspiration of his subject, he never fails to make a deep impression upon the thought and life of the College, and he ever receives a hearty welcome and interested attention when he comes.

right. Success does not lie in acquiring something from without, but in the development of that which is within the soul. Failure not deserved is not failure at all. Success not deserved is not success at all.

We have to choose between the Kingdom of Evil and the Kingdom of God. Sin has made the greatest natural ideal at enmity with the spiritual. In choice of God one makes the wisest and best choice. He has comfort when he walks and when he carries the Divine spirit is all about him.

The College Bible Class.

The statement in Genesis as to the characters of the original sent of the race agrees with general tradition and antecedent probability that man's abode was in the warmer zone and that he subsisted on the spontaneous fruits of the earth. At the beginning man was mentally a child. We are the old, that is, the mature people; those who lived before us were the younger people, that is, less mature. Morally man was innocent, that is, untaught, morally, as the child is, who tells neither a truth nor a lie, not being capable of either, but telling what is in his mind, and consequently subjectively true. Taught morality is possible only in civilization. In the early state of man the law of plasticity prevailed, and growth and differentiation would take place very rapidly.

At the Way of Life Meeting, the character and work of the late John Alexander Dowie was discussed by President Harris and Professor Phillips, the latter relating personal observations made during his residence in Chicago near Dowie's famous "Zion City."

Basket Ball.
George Washington University has cancelled the game for Tuesday night and to fill this date on the schedule the Varsity will play the Freshmen. This should prove to be one of the most interesting games of the season and will go down as a better than the game which has been cancelled. Reserved seats will be on sale at the Book Store Monday at 4 P. M., and at Baker's Tuesday at 9:15 A. M. Price, 10 cents.

The real test of the season comes Friday night when Bucknell plays the strong Harrisburg team. Cockill, Johnson and Smith, former Bucknell stars, together with Taggart of Rochester, McCas of Lafayette, Hill of Gettysburg, and Hull of Franklin and Marshall, compose the team. This team's reputation is too well known to require further comment and they come expecting to break Bucknell's string of victories. Reserved seats on sale at the Book Store Thursday at 4 P. M., and at Baker's at 9:15 A. M. Price, 15 cents. Admission, 25 cents.

Miss Marie Stein Dead.
On last Monday night Miss Marie L. Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Stein, died at her home on North Third street, of cerebrospinal meningitis. The funeral took place from the house on Thursday afternoon.

Miss Stein was one of the most popular girls of Lewisburg's and Bucknell's social circles, and her death has cast a gloom over the entire community. As a student at the Institute some few years ago she had formed many associations here which still last, her death being particularly sad to her sisters in Beta Delta Pi Sorority. While in the Institute she studied elocution and her work along that line had more than local renown. She will be greatly missed in the social life of the town and College and in the work of the Presbyterian church of which she was an active member.

Men's Reception April 12th.
The date of the College Men's Reception has been set by Chairman Saylor for April 12th. The various committees are busy at work and report that the interest manifested in the reception shows that the affair will be a great success. Invitations will be issued immediately after return from vacation and in order to facilitate matters it is desired that the men confer as soon as possible with some member of the invitation committee and get their arrangements made.

SPRING OPENING

Saturday and Monday, March 16 and 18

NEW WOOL FABRICS ARE HERE.

One of the most attractive spots in our store just now is the Dress Goods Department, where are gathered those fabrics which will find most favor for Spring wear. Styles have now settled sufficiently that we can safely predict what will be proper during the new season now approaching. Of these light colors will be most exclusively worn—greys, tans, greens, light shades of blues—mixed with plenty of white, forming checks, stripes, broken and invisible, as well as most decided plaids and large checks. In texture the goods are light, bright, many sheer and filmy, others in the Voile and Panama family. Also Mohairs, Habit and Ventail Cloths, continue to be well represented.

All these are piled high in exhaustive variety upon counter and shelf, fresh and new from the best looms of the country. Every piece selected personally by our buyers from wholesale stocks on hand—not from samples shown by agents—picking out the goods here and there whenever a good one could be found, is why we can now show you the most exclusive styles in fabrics, brighter, prettier and better than anywhere else can show you, and at prices that even our buyers were afraid could not be maintained when everything is going up.

FRILL AND FROWN

"Old Fortunatus" Very Ably Presented by the Club, Friday Night.

Friday night before an audience of two hundred invited guests, Frill and Frown presented "Old Fortunatus" in a manner that was decidedly able and pleasing. The club's guests are never disappointed of a delightfully spent evening when its members are the entertainers, but the character of the work done Friday night and the skill and ability manifested by the entire cast exceeded even expectation.

"Old Fortunatus" is an Elizabethan drama written by Thomas Dekker. It was presented Friday night for the first time in its entirety in America, and was staged in close accordance with the manner of its production in the Elizabethan period.

The story of Fortunatus and his purse comes down to us from antiquity, being known in the folklore of nearly all countries.

The plot of the play hinges upon the choice given by Fortunatus to an old man, Fortunatus, of wisdom, strength, health, long life, beauty, or riches. Fortunatus chooses the last and by his choice places himself under the domination of Vice.

In the course of the play Vice seems always to triumph, but in the end Vice relapses supreme, receiving the homage even of Fortunatus himself.

The parts were all well taken and drew merited applause. Miss Bower's impersonation of Old Fortunatus and Miss Hare's of Andolucia were exceptionally meritorious, while Miss Stanton as Shadow proved herself a most capable reality. Miss Stage, Miss Burgess, Miss Chaffee—the whole cast, in fact—seemed well fitted for their parts and carried them out successfully. The play was a success in every sense of the word and reflects great credit, not alone upon the actors themselves, but upon the capable direction of Miss Shillinger, who is in sole direction of the entire production.

Below is the cast of characters:

T. J. Phillips, '07, of Atglen, delivered several addresses recently before an important gathering of agriculturists at Honesdale, Pa.

Freshmen-Academy.

The Freshmen and Academy teams met on Tuesday evening, the former winning by the score 26-15. The game was arranged to take the place of George Washington University who canceled.

For the first few minutes after play was called the game was close, but the superior team work and dribbling of the ball by '10, soon put the outcome beyond all range of uncertainty. The first half ended 21-5 in favor of the Freshmen. In this half, Rich scored once, Clark and Butcher each twice, and Harris three times, besides throwing five goals from offenses out of six possible. For the Academy, Parry threw a basket and Watkins scored three goals from offenses out of four possible.

In the second half, Clark threw on baskets for '10, and Harris two, out of six fouls called. Harris scored three. For the Academy during this period, Parry threw three goals and Watkins one. Out of seven fouls called, Watkins scored two. The line up:

Freshmen. Academy.
Harris forward Parry
Butcher, Corner forward Capt. Watkins
Clark center Rhoads
Rich, Capt. guard Craig
Croop guard Boyer

Goalkeepers: Clark 6; Harris, 5; Butcher 2; Rich 1; Parry 4; Watkins 1. Offenses called on Academy 12; on Freshmen 11. Goals for offenses: Harris 8; Watkins 5; Referee, Bingham, of Gettysburg. Timer Hoskins. Time of halves 20 minutes.

Academy Students Entertain.

Saturday night, from eight to twelve the annual Academy Reception was extended by the Y. M. C. A. and the Calliope Literary Society. The affair was a pleasant one in every respect and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all in attendance.

Prof. and Mrs. Thomas, Arthur Wahl, Charles Hancock, Ralph Richardson and Stanley Brown were the receiving committee which welcomed the fifty or more guests upon their arrival. The decorations were effective and the refreshments all that could be asked. So well had the work of the different committees been carried out that nothing of any sort marred the evening's pleasure and the hour for regretful departure came all too soon.

L'Agenda Board Elected.

At a meeting of the Sophomore class Thursday afternoon G. N. Williams was elected to be editor-in-chief of next year's L'Agenda with A. W. Owens and Miss Mary Myers as assistants. A. B. Claypoole was elected manager, and E. D. Roger assistant manager. M. S. Hillman was selected to supervise the illustration of the book and Miss Myrtle Walkinslaw made his assistant.

Election for basketball and track managers resulted in the selection of Harry Smith and Guy Payne, respectively. L. E. Jones was elected track captain at a meeting of the track men of the class earlier in the week.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Cloyd N. Steininger, '02, and Miss Minnie Angstadt, of Lewisburg, was formally announced last week. Miss Angstadt's girl friends tendered her a "granite shower" on Tuesday night in honor of the event.

LAST GAME LOST

A Close and Exciting Contest Lost to Harrisburg 25-24

In the last basketball game of the season the Varsity lost to the Harrisburg Collegians by the score 25-24. The game was exceedingly rough from start to finish, thirteen offenses being called on the visitors, and ten on the Varsity. The game might have been won by scoring from these offenses but Lenhart's efforts were confined to six. Taggart, also, scored but five out of ten possible. The game was very exciting throughout and the final outcome was at all times uncertain. This feature, added to the unnecessary rough play, made it very interesting to the large crowd present.

Good team work in the main was lacking on both sides. At times, however, the visitors gave a pretty exhibition of passing. Bucknell seemed to be weaker than ordinary in this department besides failing to be as accurate as usual in their shooting. The line up:

Harrisburg Col. Bucknell.
Hull forward O'Brien
Taggart forward Capt. Lose
Cockill, Capt. center Lenhart
Johnson guard Gibney/Harris

Smith guard Croop

Goals from field: Lose 4; Harris 2; O'Brien 1; Taggart 1; Croop 1.

Offenses called on Harrisburg Collegians 19; Bucknell 16. Goals from offenses: Lenhart 6; Taggart 5; Referee-Tanner, Williamsport, Y. M. C. A.; Timers, Hoskins, B. C.; Hull, B. C.; time of halves 20 minutes.

The College Bible Class.

In connection with Eden we have the series of work. Work is the oldest ordinance given to man. It is older than the Sabbath. Man is at his creation commissioned to occupy and subdue the earth. Eden is given as a starting point. This he is to dress and keep. Work is older than the fall. The curse is not in the work, but in the sweat of the face, in working against the grain. Work is the condition of health and of mental growth in the individual, and of civilization in the race. The idle will rot away.

At the Way of Life Meeting, the parable of the Leaven was illustrated by the present evils in France. The principles of nationality and of individual freedom have leavened the great body of the people, so that all medieval bonds are broken. The separation of the Church from the State will be an advantage to both. The Church will depend for its support upon the voluntary gifts of the people, and will thus be brought into close touch with them, and render its chief service to them. When the people control the money side of any institution, they will control the institution, whatever the form of government may be.

Basket Ball B's Awarded.

Croop, Gibney, Lenhart, O'Brien and Lose were awarded their basketball B's last week and Andrews the Manager's B. Before the game on Friday night O'Brien was unanimously elected captain of next year's team.

Prof. Colestock's New Novel.

Prof. Henry T. Colestock, Professor of History of Bucknell University, is the author of a novel which has been issued by Thomas Y. Crowell & Co., publishers, in New York.

The work is of 375 pages with four illustrations by E. Boyd Smith. "The Ministry of David Baldwin" is the title of the new piece of fiction which will undoubtedly arouse interest on all sides, especially among clergymen and their churches. It deals with a vital topic which is coming more and more to the columns of our newspapers, for the reason that it is daily being worked out in actual life. The theme is the constant conflict between the old and the new beliefs in regard to the inspiration of the Bible, evolution and higher criticism. The story is simply told and seems to rest upon real experience. David Baldwin, a young minister fresh from theological seminary and a good deal more advanced than is called to an ultra-conservative pulpit. He is a sincere young man, though not always tactful, and he preaches the truth as he sees it. He is promptly declared "unsound," and a battle ensues between him and the old school.

Five ministers represent the class in the world of church and christian work. Robert Holmes is pastor of the First Baptist church of Nyack, N. Y., on Hudson. He assumed this pastorate in April, 1906, after four years' successful ministry in Hoboken, N. J. Mr. Holmes is a very broad "son of old Bucknell," always manifesting a deep interest in the welfare and doings of the University. He has written several Bucknell songs for Alumni gatherings.

James Paterson graduated in 1885 from Crozer. Shortly after he accepted a call from the Evans City Baptist church, remaining there for five years of successful work. Six years ago he resigned his Evans City ministry to assume the pastorate of the First Baptist church of New Kensington, Pa.

Andrew Wyant added A. M. to his name and then took the divinity course at Chicago for his B. D. He is still in the big metropolitan being busily engaged as a preacher, lecturer and editor, his home address being 778 Chicago Boulevard. Walter Plumb got his B. D. at Crozer and after a successful pastorate at Milltown, N. J., resigned there to go to Factoryville, Pa., where he preaches in the First Baptist church. Charles Allen got his divinity degree at Chicago, but failed to answer the inquiry card sent to his old address, so that his present whereabouts are unknown.

Of the six teachers which the class gave to the world, probably the best known to Bucknellites is Llewellyn Phillips, who after a graduate course at Chicago University, and several years' teaching in the Academy, was in 1902 appointed Professor of rhetoric and oratory for the University, where his work is too well known to need mention.

Chicago was the graduate school for Ellaphus Hulley, who after leaving there entered upon his teaching work at Keystone Academy. After a successful incumbency there of several years he resigned to become principal of Broadus Institute, at Charleston, W. Va.

Isaac Bodie, Willard Laning, Charles Shaffer and John Wagner are all in public school work. Mr. Wagner is one of the instructors in Scranton High school. Mr. Laning is also in High School work, in Trevorton, Pa., and Mr. Bodie is one of the teachers of South Easton, Pa. Mr. Shaffer got his A. M. at Harvard and is now a teacher in the high school of Newark, N. J.

One of the girls of the class is among its three M. D's. Hannah Stauff, after winning her A. M., decided to enter upon the profession of medicine and was graduated from the medical department of the Univ. of Michigan in 1902. She has succeeded.

tween his desire to be true to his principles and to keep his position.

A counter picture of the congregation itself, with its little factions and bickerings, is given so faithfully that it must appeal to every reader as being founded closely upon fact.

An entertaining glimpse of housewifery on the part of a newly-married couple gives requisite lightness to the plot.

As an author Professor Colestock is attaining prominence. Contributions from his pen have frequently appeared in the "Outlook" and others of the leading magazines.

V. M. Blanding, '02, Dead.

Word has just been received of the death, at his home in Rock Island, Ill., of Vincent M. Blanding, of the class of '02, one of the oldest and best known of the University's alumni. Commenting upon his death, the Rock Island Argus says:

"Mr. Blanding became prominent in the West in various walks of life as a useful citizen, as a member of the bar, as a railroad contractor, as a member of the Masonic fraternity, as superintendent of schools, and as mayor of Rock Island. He was a man of high culture and of exceptional literary attainments, courtly in manner and dignified in bearing, and withal a citizen whose death is a serious loss to the entire community."

Miss Boynton's Recital.

At the request of a number of the girls Miss Boynton recently gave a delightful informal recital to her students and others interested in music. The program was varied and showed both brilliancy and delicacy of touch. It is the general hope among the students at the Women's College that other concerts of like nature will be given by the teachers of music, instrumental and vocal.

THE BASEBALL OUTLOOK

A Brief Survey of Bucknell's Prospects This Season.

The baseball season will be formally ushered in next Saturday afternoon when the Varsity meets Susquehanna University.

From present indications the team will be in fairly good form, if the weather will admit of outdoor work such as was indulged in last week.

The prospects for a strong team were never brighter and more encouraging. Last year at this time, until seasonal weather prevailed, and this, in addition to the loss of many old stars, gave a gloomy outlook. Notwithstanding all these unfavorable forebodings, the team made a very creditable showing and after getting in form, took nearly all of its games, including those with Cornell, Villa Nova, Lafayette and others.

This season all is changed; the weather, altho a bit cold for baseball, has been such as would allow the men to get out on the field, and last year's winning team remains practically intact. Russell, who played part of the season in the outfield, is the only player not back. Heinze, however, may not be able to get into the game at all, and in any event, not until the season is well started owing to a surgical operation undergone recently. He will be missed at shortstop which position he has covered for the past three seasons.

To make up for this loss, some good material has been found in the Freshman class, besides those players who made up the Reserve and Class teams last year. In all, about thirty candidates reported for the first practice on Wednesday afternoon, and since many of these are experienced players, the regulars will have to hustle to hold their positions.

The team has by no means been decided upon by Capt. Grimmerger, and there is always an opportunity to play each evening, so that all baseball men should get out for practice each day. Not only are the Varsity positions decided by the practice during the early part of the season, but also positions on the Reserve and Class teams to a large extent.

Baseball Saturday.

The first game of the season will be called on the Campus at 2:30 next Saturday, with the strong Susquehanna University team. Bucknell has not played this team for two years owing each time to inclement weather, but in former years it proved no mean rival of the Orange and Blue and this year it is said to be stronger than ever. A good game is expected. Admission will be 25c.

On Tuesday, April 16th, the St. John's College team will play, and another good game is looked for.

Cressinger-Haas.

On Monday evening last, Dr. John B. Cressinger, class of '92, and Miss Eva Haas were united in marriage at the bride's home in Sunbury. An elaborate supper followed the ceremony, Dr. and Mrs. Cressinger taking their leave later for an extended wedding trip in the East. On their return they will reside in Sunbury where the doctor has a large and lucrative practice in medicine.

Next Summer's Assembly.

Arrangements have been made for the second Assembly of the Baptist Young Peoples' Union of Pennsylvania to take place at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, July 21st to August 8th, 1907. The first Assembly held last summer at the above place was so successful that the plans for the second assembly were considered with enthusiasm. Among the prominent lecturers engaged for the 1907 assembly are:

Dr. H. E. Trullie, St. Louis, Mo.

Rev. H. C. Gyle, Pittsburgh.

Dr. Lincoln Hulley, President of John B. Stetson University, DeLand, Florida.

Dr. E. C. Dargatz, Louisville, Ky.

Dr. E. E. Chivers, New York City.

Rev. C. A. Soars, Philadelphia.

Dr. C. H. Woodson, Philadelphia.

Dr. F. S. Dobbins, Philadelphia.

Miss Clara M. Browning, of Scranton, will be the assembly pianist.

Among the special features will be a Christian Endeavor night for the young people of Central Pennsylvania and a neighborhood day and night for all Baptists along the West Branch. The afternoons will be free for study and recreation. Sessions will be held mornings and evenings. Each day will open with devotional exercises led by Rev. E. A. Harrist, of Philadelphia, vice president of the Penna. B. Y. P. U.

President W. M. Cresson has appointed the following committee of local arrangements:

Rev. John T. Judd, D. D., Prof. T. A. Edwards, Mr. Wm. C. Greizinger, Prof. Wm. G. Owens, Mr. Ekanah B. Hulley.

In the second chapter of Genesis we have three relations of man set forth. In the relation of the man to vegetable life, Jehovah God gives to man the cereal plants and causes the rain to fall upon the earth. Man must, however, tend and keep the plants. Then man is related to animal life. These he masters and makes his servants. Their movements and qualities attract his attention, so that he classifies and names them. This is the beginning of language. These animals, also, Jehovah God gives to man, and brought them to the man, not in a procession as often pictured, but as God brings animals to man now, in the usual course of events. But neither plants, plants nor animals are on a level with man; and so moral development is not possible. Such an one, on a level with the man, his equal and counterpart is given in woman. This, then is the third relation set forth in the second chapter.

At the Way of Life meeting Dr. Harris spoke on the text, "He spoke as one having authority," giving one of the most profitable addresses heard in the meetings this year.

1891 AND 1890

An Account of What The Years Have Brought Their Members.

Every college is best known to the world through its alumni. Whatever reputation Bucknell has or will have rests with her graduates, and so far as the Classes of 1891 and 1890 are concerned, she may have for the best as the following records will show.

When last heard from, two members of the Class of 1891 were situated in the far West, Paul Tustin engaged in mining business in Stonevale, Cal., while H. W. D. Kirkendall had charge of a Baptist church in Riverside, Wash. J. H. Minick was connected with Eastern Business College, of Longhemp, N. Y., as editor of periodicals.

A Lincoln Moore is the prominent pastor of Riverside Baptist church of New York City, and was recently appointed by the conference of ministers of that city to represent them at the State capital in opposing vicious legislation. He has lately issued a book on Christian Science which has had a large sale.

Three others of the class are pastors of successful churches. A. O. Stevens took graduate work at the University of Chicago and is now in charge of a church in Anamosa, Iowa. C. G. Langford is with the South Baptist church of Elmira, N. Y., and Robert B. Dummis, a Baptist clergyman at Laceyville, Pa.

The only woman of the class, Margaret Evans is now Mrs. MacCalman, of Lakewood, N. Y., and after May 1st will reside at Covington, Ohio.

Chas. Campbell took a medical course at U. of Pa., and is now practicing at Sunbury, Pa. John T. Hyatt is a lawyer of Jersey Shore,

Editorial

Last week saw our entrance upon the last term of the college year of 1906-07, an entrance that was auspicious and encouraging in every respect. A number of the students who have, for various reasons, been obliged during the year to absent themselves from regular attendance resumed their studies; the opening enrollment in classes was unusually large; the weather was all that could be desired to foretell an enjoyable spring in one of the pleasantest college localities that the country can boast—without, it was a good beginning, and it is to be hoped, the harbinger of good things to come.

During the latter part of last term there was a little dissatisfaction expressed by some of the fellows over the department running through the Orange and Blue giving prominent facts about our alumni. In the earlier numbers, where the names mentioned were of later classes and familiar to all of us, the column was read with interest; but now according to the remarks offered, it seems to be viewed as waste of space. We are sorry that this is so; but we think that if these knackers stop to consider that they are not the only ones for whom the paper is published the noise of the hammer will be somewhat lessened at least.

If the percentage of copies of the Orange and Blue going to students were published someone would be surprised. A large number of copies each week are sent to our loyal alumni and the manager reports an increase of subscriptions from this source since the publication of the articles in question. This with the kind words received by the editor from different alumni, leads us to believe that the department is well received by them at least. If this be so, then our purpose is fulfilled and we are satisfied; if indications point falsely and these articles are not popular among our graduate subscribers, the mere mention of the fact would be sufficient to have them stopped. As for the students, we think we have shown the purpose for our weekly class rolls. We don't need them to fill up space; besides, there are other things easier to collect and write if we thought them more important. Our aim is to give everybody something to read; if the roll of alumni doesn't interest you, go to some other column.

In another column appears a communication from one of the seniors with the notion of which we are in hearty accord and to which we would like to add a word. It is at this season of the year, when windows are wide open most of the time, that this ugly habit of littering our campus with all sorts of debris and rubbish is most prevalent, and, as the writer says, it is no doubt the result of mere thoughtlessness and carelessness upon the part of those who are guilty.

A feature of the matter not touched upon in the communication is this. We not only deface our campus—one of the most beautiful college campuses to be found anywhere—by this habit, which none of us would be guilty of practicing in his own home, and which should therefore not be practiced in our college home; we not only make a dumping ground of what we should keep clean and attractive, but we render ourselves liable to prosecution for criminal negligence should any of the heavier things discarded fall upon anyone passing beneath the windows at the time. It would be an ugly memory, to carry through life, that some broken chair or picture frame or box, carelessly thrown by us, had killed or maimed some fellow human. And yet there is a possibility, nay even liability, of such a thing's happening every day. Not only are some of our fellows students almost constantly working or recreating within this "danger zone," but often little children are engaged in play there, all unconscious of the danger that attends it. It would be a bitter thought, indeed, to realize that we had been the cause of injury or death to some of these.

The proper place for disposal of such garbage is the hall, where it will be properly taken care of by the janitor, who would much rather remove it thence, in perfect safety to himself, than gather it up from around the buildings, in constant danger of his life. It is a little matter, it is true, but it may in a second's time become one of vast importance to some one of us; and, since it requires not a particle more effort to properly take care of it than to improperly do so, it behooves us, out of respect for decency and cleanliness and of regard for the safety and welfare of others, to conduct ourselves as cleanly and decent and just men should.

Teachers' Club Meets.
The regular meeting of the Teachers' Association was held on Friday at 4:15 p. m., in Theta Alpha Hall. An address was given by Professor Colestock on what the true aim of a teacher should be. The next meeting will be held on Friday, April 19. All interested in teaching as a profession are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

SUSQUEHANNA SHUT OUT

Bucknell Easily Win Their First Game of the Season.

The baseball season of 1907 opened auspiciously Saturday afternoon when the Varsity easily shut out Susquehanna 14-0. Although the day was a bit too cold for baseball, yet the article of good put up by the Varsity was of a good order. After such a favorable opening under adverse conditions, the supporters of the team can look for fast baseball with more propitious weather and the practice which it will allow.

Patrons pitched the first six innings and while not exerting himself, yet held the visitors in check at all times. During this time he struck out four and walked one. Third base was seen but once by the visitors and although second was occupied many times, the necessary hit to produce the run was never forth coming.

After the Varsity had scored twelve runs, Northrup was sent in to pitch. Out of nine men to bat, he struck out the first five, and the others were unable to safely connect with his speed.

Kaufman, a former Lewisburg High School player, affiliated in the 11th for Susquehanna and showed up well. Fifteen hits were registered against him, which, with eight errors and good base running, explains Bucknell's large score. Susquehanna got but three hits and poor base running at times destroyed all chances of their scoring. The line up:

The Schedule of Track Meets.

Following is schedule of track meets which Manager Olmsted has arranged, subject to the approval of the Advisory Board. All the dates are certain except Lehigh, and it is probable that it will be definitely arranged for as given.

May 14—Inter-class meet at Lewisburg.

May 11—Lehigh at Lewisburg.

May 18—Dickinson at Lewisburg.

May 26—Indians at Carlisle.

June 1—Lafayette at Easton.

The College Bible Class.

Concerning the genesis of sex as of the individual or of the species, man knows nothing. As in the case of force so in the case of life, the power itself is inaccessible to the senses. It belongs to the realm of the unknowable. Its manifestation is to some extent apparent, and the student of embryology may note day by day the difference of conditions from the preceding day, but life itself is beyond his ken. What, then, God does for us is to make known that he is the author and sustainer of life; that he it was who made for man his other self, and so made spiritual life possible. Whether the story in which this great truth is conveyed is myth or allegory or historic fact matters little. The great truth of religion and of morality both personal and social is what God here teaches us. The earth in which it comes makes as little difference as whether when Newton wrote the Principia he used black ink or red.

At the Way of Life meeting, Mr. A. C. Smith, of New York City, who is prominently identified with the Student Volunteer movement, talked on that subject, showing the wonderful opportunities that are now open for young men and women in the mission field, and explaining the workings and purposes of the organization. A vocal quartette rendered a much appreciated number.

Prof. Southworth's Address.

Prof. Southworth of the Unitarian Theological Seminary addressed the students last Tuesday morning at 11:15 a. m., on the subject, "The Choice of a Profession." As was expected, his remarks centered very largely on a setting forth of the advantages of the Christian ministry as a life's vocation. In particular he said: "The Christian minister is similar to the lawyer because he is concerned about human conduct according to fixed principles of justice. He is like the doctor because he cures the diseased man; he however differs and is above these two, because, unlike the lawyer, he sees a wonderful possibility in every human soul, and in striving to bring him to realize this, he is not content with the petty self-interests which characterize men of the law, and unlike the doctor, whose work only develops a perfect animal, the minister's work strives for a perfect man."

The talk was an instructive one and particularly interesting and inspiring to those of the students who are planning to enter the ministry.

Annual V. M. C. A. Sermon Sunday.

Next Sunday morning in the Baptist church Henry C. Vedder, D. D., will deliver the annual sermon before the University V. M. C. A. Dr. Vedder is a Professor of Church History in Crozer Theological Seminary and the author of several books. He is a man of national reputation and the V. M. C. A. is to be congratulated on getting him here.

Important.

A meeting of the recently appointed committee to arrange for the "college songs" and play ways and means for the production and adoption of some new and real Bucknell songs will meet Wednesday night at eight in Room 2. The chairman earnestly requests a full attendance.

COLLEGE MEN HOSTS

Annual Reception Given Friday Night on the Hill.

Friday night last saw the first recurrence of an event which has already justly achieved permanency as one of the affairs of importance in the life of the University—the annual College Men's Reception.

Instead of the Reception's being held, as last year, in West College, it was this year transferred to the class rooms and main hall of Main College. The change worked to advantage in giving more room for entertainment and better facilities for serving refreshments, though the assignment of rooms to the different fraternities for exclusive decoration made the affair take on an appearance of partisanship not in accord with the true spirit of the occasion.

Owing to the hugeness of the bare space in the halls and class rooms on the first floor, no attempt was made to decorate them other than by the running of a few streamers of orange and blue burning around the border of the walls of the hall. On the second floor, however, the decorations were lavish, as well as tasteful, the rooms occupied by the fraternities being richly decorated with their colors and pennants and abounding in comfortable "cosy corners."

The oratory room, formerly the place of holding of the library, but now remodeled and refurnished, was the common meeting ground for general good-fellowship. With its scores of pennants and banners and its brilliant lighting it made a very pretty appearance, scarce recognizable to those whose voices daily fill its farthest corners with their outbursts of eloquence.

Two of the class rooms on the first floor served for cloak rooms and another for the culinary department, while the large rooms on either side of the main entrance were devoted to the refreshments, which were prepared and served by caterer Reed. The Imperial Orchestra was stationed in the second hall floor at the foot of the stairway leading up to Commencement Hall, and discoursed its best music in its most capable style.

More than three hundred persons were present at the Reception and "a good time" seemed to be the universal expression of opinion. A considerable sprinkling of "old grads" and former students could be discerned in the assemblage and a large number of out of town guests were present.

L'Agenda on Sale Tuesday.

The 1908 Year Books are on the way and will reach here so as to be on sale Tuesday. They may be purchased in Room 2, West Wing, opposite the book store.

The price is same as usual $1.50 per copy, and the book is well worth it. It gives a full and accurate history of athletic events of the past year, and a very thorough and complete account of every department of the activities of the College. The class account, is unusually good and the alumni sketches of more than ordinary value. The book is a "very good one" and is something which every member of this University should have to keep fresh his memory of this, the most successful year of Bucknell's history.

Class Play Meeting Tonight.

Chairman Zuehlweg has called a meeting of the Senior Class Play committee for this evening at 8:45 in the Institute parlors. At this meeting the play will be finally decided upon and the cast selected so that every member should be present.

President Hulley to Speak.

President Lincoln Hulley, of Stetson University, has agreed to deliver the Anniversary Address before the Literary Societies on Monday evening, June 17, Commencement week.

Violin Recital Thursday Night.

It is not often that the people of Lewisburg and the students of the University have the opportunity of hearing any of the kind of music enjoyed by the residents of larger places. It is with much pleasure, therefore, that Miss Josephine Lawshe, organist at the Baptist church, announces that she has secured an engagement here with Dora Valasca Becking, one of New York's best known violinists. Reginald De Roven says of her, "Her tone is especially good, full, sweet and sympathetic; and such is the general verdict of all who have heard her play. Bucknell interest attaches to her, too, in the fact that her husband, Mr. C. G. Shaffer, is a Bucknell graduate, having been a member of 1902."

As said above, this is an exceptional opportunity for the townspeople and students to hear something really fine in the music line, and it is the duty of all who are interested in the furthering of Lewisburg's and Bucknell's advancement to give their support on this occasion. Tickets are on sale at fifty cents each, and considering the fact that Miss Becker gets as high as three hundred dollars for a single evening's performance, the price is a very nominal one indeed.

Prizes for Economic Essays.

The list of subjects for studies on economic questions in connection for the prizes given annually by Hurt Shaffner and Marx, of Chicago, has been announced for 1908 by the committee in charge, of which Prof. J. Lawrence Laughlin, of the University of Chicago is chairman. This competition is open to graduates and undergraduates of the colleges and universities of the country. The prizes are very substantial, ranging from one thousand dollars to two hundred and fifty, and are well worth trying for. Anyone desiring further information on the subject should address J. Lawrence Laughlin, Esq., University of Chicago, Box 145, Faculty Exchange, Chicago, Ill.

Alumnae Club Meets.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bucknell Alumnae Club was held in the Institute parlors on Tuesday evening, April 9th. Interesting papers on topics of general and local interest were read by Mrs. William C. Gretzinger, Mrs. H. C. Hyatt, Mrs. J. W. VanValin, and Miss Gerhart and Miss Mulford favored the company with vocal and piano solos. These meetings of the Alumnae Club are interesting and profitable in every way and fully deserving of the good attendance which always greets them. The Club has done and is doing laudable work in fostering and furthering Bucknell's interests.

EDITORIAL.

Dr. Herman H. Horne, in his chapter on "The Psychological Aspect of Education," gives to education this definition: "It is the superior adjustment of a physically and mentally developed conscious human being to his intellectual, emotional, and volitional environment."

In our search after knowledge, and particularly here in the field of collegiate life and study, this is a most excellent definition to be borne in mind. Too many of us are prone to ignore one or another of these elements which go to make up the truly educated man.

The first requirement which is put upon him, who would be called educated, is that he shall have developed to its full capacity the physical body which has been given his spirit. It is as a dwelling place while on the earth. Not every man has the ability or the physique to become an athlete, nor is it desirable that such should be the case. All brains and no brain muscles "Jack a dull boy." Indeed, and attention to no other development alone tends to lessen one's real powers and worth.

But, on the other hand, all brain and no brawn is equally bad. The most successful man in college, as well as in any other sphere of life, is not he who wins most honors in scholarship, if, to attain these honors, he must sacrifice bodily health and physical development. Father is he, by far, most successful, who, at the close of his four years in college, can stand forth as a well rounded man, a man who has equally developed his mind and his body, a man who has equally strengthened his power to grasp and retain the things of the world about him and his power to grasp and retain the wealth of intellectual and spiritual well-being within his reach.

The "superior adjustment" to an "intellectual, emotional and volitional environment" must come from a variety of sources. Athletics, study, college duties, social requirements—the whole round of college activities—must contribute to such an adjustment. All these together constitute the true college course and all these together does it take to bring to the commencement platform that perfectly rounded man whose development is the aim and end of true education.

The announcement of the schedule of track meets, appearing in another column, gives occasion for some strong suggestions along the line of college spirit and college pride. Manager Olmsted has arranged a most excellent schedule, much superior to anything given the University in recent years and it is the duty of the students to make the best possible showing for Bucknell in the coming meets.

We have plenty of good material here for almost every kind of event which the track meet embraces. Runners, broad and high jumpers, pole vaulters, hurdlers—we have them all and if they would but come out and develop their ability, they could give Bucknell a record in track athletics this year to be proud of. It seems almost beyond understanding why it is that our men who are proficient in athletics will not give their support to the College in this line of activity. Colleges elsewhere do not appear to experience the same trouble. On the contrary, at some institutions the spirit is so high and the eagerness to win a place on the team so great that it is really a matter of difficulty for those at the head to select the ones who shall represent their colleges. Why cannot we have the same enthusiasm here?

We're not all athletes, fellows, but those of us who have ability along these lines owe it to ourselves, to our fellow-students, and to Bucknell to do their best to give our College the place it can and should hold in the world of college athletics. Let's "get busy," then, and even if things have not been managed quite to our taste, let us show the spirit of Bucknell broadmindedness and come out and do all we can to better conditions, where betterment must necessarily begin, with the athletes themselves.

Persistence Exemplified.

"Several months ago a boy sixteen years of age made his way from Aguas Buenas to San Juan, where he is working at the Presbyterian Hospital for four dollars a month. He is a Baptist boy, and comes to our service. One evening I noticed he had a book in his hand, and upon inquiry I found it was a beginner's book in English. He actually spent nearly half a month's salary to buy that book, so that he might gain a knowledge of English and then go to the United States to College. Here is a boy who has had but a short time in the public schools, with no one to direct him, blindly struggling to realize the higher ideals of life. It is an example of heroism, and the case is as pathetic as it is heroic." Rev. A. A. Cober, '06, San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Editor's Note.—It is our intention to from time to time publish brief items of interest or thoughts of special value from the pens of our alumni. The above is an example, culled from the columns of a current denominational magazine, and noteworthy as showing that the spirit of true heroism seems to have spread abroad to our American dependents.

Chairman Landsrath has appointed the following committees for the annual Sophomore dance to be given in the Armory, May 3rd: Music, program, and invitations, Florida, O'Brien, Lewis, Mallery, Grandfield; Refreshments, Haines, Hunter, Van Why; Decorations, Timlin, Phillips, Carey, Frick.

The invitations will probably come out early next week.

Mrs. Gerhart Entertains.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Weber L. Gerhart gave a most delightful afternoon at home to the members and friends of Delta Delta Delta sorority. The guests numbered about thirty-five and included Miss Jess MacFarland, '06, and Miss Mary E. Galbraith, '07, of Williamsport.

Did you know that every state and Canada, besides several foreign countries this year, "it" makes business "go" and brings the $1.25 to you. Entitled by manufacturers.

THERE IS ONLY ONE KRAMER'S BOOK "Kramer's Book of Trade Secrets" was written by Adolph Kramer, Analytical Chemist, analyzed by other experts. Mr. Kramer was educated in Germany's most noted Technical School and was for over thirty years connected with large manufacturing concerns in Germany and the U. S. BUCKNELL 12; ST JOHNS 3

Varsity Wins Second Game in Easy Fashion.

St. Johns furnished on Monday afternoon the second attraction in the baseball series and was as decisively beaten as Susquehanna in the opening game. The day was unfit for baseball and on account of the frigid weather, the team could not get into the field until the fifth when a safe lead had been acquired.

After Hartman and Robinson had been struck out in the initial inning, Capt. Carroll dropped a safe bunt down the third base line scoring on Austin's clean drive in to right field for two bases. Not until the seventh inning did the visitors again score. In this inning Carroll singled to right and again scored on Austin's second drive for two bases. Northrup, who had replaced Leach in this inning, ended the visitors' hopes of a batting rally by striking out Shearer, the next man up.

The eighth inning was productive of one run for St. Johns, altho the side should have been retired in order. V. Slattery singled, Shearer's drive was neatly stopped by Northrup and an easy double play lost when the ball traveled to centre field. From second, Slattery scored on an infield out and a delayed throw.

Bucknell's twelve runs were due to timely batting and errors of the visitors when men were on bases.

THE JUNIOR DEBATE

Good Arguments Advanced by Juniors On a Much Debated Question

The annual Junior Debate was held Friday evening in Bucknell Hall and proved to be just as spirited and interesting as the most critical could wish for. The arguments were clear, earnest and forcibly presented in each instance bringing forth merited applause from the large number present.

The question: Resolved, "That the United States should establish a more extensive system of shipping subsidies," was never more earnestly or skillfully handled within the time limit in Congress itself. The affirmative consisted of J. R. Hamner and W. H. Bartin, the negative J. B. Boyer and C. L. Bromley.

The first speaker for the affirmative, Mr. Hamner, said in part: "Our present policy is to grant subsidies to four classes of ships on the basis of rate of speed and carrying capacity. In 1896 we carried ninety per cent. of our own imports and exports, in 1906 less than ten per cent. This fact shows the great disparity existing between our merchant marine and our commerce. It costs twenty to forty per cent. more to construct ships in America, and the American sailor gets from six to eleven dollars more per month than does his European brother, hence a liberal subsidy is necessary to enable our ship owners to enter the deep sea carrying trade. This expenditure would rebuild our merchant marine whereby American export producers would be provided with regular, swift, and efficient service at a lower cost than is now obtainable. Freight and passengers as cheaply as foreign nations do."

Mr. Boyer, the first speaker for the negative maintained: "That our present system is adequate since our mails are carried free to foreign ports, and many rates in shipping are considerably cheaper than those charged by our own companies. Despite the millions spent by France and Germany, their subsidies were failures. England pays only five million and several auxiliary subsidies, and does not pay a cent for construction. Subsidies make undesirable class legislation and tend to promote political chicanery. It is contradictory to the well recognized doctrine of Jefferson: 'Equal governmental opportunities and equal governmental burdens for all, special privileges and special rebates for none.'"

Mr. Bartin, the second speaker of the affirmative contended: "That a more extensive subsidy measure would make us safely and reasonably self-sufficient as a commercial and maritime nation, and that it is economically sound and beneficial. By reason of the deplorable condition of our merchant marine, we are dangerously dependent upon foreign rivals and competing nations for our existence and advancement on the sea. Unlike the Tonnage Tax measure, it involves no treaty complications. It secures the same result as the Free Ship Policy but goes a step farther. It restores the merchant marine thru building up our shipyards and thus creating a national shipping capacity. By virtue of our superiority in the steel industry—and steel is the essential element in the construction of modern steamships—our ship building industry is bound in the near future to repay any subsidy encouragement given it at present. It offsets the difference in cost of labor in ship building and ship running which is from twenty to forty per cent. higher in the United States than in any other country."

Mr. Bromley, the second speaker for the negative said in part: "The system of subsidies is not the best method of building up our merchant marine because the protective policy of our forefathers has proved far superior. This policy was successfully used up until 1828 when American ships carried over nine-tenths of our imports and exports. Then the merchant marine was so strong that further protection was deemed unnecessary. Since the discontinuance of this policy, that merchant marine has slowly and steadily declined. Subsidies have been tried and have proved failures, the Collins Line, and Pacific Mail Co. are notable examples. Subsidies cannot touch this decline of the merchant marine and we cannot thus buy our share of the commerce."

C. F. Shipman, Esq., '99, and Geo. E. Benjen, Esq., '04, both of Sunbury, and Prof. Wilson, Supr., of the Milton Schools, acted as the judges.

The College Bible Class.

The transition from the second to the third chapter of Genesis marks the great contrast between what is and what ought to be in human history. In the second chapter we have man in his innocence, with the gifts to him by Jehovah God of the eternal phantoms, a pleasant place of abode, dominion over the animal world, and a help who was his other self. In the next chapter, and throughout the whole of the old and new Testaments we have the recognition of the fact of evil, sin, suffering, toll, murder, hate. Yet the Bible is not pessimistic, but the reverse. It is the reasonable optimism of the physician who diagnoses correctly the disease and hopefully applies the remedy. It is not pessimism, but real wisdom to recognize the personal, social and political evils in the world, and with energy and courage strive to heal. The Bible is a book of healing; aim is the regeneration of the individual and society.

Baseball For This Week.

The baseball candidates have been practicing regularly and faithfully for the last two weeks despite the unfavorable weather conditions existing. Today is really the first day which has seemed fit for the playing of the game.

Judging by the form displayed in the two games played, the team will be a fast one—one that will always have to be reckoned with by the larger colleges in the games to come. From now on the practice will be harder and mid-season form can soon be looked for.

The only game scheduled for this week is Lock Haven Normal on Saturday afternoon, altho negotiations are on for a good game to be played here during the middle of the week. These games will bring to a close the lighter part of the schedule.

CLASSES OF '87 AND '88

Where They Are Located; What They Are Doing.

The class which next June will hold its twentieth reunion is divided as follows:

Justin Van Gundy, after studying in Germany accepted the chair of languages in Carthage College, Carthage, Ill. John A. Young is Professor of Pedagogy in the University of Chicago, and Walker S. Harley is teaching in a Brooklyn High School.

Of the two indices of the class, Frances Mary Rush is now Mrs. L. C. Leedom, of Bordentown, N. J., and Mary R. Young is Mrs. Schreyer, of Milton. Mrs. Schreyer has just left with a party of friends on a tour through England and Wales and from there to South America.

Edwin Paul and Daniel Shipman are successful lawyers of Milton and Shoupsville respectively. Wm. E. Straub graduated at the University of New York and is now a clergyman of Philadelphia. Geo. F. Clark is a physician of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Thomas H. Ruwe is employed in the time department of the Carnegie Steel Co., address, 132 W. 9th St., Homestead, Pa.

Jas. Cawley died in 1891, and Howard Calder ten years later. John Owens was engaged in archeological investigations in Honduras when he was carried off by tropical fever in 1895. Miles O. Noll died Nov. 27th, 1905, at Carlisle, Pa., where he was pastor of a church.

Class of 1888.
If the Freshman class entering next fall were to consist of one-half students for the ministry, we would be apt to think that the millennium was near at hand. And yet of the seventeen surviving members of the class of 1888, nine are now engaged in ministerial work. Wm. H. Chipman is with the First Baptist church of Woodstown, N. J. Robert B. McDonald is pastor of a Baptist church in Chambersburg, Va. and A. R. Bowser is at Cration Station, Pittsburg, Chas. A. Sears is secretary of the Pennsylvania State Mission Society, with headquarters at Philadelphia. Geo. W. Hatch is at Townsville, Pa., where he reports a recent series of meetings through which seventy were added to his church. Frederick Leitch is a clergyman of Philadelphia and when last heard from, Daniel Jones was pastor of a church at Trevorton, Pa. John W. Griffith is with the Dearborn St. Baptist church, Buffalo, N. Y., and writes that there are five Bucknell clergymen in that city. Jas. S. Braker is preaching in Lynn, Mass., address 7 Park St.

Two members of this class have died, Reuben Hollenbaugh in 1893 and Milton Reinhold a year later. Of the remaining members, Wm. V. Hayes and Wm. M. Varsity Wins Easily in a Seven Inning Contest.

The Varsity easily outplayed Lock Haven Normal in all departments of the game on Saturday afternoon shutting them out 14-0 in a seven inning game.

The weather was ideal for baseball and this seemed to give the team more life and action than has been seen at any time before this season.

All kinds of tricks and plays were pulled off, some of them dating back to the early origin of the game, while liberties were taken with the opposing pitchers which opportunity lies now and then, easily made productive of runs. In fact had it not been for these unexpected plays, the game would have been lifeless to say the least, since the Varsity began scoring from the start-off and kept it up in every inning thereafter.

Each pitched an easy, steady game altho a trifle wild at times. Eleven opposing batmen failed to find his elusive "benders" after three unsuccessful tries and he allowed but one hit, a drive to right field for two bases by Thomas in the seventh inning.

With men on bases, the visitors could not hit him safely at all and the faultless work of the class and four college girls are chosen who compete in the final meet. The best speaker of each set of contestants is awarded a prize which, in addition to the friendly rivalry always existing between the speakers, furnishes a pleasing and spirited entertainment. This year's contest was no exception to those in the past and a large number of admirers appreciated the efforts of the speakers.

The work of each speaker was good and showed thoughtful preparation. Many of the subjects presented were difficult productions to render but a faithful study and practice portrayed them in a vivid and eloquent manner. Owing to the number of speakers a lack of space forbids a review of the excellent work of each contestant. The following productions were given by the different speakers:

THE SOIREE

Class of '08, Institute Give Their Annual Play.

Saturday evening the Soiree given annually by the Fourth year class of the Institute was held. This year it was Fannie's "Uddin" and the class of 1908 more than fulfilled the anticipations which the productions of preceding fourth year classes had made inevitable.

Youthful actresses brought out in the most pleasing manner every feature of the graceful little play and testified unmistakably not only to their own skill and diligence but to the "power behind the throne," Miss Schilling, who had "coached" them through all. Following are the dramatic personnel and the program.

New Additions of Library Books.
Hon. H. H. McClure has just presented to the Library fifty-five volumes of law books which will prove of great value to all students in the jurisprudence and kindred courses. This collection comprises the following: twelve volumes of Casey's and fourteen volumes of Wright's Pennsylvania Reports; twenty-nine volumes of the American and English Encyclopedia of Law.

Hon. M. W. Cramer, a former Associate Judge of Union Co. and a member of Bucknell's faculty at one time, has donated his whole library of over two hundred and fifty volumes. This collection includes many standard works valuable to students in the jurisprudence and teachers' courses.

Other recent donors are Prof. Owens and Dr. Grotz who have given books on Science; Dr. Perrine on History; and Prof. Burpee on Engineering. Contributions have also been received from Dr. Ayrington, Jno. W. Shaffer, the State Librarian and the American Baptist Publication Society. Rev. J. E. Walter, Babcock & Wilcox, and The String Co. have given books on Philosophy, Steam, and Engineering, respectively.

The College Bible Class.
Whether a man will be a pessimist or optimist, depends upon what he regards as the chief end of life. Those who regard pleasure as the end of life, are usually pessimists, as the belief is likely to be reached that the amount of suffering and evil in life is such that it would be better not to have been born. On the other hand, those who hold that the end of life is character are optimistic. Such find in the very distinguished characters that have arisen in all ages, reason for believing that life is not a failure. Each nation is entitled to be estimated by its highest; America by its Washingtons and Lincolns, not by its Arnolds; the church by its Pauls and Johns, not by its Judases. We should apply this principle in judging the Negro race in America. That race is entitled as a common right to be judged by its Booker T. Washingtons, and not by its criminals.

Beginning with May the Way of Life meetings will be held on the College Campus, when the weather permits.

Senior Class Meeting.
The Senior class held an important meeting on Wednesday of last week. The question of a class memorial was the chief subject discussed. After the rejection of several ideas it was decided to offer to the University a four dial clock which will strike the hour and the half-hour providing the University will erect a tower in which it can be placed. This, if accepted, will make a useful and handsome memorial, one which both the class and University may be proud.

The president also appointed Hawk as chairman of the committee which has in charge the proper observance of Senior Day which will be observed the first day of the Senior vacation.

Inter-society Debate.
Local interest in debating is being somewhat revived by the preparation for the annual debate between the two literary societies, to take place in Bucknell Hall, Friday evening, May 10th. During the past two years each society has won a contest and the rivalry is keen. The question to be debated is Resolved, "That the Monroe Doctrine should be continued as a part of our permanent foreign policy." Smith, '08, and Van Why, '09, will uphold the Affirmative side of this question for Eupelia while Theta Alpha will be ably represented by Lepperd, '09, and Vette, '10. Judging from the ability shown in the preliminaries, a warm and thorough discussion of this popular subject may be expected.

WE LOSE TO DICKINSON

Costly Errors Responsible For First Defeat This Season.

The Varsity suffered their first defeat this season on Saturday afternoon, losing to Dickinson 6-5. Errors of omission and commission played the prominent part and were directly responsible for the loss of the game.

The visitors were out hit two to one but a combination of wild throws and poor base running offset this. It was Bucknell's off day but even then, the team made several strong bids for the game and looked like winners up to the very last.

Dickinson got one run in their half of the first inning when Davis singled, stole second and scored on a hit. Three more runs were scored by them in the third on two hits, a delayed throw and three wild throws in the infield, which cleared the bases.

In their half of the third Bucknell scored twice on a base on balls, a two base hit, and a single. Three hits scored another in the fourth. The seventh inning the score was tied on a two base hit followed by a sacrifice and a single, while in the eighth the Varsity forged ahead by one run.

With two men out in the visitors' half of the ninth and the game practically lost, Davis got a life on a high throw to first, Fry was safe on an error while both men scored on a hit after being advanced by a base on balls.

Bucknell made three hits in the ninth, one following the other, but was unable to score with no one out.

Give 'em a Send-off.

The team will leave Tuesday at 1:15, Pennsylvania station, for their Cornell and Syracuse trip. Let everybody who possibly can be at the depot to give them an inspiring send-off. There is nothing better in the world to put vim into men than the knowledge that their friends are wishing them godspeed whatever their work and way may be. Every body be on hand.

Armstrong-Morgan.

The wedding of former Judge and member of the State Board of Equalization of Taxes, Edward Anshel Armstrong, to Miss Carrie Morgan, sister of State Comptroller and United States Commissioner J. Willard Morgan, took place at 432 Linden street, Camden, at 4 o'clock last Tuesday evening.

A reception took place at the Rittenhouse, Philadelphia, from 8 until 10 o'clock, to which more than 1000 persons were invited, including many prominent in religious, social and political affairs of New Jersey and Philadelphia. Miss Mollie Westcott, and Miss Alice Armstrong, '19 were among the guests.

Judge Armstrong is prominently connected with Bucknell University, having been given the honorary degree of A. M. by the College, and being a member of the Board of Trustees.

On Friday night in Bucknell Hall the annual Sophomore contest in oratory took place and was of an unusual order of merit. The selections rendered were well chosen and well delivered and the large audience present greatly enjoyed the whole program, as was evidenced by the applause that greeted every number.

Following is the program of speakers, with their selections:
"The Necessity of Quinine Agitation," Phillips; Earl E. Geyer, Williamsport.
"Evelyn Hope"—Browning; "Impham"—F. Nicholson; Nala D. Webb, Rutherford, N. J.

Clock Proposition Accepted.
The University authorities last week accepted the proposition of the Senior class to provide a College clock as a memorial. The clock will be a regulation Seth Thomas tower clock with four dials and will strike the hours and half hours. It will be placed in a tower, to be built for the purpose, on the top of West College, the best location on the hill for practical purposes. Plans have been drawn and materials ordered and it is expected that the work will soon be under way.

Editorial

As the days slip by and the end of the college year approaches, the consummation of the plan for getting Bucknell into better shape in the matter of college songs and college spirit is the more heartily to be desired. Now that the warm spring evenings are at hand, where in those most pleasurable memories of all our college course may be engendered—the memories of hours spent with "the fellows," loling on the steps or campus, and raising our voices in happy attitude and melody—it should be the immediate aim and ambition of every student and alumnus to "get things going." Commencement day will soon be here and without immediate effort upon our part another year will have gone by, full of wasted opportunities for getting the sweetest and best things to be got from our college associations.

Bucknell is wonderfully picturesque in this sort of thing. There is not a college of any standing in the country that is more lacking in the spirit and good fellowship which such "sangfested" air, and do, begot. Even headnotes and sonnets of other places have "campus nights" and similar occasions in which the students get together and cheer and enliven each other with their songs while instilling in every heart a love for alma mater that but grows richer and stronger with the lapse of time.

And yet, it is not for the formal "sing" alone that we are pleading. We want, first of all, new and better songs. There are some excellent songs extant already, but who knows them or who even ever heard of them? Let them be brought on again and along with them let others appear—songs that shall be worthwhile and shall ring with the true Bucknell spirit. A competent committee has been appointed to oversee matters and the more contributions from Bucknell pens, whether old and steady or young and frisky, the better will the committee be pleased.

If Bucknell is to assume and hold her proper place in the list of colleges, something must be done along the line of developing more Bucknell love and patriotism and sympathy and, odd as it may seem, there is no better field for effort along these lines than just in the matter of songs and singing. Only recently, a prominent member of our faculty, in commenting on the matter said that nothing in his own course was dearer and sweeter to him in memory, than the hours spent with his fellows in singing the good old college airs.

Alumni and fellow-students we have an opportunity here to render our beloved Alma Mater a service not to be reckoned in dollars and cents. As President Harris said recently, "A college lives in the hearts of its alumni," and the richer the soil of memory in which we plant this tree of affection in the hearts of those leaving the University each year, the greater fold will be the fruit in Bucknell's name and fame and worth.

Replying to the communication found in another column, relative to the class scrap, we have only to say that the movement has gone where all good movements and ideas seem to go here at Bucknell—to a calm, undisturbed and eternal sleep. All year long we have harped on this question of changing the method of the scrap and a number of communications from others on the subject were given publication, and all to no purpose. And we are, at last, tired of it. We are going to say nothing more. The scrap may be conducted with galling guns at a mile or with small potatoes at six-inch paces, and we shall not care a whit. Either of these methods, though, would appear to us as being less humane and purposeless, as well as resultless, than the one in vogue. So be it, however, if the student body prefer to rest in supreme ease and contentment with it, we shall never again attempt to disturb their perfect mental repose with even a whisper of anything that would necessitate a disturbance of intellect and inertia.

"The class scrap movement, then, friend Senator, is dead. Peace to its ashes!"

Commencement R. R. Rates.
The Trunk Line Association has granted the following reduced rates on all railroads for commencement June 14-15.

Fare and one-third for the round trip from Trunk Line points in Pa., (east of and including Erie, Oil City, and Pittsburgh) on card orders; tickets to be sold and good, going, June 12 to 18, returning until June 22, inclusive.

Card orders can be procured by addressing the Registrar.

Class Play Progressing.
The cast for the Senior class play is hard at work on rehearsals, and everything is moving along smoothly. A new part was added to the original cast which will be filled by Miss Mahel Hill. "The Elongement of Ellen" bids fair to be one of the most successful plays ever given by any graduating class.

Communication.

Dear Mr. Editor:—

Whatever has become of the movement for regulating the annual sophomore-freshman scrap? There is, I know, a decided sentiment in favor of a change. Why isn't something done about it? The time for action is growing short and the matter is one of enough importance to require considerable deliberation. Let's get to business.

Editorial

As the days slip by and the end of the college year approaches, the consummation of the plan for getting Bucknell into better shape in the matter of college songs and college spirit is the more heartily to be desired. Now that the warm spring evenings are at hand, where in those most pleasurable memories of all our college course may be engendered—the memories of hours spent with "the fellows," loling on the steps or campus, and raising our voices in happy attitude and melody—it should be the immediate aim and ambition of every student and alumnus to "get things going." Commencement day will soon be here and without immediate effort upon our part another year will have gone by, full of wasted opportunities for getting the sweetest and best things to be got from our college associations.

Bucknell is wonderfully picturesque in this sort of thing. There is not a college of any standing in the country that is more lacking in the spirit and good fellowship which such "sangfested" air, and do, begot. Even headnotes and sonnets of other places have "campus nights" and similar occasions in which the students get together and cheer and enliven each other with their songs while instilling in every heart a love for alma mater that but grows richer and stronger with the lapse of time.

And yet, it is not for the formal "sing" alone that we are pleading. We want, first of all, new and better songs. There are some excellent songs extant already, but who knows them or who even ever heard of them? Let them be brought on again and along with them let others appear—songs that shall be worthwhile and shall ring with the true Bucknell spirit. A competent committee has been appointed to oversee matters and the more contributions from Bucknell pens, whether old and steady or young and frisky, the better will the committee be pleased.

If Bucknell is to assume and hold her proper place in the list of colleges, something must be done along the line of developing more Bucknell love and patriotism and sympathy and, odd as it may seem, there is no better field for effort along these lines than just in the matter of songs and singing. Only recently, a prominent member of our faculty, in commenting on the matter said that nothing in his own course was dearer and sweeter to him in memory, than the hours spent with his fellows in singing the good old college airs.

Alumni and fellow-students we have an opportunity here to render our beloved Alma Mater a service not to be reckoned in dollars and cents. As President Harris said recently, "A college lives in the hearts of its alumni," and the richer the soil of memory in which we plant this tree of affection in the hearts of those leaving the University each year, the greater fold will be the fruit in Bucknell's name and fame and worth.

Replying to the communication found in another column, relative to the class scrap, we have only to say that the movement has gone where all good movements and ideas seem to go here at Bucknell—to a calm, undisturbed and eternal sleep. All year long we have harped on this question of changing the method of the scrap and a number of communications from others on the subject were given publication, and all to no purpose. And we are, at last, tired of it. We are going to say nothing more. The scrap may be conducted with galling guns at a mile or with small potatoes at six-inch paces, and we shall not care a whit. Either of these methods, though, would appear to us as being less humane and purposeless, as well as resultless, than the one in vogue. So be it, however, if the student body prefer to rest in supreme ease and contentment with it, we shall never again attempt to disturb their perfect mental repose with even a whisper of anything that would necessitate a disturbance of intellect and inertia.

"The class scrap movement, then, friend Senator, is dead. Peace to its ashes!"

Commencement R. R. Rates.
The Trunk Line Association has granted the following reduced rates on all railroads for commencement June 14-15.

Fare and one-third for the round trip from Trunk Line points in Pa., (east of and including Erie, Oil City, and Pittsburgh) on card orders; tickets to be sold and good, going, June 12 to 18, returning until June 22, inclusive.

Card orders can be procured by addressing the Registrar.

Class Play Progressing.
The cast for the Senior class play is hard at work on rehearsals, and everything is moving along smoothly. A new part was added to the original cast which will be filled by Miss Mahel Hill. "The Elongement of Ellen" bids fair to be one of the most successful plays ever given by any graduating class.

WIN ONE; LOSE ONE

Bloomburg Loses to Bucknell.

Bloomburg proved an easy proposition on Saturday, the Varsity winning by the score 8-1. Enough runs were scored in the first inning to win the game and the final result was never in doubt.

Parsons pitched a good game at Lewisburg but five hits. Three of these came in the ninth inning and an error after two men were out gave Bloomburg their only run.

Sheehan and Parsons led at the bat, the former making a home run and three singles, the latter two doubles and a single. The score:

The Cornell Game.

The Varsity were defeated 2-4 by Cornell on Wednesday at Ithaca in an eleven inning contest. The game was hard fought by both teams from the beginning and although a little slow at times, the uncertainty of its outcome served to keep the crowd well interested. Especially was this true after the eighth inning when Bucknell tied the score.

Cornell was the first to score, getting three runs in the second inning. Hastings was safe on a base on balls to Olenford and Sheehan's single to center which got through Graves went out on a fly. Reiber was given a base on balls and both men scored on Deshon's double to center. Deshon scored the third run a moment later on Hoffman's clean hit. Ebeling struck out.

INTER-SOCIETY DEBATE

Friday Night.

The question: Resolved, That the United States should codify the Monroe Doctrine as part of its permanent foreign policy, was the subject of an interesting debate between teams representing Theta Alpha and Eupelia Literary Societies on Friday night in Bucknell Hall. The debaters on both sides scored so many and such effective points that in the minds of the audience there was but little room for decision either way.

Eugene Van Wely, '06, representing Eupelia, opened for the affirmative, by reviewing the cause and naming the two main declarations of the doctrine. He said in part: "We contend that self preservation is not only the first law of Nature, but it is also the first law of nations. Every nation has the right to protect itself against its enemies. We, as a nation, have always exercised this right and have prospered thereby. In order to protect our rights in the future, the Monroe Doctrine must be upheld, for it prevents foreign nations from encroaching themselves in a position from which they could endanger our welfare, safety and peace."

Louis J. Vette, '09, of Philadelphia, followed with the opening speech for the negative. He said in part: "The Monroe Doctrine should not be retained by the United States because it continually places in jeopardy the lives and prosperity of her citizens; because its enforcement requires increased armament, which means increased burdens of taxation; and because it allows insignificant countries to contract debts and then repudiate them under its cover. Moreover its retention is detrimental to South America. Himself show it continues weak governments and by so doing retards desirable immigration and rapid development."

Stanton R. Smith, '09, of Stroudsburg, continued the argument for the affirmative. In part, he said: "The Monroe Doctrine should be continued because it is grounded in reason. It is reasonable because it advocates peace, not war; protection, not aggression. It represents a policy that makes for the peace of the world, a policy that is generous, humane and benevolent. The United States has never tried to destroy, but to preserve the weaker republics. She has never claimed a single cent of indemnity nor asked for, or taken, an inch of territory from the country she has defended." He concluded with the contention that the doctrine should be continued in order to protect the peace of the world, and in order to protect the Panama Canal.

The negative side closed with the argument of Charles J. Leppard, '09, of Danamoon, who said in part: "The Monroe Doctrine is unnecessary. The causes which brought it about have ceased to exist, for no European nation today is seeking to overthrow an American government. Any danger to our own security is ample ground itself for action by our government. The Monroe Doctrine, too, is a menace to our peace with Europe because it is inconsistent with the principle of self-determination."

Baseball This Week.

Two games will be played this week and both should result in live and interesting contests. Tomorrow afternoon the strong University of West Virginia will play here and a fast game can be expected. This will be their first meeting with Bucknell and, judging from their good work this season, the game will be close. On Saturday we meet Dickinson for the second time this season, the game to be played at Carlisle.

Rain at Syracuse.
Owing to rain, the game with Syracuse on Thursday was called off. Syracuse was one of the three new opponents on our schedule this year.

Inter-Class Meet.

On Saturday took place on the athletic field the annual field and track meet between the classes of the College. Owing to the chilliness of the weather nobody was able to do his best and the results were generally unsatisfactory. The total tallies gave the Freshmen the best of the meet with 57 points to their credit. The Sophomores next with 36 points, the Juniors brought up the rear with 25 points. Following is a list of the events with the winner of each, in the order of finishing:

100 yards run—Croop, Benn, Liddy, Fetter.
220 yards hurdle—Knapp, Owens, Lador, Dawson.
1 mile run—Whitney, Rockwell, Butt, Payne.
440 yards run—Baer, McDonough, Ogden, Nyberg.
880 yards run—Lennhart, Townsend, Walters, Hedge.
1 mile run—Knapp and Hall, and Frick, Townsend.
Running high jump—Cure, Mauley, and Jenner, Dawson.
Hurdle throw—Lennhart, Edmonds, Fetter, Hedge.
Running broad jump—Cure, Liddy, Jenner, Ritter.

Kappa Sigma Dance
Kappa Sigma entertained about seventy-five guests Friday night at a dance in the Armory. The hall was abnormally decorated with the fraternity emblems, pictures and pennants, the feature of decoration being an electrical effect of the "Crescent and Star." Oppenheimer's orchestra of Wilkes-Barre furnished the music.

Aside from the Milton and Lewisburg people in attendance there were: Mr. and Mrs. Casswell of Bloomburg, and the Misses Elizabeth Sheple of Williamsport, Rhode Robinson of Conowingo, Alice Atkinson of Pittsburg, and Ruth and Helen Norris of Wilson College. The patronesses were: Mrs. Wm. Leiser, Mrs. E. H. Heaton, Mrs. P. B. Linn, Mrs. C. A. Chapin, Mrs. W. L. Gishart and Miss Ida Frick.

Teachers' Club Meets.
The regular bi-weekly meeting of the Teachers' Association was held in Eupelia Hall, Friday afternoon, May 10th. Prof. Dattel delivered an address taking for his subject: "The Teacher of Mathematics." He was followed by Dr. Giff, who gave some helpful advice to those seeking positions. The attendance was good and those present were much pleased with the addresses.

Junior Oratory.

The annual Junior Exhibition in Oratory will take place in Bucknell Hall next Friday night. The speakers, who have been selected for general excellence in rhetoric and composition work throughout their course will deliver original orations that have been carefully composed and prepared. Some very good speeches are expected.

1889 AND 1892

What a Quarter of a Century Has Brought to Their Members.

A quarter of a century is a large portion in the life of the average man. After such a time, a look backward into the years leads one almost into another generation so that in writing of the members of these two classes of twenty-four and five years ago, we are beginning to recount the doings and achievements of our fathers.

Of the fifteen members of 1889, two have already ended life's journey here to go into the larger world. Six years ago Abraham Tustin finished the course and two years later Morgan Watkins followed him into the beyond.

Of the living members of the class, six are in the Christian ministry. William Coniston is pastor of one of Pittsburgh's Baptist churches, and Spencer Meiser officiates in a like capacity in Detroit, Michigan. Glenwood, Iowa, is the scene of A. H. Beaver's pastorate, while W. G. Watkins is pastor of the Bethany Baptist church of Scranton, Ohio. Thomas and A. W. Puller did not answer our inquiry cards, but when last heard from the former was a pastor in Hillsville, Pa., and the latter in Middleport, Ohio.

The law appealed to two of the class and Clarence E. Sprout and J. C. Nisley have achieved enviable reputations in the bars of Williamsport and Harrisburg, respectively. Mr. Sprout has, too, more than a local reputation as a humorous singer, having for years been a member of the well known First Presbyterian choir of his city.

Business pursuits absorb the time and attention of Charles Stahl of Lehigh, and what schooling has been the field of Joseph Carey's successful effort in Pittsburg. Elmer E. Wolfe abroad upon teaching and is principal of the Marietta Academy, Marietta, Ohio. W. C. Sommer made his home in Lewisburg for many years, but became afflicted with mental trouble which necessitated his removal to a sanatorium.

Of the six living members of the class of 1892, all are pastors of Christian churches or engaged actively in Christian work. Milton Evans is one of the faculty of Crozer Theological Seminary where he has, since his own graduation, helped to train many graduates of Bucknell for the ministry. Henry Hall, was formerly in Baptist ministry and is now president of the Hall Institute, Sharon, Pa., at the same time serving as editor of a national paper known as "The Protective Home Circle."

Robert Hunsicker is pastor of the First Baptist church of Gettysburg, and John Jenkins is a minister in the same denomination in Meila, Pa. Henry Meades and John Thomas, long ago to the Pennsylvania clergy, the former in the Baptist church of Monessen, Pa., and the latter in Peckville where he has been preaching for some ten years past.

William Ditesman and Henry Hamilton were called on to the other life, the latter dying in 1891 and the former some four years ago.

Editorial

To even the careless reader of the daily press of the country, the almost omnipresent feature of every day's issue would seem to be dishonesty and chicanery of one sort or another, though chiefly in that place where dishonesty is most easily practiced—in the relations of life that have to do with money. Hanging from the colossal standards of our so-called kings of finance, to the petty theft of a yard of ribbon, we seem to be living in the midst of a very carnival of "graft" and dishonesty to trust in political, business and even social life.

To one who considers the matter thoughtfully there must come the disturbing question: "Are we as a nation becoming faithless to trust?" On every side we see men of apparent highest standing deliberately violating their fellows in ways that while not to be attacked under the law, are in the light of honor and morals wholly reprehensible and disgraceful.

Not alone to those who sit in the seats of the mighty, however, is this flowing confined. We find it everywhere about us, in the lowest and commonest walks of life. Even in the college world it is almost universally apparent. Men chosen to fill positions of trust in the college life too often yield to the temptation to reap profit at the expense of their fellow-students. Officers of classes and associations and fraternities, committees in charge of some college event involving the expenditure of sums of money, often considerably in amount—many of them seem to feel that the public treasury is the private purse, and that it is a matter of congratulation if, by hook or crook, they may benefit themselves financially.

In this regard Bucknell has reason to feel proud of herself for, particularly in late years, there has been little or none of this mean and contemptible graft. And indications point to a continuance of these good conditions. There is a gratifying and growing tendency toward publicity and openness in the management of class and other affairs which is doing away with even the suspicion of dishonest practice. Altho, reception accounts, memorials—all are being taken care of in a way that is open and above board. And, perhaps, best of all features of the matter is the usual submission of all accounts to the Registrar or some other representative member of the College for auditing and correction.

It is to be hoped that the idea will continue to hold place. Every activity in which the student-body is interested and has a part should be managed in such way that all accounts and records should at least be accessible to anyone wishing to see them. If not given publication, nothing sooner and more easily kills any movement, it matters not how worthy, than the suspicion of graft and dishonesty, and nothing will add more to its success than the general assurance that everything connected with its management, financial and otherwise, is free and open to any and all who wish to know about it.

Institute Election Contest.
On Saturday night the annual contest in election by the Institute was given in Bucknell Hall before a large and well pleased audience. Following is the list of those taking part, with their collectives: "Mrs. McWilliams and the Lightning," Ernestine Hyatt, Lewisburg; "Eating of Oats," Myra High, White Deer; "The English Bureaucracy," Annette Stahl, Lewisburg; "On the Stage," Harriet Burrows, Salisbury; "Death of Lady DeWinton," Eudora Hamler, Lewisburg; "The Widow's Revenge," Mary Starock, Lewisburg; "Haunted by a Song," Elizabeth Mulford, Bridgeport, N. J.

University Picture Here.
The outline of the complete view of the University, which was recently contracted for by Registrar Greitzinger, has arrived and is on exhibition in the College Library. The work is very well done, and far exceeds the hopes of those who are interested in the matter. The campus arrangement being so hard to get satisfactorily into one view.

Dickinson Tennis Tournament.
We meet Dickinson in tennis on Wednesday afternoon on the S. A. E. court. No general admission is charged, but a charge of ten cents is made for reserved chairs.

There is still plenty of opportunity to get into the meet. Those desiring should report at Bartol's court at 4 p. m. Monday and Tuesday.

Reception Accounts Closed.
Chairman Snyder has closed up the accounts of the receipts and expenditures incident to the College Men's Reception. They have been audited and found correct by Registrar Greitzinger and are on file in the college office for anyone's inspection. A balance of $106 will be applied to the Harvey fund.

Bucknell Alumnae Club Meeting.
The Bucknell Alumnae Club will hold its last regular spring meeting on Tuesday evening, May 14th, at 7:30 p. m. in the Institute parlors. A full attendance is desired as there is important business to be transacted.

BUCKNELL WINS TRACK MEET

Dickinson College Field and Track Team Loses by 66 to 38 Points.

On Saturday afternoon Bucknell won her first intercollegiate track and field meet of the season, Dickinson going down to defeat with but 38 points to a total of 66 scored by the Orange and Blue. Bucknell obtained her large lead in the field events taking five firsts and three seconds out of five events in all. In the track events the teams split even, each taking four firsts.

The meet was not more than ordinarily good, most of the running events being done in only ordinary time, and the field events being only moderately successful. Two local records were broken, however, Knapp, reducing the 120 yards hurdle record to 16 seconds flat, and Lenhart putting the 16 pound shot to a new measure of 41 ft. 6 in.

The events:

100 yards dash—Won by Croop, Bucknell; Sawyer, Dickinson, second. Time, 11 seconds.

120 yards hurdle—Won by Knapp, Bucknell; Ambrose, Dickinson, second. Time, 16 seconds.

160 yards dash—Won by Whitney, Bucknell; Payne, Dickinson, second. Time, 5 minutes 5.35 seconds.

440 yards run—Won by Washbaugh, Dickinson; Shilling, Dickinson, second. Time, 24 1/2 seconds.

Two mile run—Won by Sawyer, Dickinson; Butt, Bucknell, second. Time, 11 minutes 7 3/4 seconds.

220 yards hurdle—Won by Knapp, Bucknell; Lechinger, Dickinson, second. Time, 29 3/4 seconds.

220 yards run—Won by Sawyer, Dickinson; Benn, Bucknell, second. Time, 24 1/2 seconds.

Half-mile run—Won by Shilling, Dickinson; Hauck, Bucknell, second. Time, 2 minutes 12 seconds.

16 lb. shot put—Won by Lenhart, Bucknell; Townsend, Dickinson, second. Distance, 41 ft. 6 in.

Pole vault—Won by Hall, Bucknell; Knapp, Bucknell, second. Height, 9 ft. 7 in.

Running high jump—Won by Croop, Bucknell; Bloom, Bucknell, second. Height, 5 ft. 5 1/2 in.

16 lb. hammer throw—Won by Lenhart, Bucknell; Frey, Dickinson, second. Distance, 124 ft. 9 in.

Running broad jump—Won by Croop, Bucknell; Hauck, Dickinson, second. Distance, 29 ft. 2 in.

Northfield Plans Dismissed.

Last Thursday night the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was in charge of the Northfield Committee, under the leadership of Shrum, '08. Interesting reports of former student conferences at Northfield were given, and everyone was urged to make an effort to get there at least once during his college course. Several at the meeting expressed an intention of going this year and Bucknell will probably have a large delegation.

Athletic Association Meeting.
The annual Spring election of the Athletic Association will take place in the Gymnasium, Saturday, June 1st, at 10 a. m. Assistant Managers of Baseball, Basketball, Field and Track, and Tennis, are to be elected, besides four members of the Executive Board. By order of Sec'y.

ORATORY EXHIBITION

Annual Junior Contest Held Friday Night in Bucknell Hall.

On Friday night the annual Junior Exhibition of Original Orations took place in Bucknell Hall before a large and appreciative audience. The orations were of an unusual order of merit, and were, most of them, delivered in very good form. Thoughtful preparation and careful training showed themselves in every number. Following is the program of the evening:

"The Story of a Redeemed Life," Anna Stage, Clearfield.

"Mental Freedom the Fruit of the Renaissance," Robert Bruce Morris, Rebersburg.

"Satan's Role: A Moral Reformer," Beatrice Rae Richards, Shilington.

"Mosses in Art," Dana Melis, S. Lower, Elkhart, Ind.

"A Deduction from Welsmanism," Walter Leroy Noll, Green Park.

"Wordsworth's Poetic Dictation," Olive Crozer Richards, Shilington.

"The Child Labor Question," Walter Madison Corli, Lewisburg.

"The Tragic Problem of Schiller's Wallenstein," Grace Virginia Royer, Lewisburg.

"Comparison of the Characters in Goethe's and Schiller's Works," Ralph Wendsdorf Haller, Reading.

Miss Craig, Miss Irwin and Miss Swartz assisted in the program with vocal and instrumental selections.

Changes in Football Rules.

Two changes in the football rules for the coming season were adopted by the Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee last week.

The first rule provides that in case of a forward pass, the player must be at least a yard back from the line when the play is begun. This rule was adopted to remove the ambiguity of the old rule as to whether the players were on the end of the scrimmage line or behind the line.

The other rule provides that a forward pass crossing the goal line on the ground or rolling, whether before or after being legally touched, shall count as a touchdown to the defenders of the goal.

The name of the new official provided for at the last meeting has been changed from field umpire to field judge to prevent confusion.

A call has been sent out for a conference to be held in New York June 7, for the consideration of various football matters, including the appointment of and jurisdiction over officials, uniform fees and uniform action in other matters.

Tennis Tournaments This Week.

Two tennis meets will be played this week. On Friday the team meets Gettysburg at Gettysburg, on Saturday Dickinson at Carlisle. Last year on a similar trip we lost to Gettysburg and won with Dickinson. The meet with the latter team here resulted in a draw, Bucknell winning the double but losing the singles.

This season the prospects are bright after the good showing on Wednesday against Dickinson and we can reasonably expect the team "to do" things in the events to come.

We Lost to Dickinson Again.

The return game with Dickinson was played at Carlisle on Saturday and resulted in a victory for that team by the score 12-7. The game was filled with hitting, enough and to spare by either side, likewise errors, and poor judgment as well.

Dickinson got an earned run in the second inning and five more in the next, some of which were not earned. Parsons then replaced Leach in the box but Dickinson was not to be denied and annexed four more at once. In the next inning they scored one more and in the eighth made it an even dozen by scoring one more—their last.

Bucknell's runs were earned for the most part. In the third a batting rally netted four runs and but for two bad decisions by the umpire in this inning a lead would undoubtedly have been acquired. Another rally was started in the fifth and three earned runs resulted.

Bucknell Wins Tennis Tournament.

On Wednesday afternoon the first of Bucknell's intercollegiate tennis tournaments for this season was played with Dickinson college on the S. A. E. court, before a good-sized crowd of enthusiasts who had gathered to witness the event. The best two out of three were played and the Orange and Blue had little difficulty in taking both doubles and singles straight.

Harris, '07, and Manchester, '08, represented Bucknell in the doubles, winning them by 6-4 and 6-3 over Haines and Philhour, who represented Dickinson. In the singles Harris won by 8-6 and 6-2 over Jamison. Prof. Ballentine served as umpire and Prof. Phillips as referee.

Univ. of West Va. Defeated.

The Varsity decisively defeated University of West Virginia on Tuesday afternoon by the score 12-2. After the first two innings during which time Bucknell scored six runs, interest waned and it was only a question of how many runs would finally be piled up by them.

The contest was marked by heavy hitting on both sides, but the hits of the visitors did not come at opportune moments when runs would have resulted. On the other hand, the hits of the Varsity interspersed with nine free passes were productive of runs in most instances, although negligent and listless base running cut down the score somewhat.

In fielding the Varsity had by far the better of the argument with only one misplay recorded against them. The changed lineup worked well and while a few infield hits were beaten out, the slow, listless game did not necessarily call for the most strenuous work on the part of the players. The score:

BUCKNELL 18; F. & M. 6

An Easy Victory in a Free Hitting Game of Seven Innings.

The Varsity easily defeated Franklin and Marshall on Saturday afternoon 18-6 in a seven inning game. Plenty of hitting and loose fielding on both sides were the features of an otherwise slow and listless contest.

The visitors started off like winners scoring three runs in the initial inning. Krauss singled, Graul was given a pass and Lovell flied to center. Lentz then scored three runs by a long drive to deep center, good for a home run. The next two men were easy lifted outs.

Fifteen men came to bat for Bucknell in their half and eleven scored. Sheehan got a life on an error at second, Gruninger singled, and Whetstone scored both and himself on a long drive to left. Bases on balls, hits, and errors were productive of eight more before the inning was closed.

In the second, after the first man up had been retired, three successive errors by first, second, and third basemen respectively, filled the sacks for F. and M. Two runs were then forced in by passes and one more was advanced on a long fly to left. This ended the scoring by the visitors, for after that Parsons pitched a steady, effective game.

In the third the Varsity scored a half dozen more off Snyder who had replaced Lentz in the second inning. In the fourth they tallied their final run off Graul who replaced Snyder in this inning.

An Excellent Course.

Arrangements have been completed with a bureau for a number of strong attractions in the Y. M. C. A. course for next year. Since the course has been arranged early in the season good selections were possible and the bureau promises that there will be no disappointments and delays such as occurred this year.

The first number, the Ion Jackson Grand Concert Company will be on October 28th. On Nov. 22nd, Edward P. Elliott, the impersonator, will present "The Lion and the Mouse," a drama which has been so popular the last two seasons.

The next number is new at Bucknell, but is considered one of the best on the American platform today. Geo. R. Wendling, orator and lecturer, who will be here on Dec. 9th. The ever popular Katherine Ridgway will return Jan. 23rd. The last attraction will be a lecture by Judge Ben Lindsey, "the man whose work in the Juvenile Court in Denver is solving the problem of the bad boy." The Y. M. C. A. is especially to be congratulated on securing this man of national fame. He will appear on March 5th and his subject is "The Misfortunes of Mickey."

For a combination of the intellectual and popular this course is hard to be surpassed, and without doubt is the best ever secured by the Y. M. C. A.

Clock Tower Under Way.

Work has been begun on the tower for the memorial clock, the material for construction having arrived last week. It is expected that everything will be completed by June 10.

THE HALL OF FAME

The Classes of 1878, 1877 and 1876 Add Their Quotas.

In the year of 1878 the attendance of the college was 44. Imagine then the feelings of Dr. D. A. He has been a trustee of the University since 1896 and for eight years has been a lecturer in the law department. E. H. Reppert is Judge of the 15th District, residing at Uniontown.

BEN GREET COMING

Rare Opportunity Offered to See This Famous Company.

On Monday afternoon next, June 2nd, the University and all others who care to embrace the opportunity are to have the privilege of hearing Ben Greet and his company play Shakespeare's "As You Like It" on our campus, after the Elizabethan manner, and under the auspices of the University Club. It is unnecessary to say that this is an opportunity that could not be offered except under peculiar circumstances. For a score of years this company has given splendid performances in England at Oxford and Cambridge universities and elsewhere and for the past four years they have been delighting audiences at Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Wellesley, Vassar and many other institutions of learning besides drawing crowded houses in the large cities to their extraordinary presentation of the old English Morality "Everyman."

Their representative accuses your reporter that our campus is a veritable Forest of Arden, that no stage will be required as the play will be given upon the slope of the hill, and that it will be presented just as they have given it at Stratford, Shakespeare's home. All the professors express their gratification over the coming event and urge every student to attend this most delightful and instructive performance. The price of admission is very reasonable and below what would be demanded elsewhere and in other circumstances—and a special price has been made to students in order that no one need remain away. Let all spread the news far and wide to our friends wherever they be and show our appreciation of one of the most refined and scholarly entertainments with which the University has ever been favored. Should the day prove stormy, the play will be given in Commencement Hall.

The "Woodpecker."

A bird of a new and peculiar species appeared on the campus last week and mystified the natives as to its source and meaning. All sorts of guesses were made, ranging from an advertisement of sandwiches to next year's Freshman "proce," but nothing was made clear until Friday morning, when large posters announced that the "Woodpecker" is a paper to air college events. It has a large sale.

"Sunshine" Tonight.

In place of Kerr Boyce Tupper, who was to fill the last number on the Y. M. C. A. course, Dr. A. A. Willis, "the Apostle of Sunshine," has been secured. He will appear tonight in the Baptist church in the most popular of his lectures, "Sunshine."

Memorial Day at Lewisburg.

The Memorial Day program in town will consist of the usual parade on the streets and exercises in the cemetery. In the evening, Co. A. N. G. F., will give an exhibition drill on the campus.

No School Thursday.

There will be no classes on Thursday of this week, Memorial Day.

Plan to Secure Coach.

At a mass meeting of the students last Friday night a movement to secure a field coach for the next football season was started, and plans were laid to raise money for the same. Different ones present, including some members of the football team, spoke of the necessity of having a field coach, in order that Coach Hoskins may devote more time to the physical training of the men. It was reported that the advisory board and Coach Hoskins favored the project and that some expression from the student body was desired before a decision was made.

Manager Thompson discussed the question at length, telling of correspondence he had with different applicants, and proposing the circulation of a subscription paper among the students and alumni to raise the amount required to secure the coach wanted. This plan met with the approval of the meeting, and the paper will be around in a few days.

The President's Reception.

On Thursday evening President and Mrs. Harris extended their annual reception to the graduating classes of the College and the Institute. Eighty guests were present and partook of the President's kindly hospitality.

President and Mrs. Harris received their guests in the large reception room at the right of the main hallway. Fairs and masses of fragrant lilies furnished the floral decorations, and the sombre black of senatorial cap and gown dignity gave an added touch to the scene.

so mysteriously last week and awoke the college with the sound of its pecking. Its novel—but careless—method of advertising gave it a fine start and we are glad to see it. Since it is a college publication, we suppose we ought to be jealous, but no such feelings are troubling us, and the only fault we have to find is, as we have said, with its excessive and misplaced posters.

There is no reason why Bucknell cannot support another paper. The Orange and Blue aims to give a true account of college happenings each week; anything else would be out of place in a newspaper. For the strictly literary talent of the school, of which there is no small amount,

there is no outlet. Ten years ago, when the number of students was much smaller a literary periodical

was kept up in addition to the regular weekly sheet. Why it is impossible now, we cannot see. Perhaps the coming of the "Woodpecker" will revive things. At any rate, its breezy style and choice of subjects have won it friends from the start. We

its mysterious editor.

The "Commencement feeling," that

hilarity, really begins with the assembly of the seniors in front of

West College prior to Prexy's reception. Perhaps it is the appearance of cap and gown that brings it on;

or is it the words "Senior" and

"graduate" so frequently heard?

Whatever may arouse it the "feeling" is surely present that night when we begin to realize that another class is preparing to leave, and

gowned procession winds its way down the path singing "Where, O where are the grave old seniors?" It's a pleasant feeling, and yet about the third year you begin to mingle so many different thoughts with it that you scarcely know what to call it.

It isn't like college spirit nor class spirit, that makes you want to scrap or yell or play; and it isn't exactly

Annual Clearance Sale of Ladies' and Misses' Tailor-Made Suits.

Every year at just about this time we "round up" our stock of tailor-made suits and the price asked are much less than their real value. Every lady should have a tailor-made suit, for you are almost sure to find cool days or evenings when you can wear them with comfort.

The prices asked for them now should induce you to buy them, even if you do not want to wear them until Fall, as they are this season's styles and will be just as good in October as in May and you will not buy them for anywhere near these prices next Fall.

Many handsome suits are offered by the reduction but we are determined to clean up a certain lot quickly.

Ask to see the suits that we are selling for $10 this week and you will notice at once that these garments had been much higher and are worth more money.

Any suit that will need alteration it will be done here by a skilled tailor, who thoroughly understands the business and will guarantee a good fit.

THE WEEK'S ATHLETICS

We Take Two Out of the Four Meets and Games During the Week.

The Varsity won from Seton Hall at South Orange, N. J., on Tuesday by the score 54. Parsons was in good form and pitched effectively throughout. This, together with opportune hitting, won the game although decisions on balls and strikes by the umpire made things look decidedly gloomy at times.

Seton Hall was first to score getting one run in the second. Hillock hit safely to right, went to second on a passed ball, and scored on an infield error. Bucknell opened the third by scoring three runs. Eastwood got a life on an error at second, Sheehan singled to center, and both moved up a base on another error at second. Grimmering's short single on the third scored both runners. Hillock scored on Wheatstone's out at first and Parsons's hit to center. Another run was scored in the fourth when Leach was safe at first on an error at short, taking second on Niple's bunt and third on King's ground hit to second, scoring on Eastwood's hit to right.

Seton Hall scored one in the fifth on Perry's hit to center, his steal of second, and two successive infield errors.

Bucknell added her last run in the eighth when Leach reached first on an error at second, going to second on a passed ball and scoring on Niple's hit to left. In their half Wheatstone singled to right but Lynch hit into a double play and both were retired. Hillock then doubled to left and Lange was given a pass. Stafford was safe on an infield error and with the bases full, Mahoney's hit to center scored two men. Perry made the third out on a pop fly to short.

Bucknell again defeated Gettysburg at tennis on Friday afternoon, winning both the doubles and singles in straight sets. In the doubles Manchesters and Harris won from Rocky and Bennett, 6-2, 6-0. Harris defeated Rocky in the singles, 5-6, 6-4. This is Bucknell's third victory in tennis this year.

Baseball This Week.
The only game on the campus this week will be the annual Sophomore-Freshman game on Saturday. Both teams have been doing consistent practice, and aside from the interest which this game naturally creates, a really good game is expected, that it will be worth one's while to see.

On next Monday Villa Nova will cross bats with the Orange and Blue on the athletic field and another good game is expected.

Fordham 7; Bucknell 4.
Fordham defeated Bucknell in a fast and interesting game at New York on Wednesday by the score 7-4. The game was won on its merits. Both teams played good fielding games but superior team-work and more timely hitting won for Fordham.

Fordham was first to score, getting a run in the opening inning when Gaugan made the whole circuit on a drive to right just inside of the first base line. In the second Schiers scored on a fielder's choice. Baldwin's hit to right, and Gaugan's infield out.

Bucknell scored three in the third. Eastwood was safe on an error at second and took second on Sheehan's out, pitcher to first. Grimmering's hit put Eastwood on third, the former player then stealing second. Wheatstone then cleared the bases with a home run drive to left.

Hartman tied the score in the fifth on a pass, a steal of second and O'Reilly's single to left, in the next inning Schiers and Baldwin both scored on two successive hits for two bases and Gaugan's single to left. In the eighth two more were added by Fordham. Schiers was given a pass and stole second. Baldwin bunted safely and Gaugan was given a pass. Schiers and Baldwin both scored on an error at first and Mahoney's hit to center. Bucknell got her final run in the ninth for three bases and King's out, second to first. The score:—

MANAGERS ELECTED

Officers and Managers Elected By Athletic Association on Saturday.

Last Saturday morning the annual spring election of assistant managers of the various athletic teams and of members to fill the places of retiring members of the Executive Board was held in the Gymnasium.

In the election of assistant managers, who will in their senior year assume the full management of their respective teams the following sophomores were chosen: Baseball, M. E. Haggerty; Basketball, A. T. Forfeberger; Track, Harry Smith; Tennis, C. A. Nyberg. The result was close in every respect, and the favor with which it was received was well attested by the hearty applause given by the audience throughout.

The hillside with its trees and turf gave a most admirable setting to the play adding a naturalness to the production that, with the superior acting of the performers, brought the performance almost within the bounds of reality rather than of impersonation.

The arrangement was as nearly as possible that of the original production of the play at Wilton Park, Salisbury, where it was acted by Lord Penbrooke's players in 1599.

Greet and his company have given on the play on this scene of the original production and have played at nearly all the leading universities and colleges of Great Britain and many of those in this country.

Several changes took place in the personnel of the Executive Board. Registrar Gretzinger asked to have his resignation accepted owing to proper attention. The resignation was accepted and Prof. Henry Meyer, '06, was elected in Mr. Gretzinger's place. The expiration of the term of Prof. Hamilton, who refused a reelection, and the adoption of the amendment providing for three, instead of two, alumni on the Board, made two more vacancies which were filled by the election of Prof. Phil Hise and Prof. Thomas.

Prior to the elections two amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws were offered and accepted, reading as follows:

Article IV, Page 4, Section 2, be changed so as to make the composition of the Executive Board constitute "Three Alumni" instead of "Two Alumni" as it now reads and that the words "and the Registrar of the University" be stricken out.

That Article IV, Page 5, be changed so as to make the Finance Committee consist of "One Alumnus" in the place of the "Registrar of the University."

Following the election the reports of the football and basketball seasons were read and accepted, the basketball report making an exceptionally good showing. It was as follows:

Editorial

Once more the annual spring elections for the managerships and other administrative and advisory offices pertaining to athletics have been held. The contest, as is usually the case, was a spirited one, and noteworthy in result, as putting into the places of preference men who are in every case eminently fitted to fulfill the duties and bear the responsibilities put upon them.

As was likewise the case in the fall elections, the tickets on both sides were unusually strong, "pull" and influence having played less a part in the selection of candidates than real merit and ability. It may be truthfully said that, as a whole, the one "slate" was about as good as the other, and either party being the victor, the affairs of the Athletic Association would have been in good hands.

A division of sentiment in these elections is decided by some, as tending to a spirit of blind and unreasoning partisanship that may lead to the election of undeserving and incompetent men. It must be granted that there is a measure of truth in such an assertion. On the other hand this spirit, however strongly developed, cannot work more disastrously than the same spirit manifested in the real politics of the outside world, and there it does but little harm, for the reasoning, sensible men of the nation are in the end the ones who make the decision.

So far from working injury it works good for the reason that it necessitates the putting up of good men as candidates. It is within the memory of man that one party was so dominant here that it was useless for a candidate to oppose the men of its choice. The result was, well, it was far from desirable. With two well-matched parties in the field such a condition of affairs cannot exist. With the necessity for hard work to win comes the necessity of putting up men hard to beat, with a consequent general good to all concerned.

Above all, partisanship arouses interest and it is interest that we need. This is the age of advertising and the more notice that is given to any activity or enterprise of what ever kind the greater will be the returns to the advertiser. The student body must be interested in athletics and give their support, and in no better way can interest be excited and support be elicited than by giving them a free opportunity to select the best man for each of the several offices.

Bucknell in New Zealand.

Miss Anna M. Gilchrist, Dean of the Women's Department, and Professor of Home Economics and Domestic Science, at the University of Tennessee, has tendered her resignation to Dr. Brown Ayres and will accept a position in Canterbury College, New Zealand, one of the four colleges that constitute the University of New Zealand.

Miss Gilchrist accepts the position at a salary of $3000 a year and all transportation expenses paid, and is engaged for a period of three years. She has been connected with the University of Tennessee for four years, and is a woman of exceptional ability. She was a student at Bucknell in 1895-6, graduated later at Vassar Academy, Andover, Mass., and took several degrees at Teachers' College and Columbia University.

Pastor I. H. McGinn Dead.
The people of Lewisburg and the College were greatly shocked last Monday evening to learn of the sudden death of Rev. I. H. McGinn, pastor of the Lewisburg Lutheran church, at Sunbury, where he was attending a Synod meeting.

Mr. McGinn's death coming so suddenly cast a gloom over the whole community. His pastorate here began in 1895, and has been in every way a successful one. As a minister he had won the approval of all who heard him, and as a man, the personal esteem and respect of all with whom he came in contact. His death was a loss to the Lewisburg Lutheran church, at Sunbury, where he was attending a Synod meeting.

Engagement Announced.
Mrs. William G. Foster of Elgin avenue, Pittsburg, has announced the engagement of her niece, Miss Helen Foster Harrison to Dr. Thomas Evans, Jr., of South Negley avenue.

German Verein Picnic.
The members of the German Verein to the number of eighteen spent a most enjoyable day at Blue Hill on Thursday last. The fine weather was not the least thing which added to the pleasure of the party. The day was spent in explorations, games and exhibitions of prowess, to say nothing of a most extraordinary spirit down the rocks and over the bridge to catch the afternoon train. At the stations and on the train the Verein published abroad their identity by the remarkable harmony of their German songs, and by the vim with which they gave their yell, "Wier, twief, sech."

SOPHOMORES WIN

Freshmen Lose Annual Game by Score 3-0.

In one of the best games seen here this season the Sophomores defeated the Freshmen 3-0. The contest was close and exciting throughout and was won by '09 on its merits.

Carey who pitched for them did splendid work striking out ten men and proving very effective when hits meant runs. His support was good and this, combined with stick-work at the proper time insured them the victory.

Two of their three runs were earned by clean hitting; the other came through a base on balls, a steal and two wild throws. The score:

The Registrar's Long Athletic Service.
The resignation of Registrar Gretzinger last week from the Executive Board of the Athletic Association closes a long period of twelve years' active service in the management of the athletic activities of the College.

Mr. Gretzinger has always taken a deep interest in all that pertains to athletics here and his resignation on account of press of other duties was accepted with much regret. His sound sense and experience will, of course, still be at the service of the Association, however, with the advantage of the fact, too, that he can now advise and co-operate in a way that was impossible while he still remained a member of the Board.

THE CLASS OF SEVENTY-TWO

Detailed History as Given by One of Its Own Members.

The members of the class of '72 have done their share of duty and service in communities in which they have lived, and have well shown the fruits of the lessons received at "The University of Lewisburg," as Bucknell was then known, a name cherished in memory, though the class proudly pay their tribute to "Bucknell" today. They have had ten ministers, four lawyers, three physicians, two teachers, a successful man of business and a successful farmer. They have received their full portion of honors and dignities, as well, having had three Ph. D's, and six D. D's.

As a class they have probably kept up as great an interest as any other, if not a greater than any other, in the welfare of the College and of each other, having maintained a continuous class organization since graduation.

A final organization was effected some years ago by the election of Fred Bertolotto as president and S. F. Fergus as secretary "for life or during good behavior." That interest in affairs of Bucknell is recognized, is manifest in the many cases in which various members of the class have been honored by office and preference bestowed by their fellow alumni upon anniversary occasions.

The first of the class roll is John Ballentine, Ph. D., who gave himself to the work of teaching, and after service in Colgate Academy and other schools, finally accepted the headship of the languages department of Clarion State Normal School, where he has been for many years. Another of the teachers, William C. Bartol, Ph. D., needs no introduction to friends and students of Bucknell.

After some years of teaching in Canisius and Mansfield Normal, he was in 1881 elected to the chair of mathematics in his Alma Mater, which place he holds today. John H. Winger, after several years of teaching settled to the life of an intelligent, earnest farmer in his native county of Union. He has been identified prominently with the work of the Orange and interests himself in all that pertains to the betterment of civic conditions.

Fred Bertolotto studied law in Mauch Chunk, was admitted there to the bar and soon won a lucrative practice which he still holds. J. H. Grater studied with Hon. J. C. Brewer of Philadelphia, was duly admitted to the bar and continues practice there today with offices at 502 Walnut street.

J. H. Pomerooy, another of the lawyers, was admitted to the Schuylkill County bar, where he was afterwards elected District Attorney. Failing health has since compelled him to withdraw from active practice and he is now living at Ridley Park, Delaware Co., Pa. Willard O. Shaffer read law and was admitted to practice in his native town of Lewisburg, where he has shown the respect for and trust in him held by his fellow-citizens in five terms of service as Probationary and Clerk of the Courts.

Wm. Leiser, Jr., M. D., was graduated from the medical department of University of Pennsylvania, and

A New Under-class Rush.

At a meeting in Bucknell Hall on Tuesday afternoon the men of the Senior and Junior classes gave their approval to a plan proposed for a revision of the annual Sophomore-Freshman rush. The form of the old rush, as well as its spirit and results, was decidedly unsatisfactory and all the year the matter has been under discussion. Some of the new perclassmen most interested finally got together and formulated the new plan which was adopted. The rules governing the new rush are as follows:

The annual Sophomore-Freshman Rush shall be held on the first Saturday of the college year at 8:15 a. m. on the athletic field.

Both classes shall range themselves at a distance of ten (10) yards on each side of the centre line of the gridiron, the Sophomores on the east side and the Freshmen on the west side. At a given signal, which shall be a pistol shot fired by the referee, the two classes shall rush toward each other, the Sophomores endeavoring to rush the Freshmen line, i. e., over the west 10 yard line, and the Freshmen endeavoring to rush the Sophomores back over their line, i. e., the east 10 yard line.

The rush shall continue for twenty-five (25) minutes, and shall be discontinued by a pistol shot, to be fired by the referee. After the signal for discontinuation the referee and umpires shall count the number of Sophomores on or over the Sophomore line, i. e., the east 10 yd. line, and the number of Freshmen on or over the Freshman line, i. e., the west 10 yd. line. The class having the less number of their own men on or over their respective lines shall be declared winners.

Any participant who shall use unnecessary roughness, such as striking with the fist or kicking, shall be obliged to discontinue his part in the rush and shall not be permitted to reenter.

Candidates for the University football team shall not participate in the rush.

The officials shall be four umpires, who shall be the Senior president and the Junior president, together with one other Senior and one other Junior who shall be appointed by their respective presidents; also, one referee who shall be an alumnus of the College and shall be selected by the four umpires prior to the rush.

One Senior and one Junior shall act as officials on each line. It shall be their duty to remove from the contest anyone found using foul play, and to count the number of contestants over their respective lines at the conclusion of the rush. The referee shall start and end the rush by signals, and shall decide all questions referred to him by the umpires.

Tri-Delta Picnic.

Members and friends of Delta, Delta, to the number of twenty enjoyed a straw ride on Saturday last to Blue Hill. All those present reported a delightful time. Miss Unger acted as chaperone.

Among the pleasant features of the day was an unexpected visit from Miss Mary F. Burgess, '09, of Danbury, Connecticut, who has been at home for the past two terms.

NEXT YEAR'S PLANS

Bigger and Better "Orange and Blue" Will be Published.

Mr. O. C. Langford, '09, who succeeded Mr. Elkanah Hull, '07, in the management of the Orange and Blue this year, has been selected as Business Manager of the paper for next year and will continue Mr. J. N. Earle, '10, as his assistant.

The excellent business foresight and ability of this year's managers have put the paper on a sound footing and the outlook for subscriptions and advertisements is such as to warrant plans for a considerable increase in size and efficiency. The pages will be enlarged and news space equal to fully a third of that now devoted to general reading will be added. A careful comparison of the space now devoted to news with the same space in other college publications of a similar nature shows that the patrons of the Orange and Blue are receiving as much for their money as is given by any of the others and in many cases considerably more. This increase in such space speaks well, then, for the efficiency of management displayed.

In addition to the increased news space it is hoped that sufficiently liberal support will be given to permit of the publication of a literary supplement from time to time that shall take the place of the defunct "Mirror" and shall give opportunity for the furtherance of work of such character in the University. Cuts, too, will be added as a special feature, making the paper, if all plans carry out, the equal of any similar college publication of the country.

The Senior Class Play.

A new part has been added to "The Elbowmen of Elion," the Senior Class Play, making it number thirteen. The new part will be that of Carissa Codman, Richard's aunt. It is a take-off upon the "College Widow," and is very well filled by Miss Mary G. Stanton whose comedy work in previous plays this year is well and favorably known.

The play will be given in Commencement Hall, in which a new stage of the reclamation stage has been built with electric foot and board lights, new curtains and plenty of scenery for the production.

Tickets will be on sale for Seniors only at the College Book Store on Thursday, June 13th, at one cent each. General sale will commence at Baker's drug store on Friday at 9 a. m. Each person will be limited to four tickets. General admission will be thirty-five cents; reserved seats (numbered and individual) fifty cents.

Hack and bus service has been secured for town patrons at ten cents each way. Take "bus at post office or phone Hannelreich or Brown's Library.

THE CLASS OF 1907.

On June nineteenth Bucknell University will graduate her fifty-seventh class, the class of 1907. Fifty-seven years ago, the first class to leave the College had but seven members; the class that next week leaves numbers seventy-two, a mark of the steady growth of the institution in numbers and influence.

These seventy-two members of the class of 1907 will have left their impress upon the life of the College when they bid farewell next week. From the first they have shown a spirit of aggressiveness and energy that has done more than a little in strengthening the traditions and raising the standard of their Alma Mater.

In their entrance as freshmen they instilled new life and vigor into the activities of the College. While adding to the time-honored customs of the place, they yet shown themselves fertile in ideas and quick in initiative, and proved themselves "foemen" well worthy of the Sophomores' steel. As Sophomores, they took their place humbly, and yet with a spirit of self-possession which won for them the respect of the upper classes, as well as of the freshmen.

Their Junior year was marked again by the manifestation of qualities unusual in College classes, and to their foresight and ability for doing things may be credited not a few changes for the better that have been brought to pass in and around Bucknell. As Seniors, they have carried their responsibilities and fulfilled their duties in a manner wholly worthy of themselves.

Withal, they have shown themselves true college men and women, with respect for their fellows and a proper measure for themselves; with an understanding of the real worth and importance of a college education and a disposition to make the most of their opportunities; with a desire to see and to give fair play in whatever they were concerned with. Lacking come now to the end of their course, they leave their Alma Mater, conscious of having done their part in every thing that came to them to be done, and leaving a record behind them of which any class might well be proud.

University of Edinburgh, Scotland, he pursued medical studies still further in turning, he settled under the shadow of Alma Mater, where he is known as a physician of large practice and large culture. E. R. James, M. D., another of the doctors, took his medical course at University of Pennsylvania, settled finally in Cascade, Montana, where he has a large practice and business interests.

Aaron W. Eyre, M. D., got his degree at University of Pennsylvania, and studied abroad, returning to take up practice in Leadville, Colo. While returning home from a visit east he was stricken with typhoid fever and died at Toledo, Ohio, in 1895.

Of the ministers, John H. Chambers, D. D., graduated from Crozer, was ordained, and gave successful service in Philadelphia, Huntington and West Chester, dying on Dec. 15, 1905, while serving as pastor of the Olivet Baptist church of the last named place. Thomas Eastwood, D. D., took his theological work at Crozer, and successively filled Baptist pulpits in Wilmington, Del., Albany, N. Y., and Burlington, N. J., in which last named place he is now pastor.

S. P. Burgess, D. D., was graduated from Crozer in '75, served churches in Tunkhannock, Clark's Run, and Bolwood, Pa., and has for fifteen years been Chaplain of the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory, Huntington, Pa. His work among the boys who come to the institution has been richly fruitful in results and many a respectable man in society today owes his position in the community to the kindly interest which his former chaplain manifested in his welfare.

Albert Foster, D. D., took his divinity work at Crozer, and has filled successful pastorates in Philadelphia, Albany, N. Y., and lastly in Newark, N. J., where he has lived for many years. W. H. Metzger, was graduated from Crozer in '74, and after several successful pastorates accepted the Baptist pulpit of Port Allegany, which he holds now.

Francis J. Parry, D. D., was graduated from Colgate Theological Seminary, and filled important pulpits in Cincinnati, O., New York City and lastly in Waterbury, Conn., where he died suddenly, July 17, 1902. George M. Richter entered the ministry and after serving a number of churches retired from active service and is living at 450 Seville Street, Roxborough, Philadelphia. Roland Koehler entered the ministry, filled several pastorates in Pennsylvania, taught several years and finally, after a successful period of farming, removed to Philadelphia, where he lives at 221 West Johnson street.

R. W. Perkins, Ph. D., was graduated from Crozer and assumed a pastorate in Lock Haven. Work connected with the Normal school at that place imbued him with the idea of teaching and he has since been chosen president of Lehigh University, New Orleans, La. George Whitman, D. D., Crozer, '74, served as a pastor at Oil City, and at Buffalo, N. Y., in which latter place he is now pastor of the Lafayette Avenue Baptist church, a pulpit of such importance that it has brought him into state and national prominence in the church circles of his denomination.

But one member of the class entered the field of business. George Ogden associated himself with his father in Philadelphia and achieved no small measure of success. In 1892 while renewing old friendships at Bucknell and Lewisburg, he was drowned on August 19th, in sight of Alma Mater's halls, while in bathing in the Susquehanna.

Senior Day.

The class of 1907 celebrated "Senior Day" on Thursday by a parade, baseball game and a general relaxation from dignity. The parade was wonderful, to say the least, in front of the procession the bell of the clock which the class is to leave as a memorial was carried and tolled frequently to keep up the solemnity of the occasion. Following this came the Senior girls in cap and gown, tin horns and suits, all drawn by one poor little horse. Then headed by the "Bucknell Band" with its mark at the drum, came the rest of the class, dressed in costumes procured anywhere from grandfather's garret to the wardrobe chest of a comic opera troupe. The parade traversed the principal streets of the town and returned to the campus where a "full dress rehearsal" of a baseball game was given.

Another Victory in Tennis.

Bucknell won the singles and lost the doubles in tennis to the Lafayette team Friday afternoon on the S. A. E. court. Harris and Manchester lost the doubles to Updegrave and Wilson, 8-6, 4-6 and 2-6. In the singles Harris won from Updegrave, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2. In the first set of the doubles was exhibited some of the best tennis seen here this season. By an agreement made before the game Bucknell in winning the singles won the tournament.

The College Bible Class.

The topic for discussion was the probation tree, or the tree of experiential knowledge of good and evil. The positive command to refrain from partaking of the fruit made the act of man a sin, a direct antagonizing of God's will. Every home, however much of an Eden the parents may make it, has its probation tree. In fact our whole life is a probation or testing, the decision between appetite on the one hand and reason and right on the other.

Big Commencement Expected.

The indications point to one of the largest and most successful Commencements in the history of the University. Registrar Gretzinger has received many requests for the card orders for special railroad rates and the hotel and boarding house keepers report an unusually full looking of rooms for the week.
